NOT A NEW METHOD of discipline, but a mock civil defense drill is what prompted these students from Arlington Heights' Park school to assume their ostrich like postures last week. The "bomb" that fell at 63rd and Cicero in Chicago last week found Arlington Heights residents well prepared for the attack, according to Mrs. Lillian Peters, village civil defense director.

Stonegate Apartment Issue

Trustees Ride Roughshod On Mayor's Veto Attempt

by BILL DULANEY

In a stormy village board session Monday night, more than 50 shouting, cheering Stonegate homeowners saw trustees thwart Mayor Edward Carlisle's attempt to keep additional efficiency apartments out of Arlington Heights.

By a four to one vote, trustees overrode Carlisle's veto of a motion made two weeks ago that would allow the construction of a 14-unit apartment, including three efficiency units, at the corner of Foundry and Dryden rds., provided plans comply with all village codes. The tract is zoned for multiple-dwelling use.

Carlisle kicked-off what Trustee John Hoover referred to as a "political football" with a letter to the board stating his reasons for vetoing the motion.

The question of efficiency apartments should be studied to determine if there is a need for them, and to find if the building of such apartments would create an undesirable transient area in the village, he wrote.

AS FOR THE proposed Stonegate apartment, Carlisle cited various instances of the plan's failing to meet architectural standards. His letter concluded with a statement from the village's architectural commission that, "It is our opinion that the plans should be rejected."

The letter was met with cheering approval by Stonegate residents and angry disbelief by village board members who made it clear they felt Carlisle was aggravating a situation that belonged in the hands of the village building and architectural commissioners.

Board members complained at the beginning of the controversy of not receiving the customary copy of a mayor's veto message 24 hours prior to the board meeting. "I can understand now why we didn't receive a copy," said Trustee Wendell Prunty, after hearing the letter read.

"THE BULK of your veto message covers matters that are within the province of the village's architectural commission. You know this matter should have been referred to them," Hoover told the mayor.

Trustee Melvin Kurtz accused Carlisle of "already setting the precedent for efficiency apartments in Arlington Heights when the board of which you were a member approved plans in 1953-54 for such apartments in The Elms apartments."

Building department records show there are no efficiency apartments in The Elms.

Records do show, however, that a building permit was issued last month for construction of 26 units, six of them efficiency, on the parcels at 908 and 910 W. Euclid. This permit was approved by the village's architectural commission and building commissioner. It never went before the village board. Square footage in the efficiency apartments is 370.

THE PRESENT building code does not prohibit efficiency apartments and sets no minimum squart footage requirement. The new building code, when it becomes effective, will require 600 square feet minimum apartment space.

Harold A. Feierberg, attorney for George Moser, owner of the controversial tract, told the board that, "All we ask is that our request for a building permit be considered in the light of your present legal building code."

"If our plans are not in accordance with present village codes, then of course we don't deserve the necessary permits to build. We feel, however, that our application for a permit should be accorded the same treatment as other applications," said Feierberg.

VOICING WHAT appeared to be the sentiments of the Stonegate homeowners, LeRoy A. Garr, 316 Derbyshire, told the board "You're setting on this board to serve the people, and frankly we don't want the proposed building on this lot."

But want it or not, Stonegate residents are faced with the fact that the land is presently zoned for multiple-dwelling use.

Trustees Hoover, Kurtz, Prunty, and Millay voted to override Carlisle's veto. Bukowski voted to let the veto stand.

The board then voted unanimously to override Carlisle's veto of a motion to approve plans submitted by Sylvia King, 1718 W. Northwest hwy., to build three efficiency units over Sylvia's tavern at the corner of Wilke and Northwest hwy., provided the plans conform with village codes.

In opposing the plans, Carlisle argued in a letter that he doesn't believe apartments should be built above a tavern, because of the "health, morals, and general welfare of the community."

Buckley Elected Magistrate

An emphatic victory was scored by Arlington Heights' Caucus party this week as it rolled to victory in three trustee posts and the police magistrate's office.

Just as emphatic was voter rejection by a nearly three to one margin of a bond issue to purchase the Railway parks. The sewer bond expansion issue also failed by a nearly two to one vote.

In a light turnout of only 47 per cent of the village's registered voters, William E. Sauer led his Caucus party and all candidates with 3,032 votes. He was followed by running mate Samuel Wit with 2,811 votes. Eugene F. Schlickman rounded out the trustee victors with 2,767 votes.

Carl H. Skoog was high man on the Economy ticket with 2,244 votes. His running mates, Douglas A. Brown and Robert E. Robinson, received 2,132 and 2,009 votes respectively. Independent trustee candidate Henry B. Neumann accounted for 569 votes.

CAUCUS POLICE magistrate candidate Robert C. Buckley broke the 22-year reign of incumbent William F. Neumann with 2,465 votes. Neumann, an independent, polled 2,170. John E. Gessert, the third police magistrate candidate, received 374 votes.

The Railway park issue was rejected by a 3,847 to 1,419 count. The sewer bond issue was defeated in a 3,252 to 1,992 vote.

Early returns indicated the Economy party was in the lead, and with the tabulation of precinct one's returns, the first to be completed, the three Economy party candidates and William Neumann led the field.

AS OTHER PRECINCTS reported, however, the tide began to turn. The Economy party and Neumann won only one other precinct, number five. It lies north of the railroad tracks between Douglas and Dunton avenues. Precinct one's boundaries are Ridge and Dunton avenues south of the railroad tracks.

For the first time in the village's history it will have a 100 per cent Caucus chosen administration. The present mayor and three remaining board members were Caucus candidates in 1957 when 4,874 residents cast votes. This week's election saw a total of 5,387 ballots cast. New trustees will attend their first official board meeting May 4.

Library board members Paul Patrick and Robert Blackburn were unopposed in their bids for re-election. They received 2,818 and 3,088 votes respectively.

Tabulation of early returns indicated there was little chance of passage of the Railway park and sewer bond issues. They were defeated in all six precincts.

Auto Accidents Decrease Here

Auto accidents decreased slightly in Arlington Heights during the month of March, a report from village hall showed this week.

Twenty-two accidents were reported as compared with 27 in February. The total for the year now is 115 as compared with 101 for a similar period a year ago.

Twenty-six larcenies with a value of less than $50 were reported in March. Seventeen were reported in February. There were 17 fire calls in March, and nine in February.

FOURTEEN ACTS of vandalism were investigated by police as compared to six in February.

Thirty speeders were ticketed in March, a sharp increase over four arrests in February. Last year at this time 23 had been caught for speeding.

The records, among many other things, contained this information:

There were seven dog bites reported in March bringing the total for the year to 11. At this time last year, 13 nips by dogs had been reported.

Five Vacant Buildings Are Condemned by Village

Five owners of property in Arlington Heights were notified this week that buildings on their property must be torn down or legal action will be taken. All buildings are vacant.

The move is another legal step in proceedings that have stretched over several months.

Three of the properties involved are at 1000 S. Vail, another is at 802 N. Vail and the fifth is at 215 N. Dunton.

THE LETTERS were sent to the owners by Stephen Jurco, village attorney, who is following legal procedure that follows condemnation. All structures were inspected by village building officials and found to be below standards required by ordinance.

If the owners do not comply with orders, the village will obtain a court order that will permit it to destroy the buildings. The property owners will be billed for costs of demolition.

The action on these five buildings completes condemnation proceedings against a group of 13 that were found to be below standard. The others have been torn down.

One of five letters this week went to Anthony Scolaro Jr., 13 W. Campbell, who is listed in records as trustee of the estate that owned 215 N. Dunton. The property in question consists of two old buildings that were found to be "beyond repair" by village inspectors.

DANIEL ANKERBERG, Park Ridge was notified that an old house at 802 N. Vail must be demolished. After a thorough examination, the village found beams, floors and joists to be sagging. A maze of wiring was found in the basement.

Owners of the three properties at 1000 S. Vail, which is near the home of Mayor Edward N. Carlisle, were listed as B. Macalouso, John Riegert and Josephine Triolo. All now reside in Chicago.

The 1000 S. Vail property had been divided into three parcels. Three small buildings on the property had been used as summer homes up until recent years. All were found to be far below village building standards.

The middle property in the 1000 S. Vail property figured in the news last September when it was sold by Leo Grippe, 2743 N. Wilton, Chicago, to Mr. and Mrs. John Riegert, also of Chicago. The Riegerts moved in, but found themselves threatened by condemnation.

THE REIGERTS moved out of the Vail property before Christmas. Grippe said this week that he had instructed his attorney to start foreclosure action because "the Riegerts failed to make payments on the property as promised."

At the time the property was sold, Riegert said he made a $2,000 cash down payment on the property. The price paid for the lot and house was reported last September as $8,500 but Mrs. Grippe, speaking for her husband, said that figure was wrong. "We sold it to the Riegerts for $8,000," she told Paddock Publications this week.

Board Clears Way For 114 Apartments

A last ditch plea by Arlingdale home owners appeared futile this week as Arlington Heights village board members unanimously adopted a resolution opening the way for construction of 114 apartment units in the village.

Trustees agreed to rezone the five acre tract between Euclid and the North Western railroad tracks from single-family to multiple-family dwelling use, provided the owners submit petitions to the board stating they desire such rezoning.

Board members followed recommendations by the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors and the village's plan commission that the highest and best use for the controversial tract is multiple-family dwellings.

They also agreed to follow the commission's recommendation that the maximum number of units allowed on the tract be limited to compliance with the village's proposed zoning code, scheduled for public hearings this month.

ACCORDING TO plan commission figures, such compliance would allow 114 units. Plans originally called for 120 units.

For several months Arlingdale home owners have appeared at village board meetings, seeking to reduce the proposed number of units, the largest ever planned for a single apartment development in Arlington Heights.

Last Saturday members of the home owners association and J. P. DeLaney, attorney for the petitioner, Arthur R. Thiersch, 1018 N. Evergreen, met with Village Manager L. A. Hanson in an attempt to reach a compromise. Hanson reported to the village board that no agreement was reached.

ARLINGDALE residents argue they would prefer the tract in question be used for light industry or townhouses. That failing, they would like to see the proposed number of units cut to thirty.

DeLaney argues that any use except that proposed for the land would be economically unprofitable. Plans call for the units to be distributed among five 3-story buildings.

Arlingdale residents were left a slim ray of hope by the board's requirement of petitions from owners of the property in question to the effect that they wish their property rezoned.

Spokesmen for the home owners group claim Thiersch has failed to obtain an option on a vital piece of property, the last lot on the east which plans visualize as one of two entrances to a drive circling the proposed project.

TRUSTEES granted Thiersch four years from the time the village's new zoning code takes legal effect to complete the project.

Plans call for an initial construction of two apartment buildings, with the remaining three to be constructed at a later date. The units would be evenly divided between one and two-bedroom flats.

Home Is Damaged By Basement Fire

The Alan Weber home at 1217 E. Fremont in Arlington Heights was damaged Tuesday afternoon by a fire that started in the basement.

The damage was extensive but Weber said an estimate was not available. The cause also was unknown, he said.

Burned was some summer furniture stored in the basement and the floors under the dining-living room area of the bilevel. Smoke also caused damage throughout the house.

The Big Steel

Automobiles stolen in the United States in 1957 numbered 289,950, valued at about $249 million.

Driver Education Classes Offered

Arlington high school will offer two 3-week courses in driver education this summer.

Registration will begin April 20 at the high school for the courses which will be held June 15 to July 4 and July 6 to July 24.

Students must be under 21 years old, a resident of High School District 214 and must have a valid license of instruction permit when the course starts. Fee for the course is $3.

Turn Your Clocks

Daylight saving time will start Sunday morning.

The fast time will continue until October 25, same as last year. Clocks should be turned forward one hour.

A bill is now before the General Assembly in Springfield that would put the state on a uniform time basis during the summer months but, pending passage, some areas of the state will retain standard time.

Orient Is Theme For Lavish 'Prom'

Imagine a pagoda tea house setting with bubbling fountains, 20,000 cherry blossoms, an Oriental bridge and multi-colored lights casting soft shadows over the scene.

Not the exotic East or a Hollywood spectacular, but the setting in which Arlington high school juniors and seniors will hold what is probably the world's most lavish "prom."

This scene of Oriental splendor will unfold to the strains of an 18 piece orchestra May 22 at the Arlington race track club house.

FOR THE SECOND year, the high school's Junior-Senior Parents club is organizing a "prom" and "after the prom" celebration that has gained nationwide recognition.

Held last year at the Medinah country club, the dance was followed by an overnight train junket to William's Bay, Wisc. that included a special press car to accommodate reporter and photographers. So extensive and elaborate were plans that the whole affair was insured for $400,000 by Lloyds of London.

Over 350 parent-couples are at work on this year's extravaganza which will have as its "prom" theme the "Tea House of the May Moon."

The "after the prom" train ride north has been completely revised from last year's. Six of the train's 13 cars will be decorated with individual themes such as a South Sea Island dance car and two Carnival cars.

The latter car will feature over 4,000 prizes, 10,000 balloons, and 20 games of skill.

UPON ARRIVAL at William's Bay, the students will board boats for the George Williams College camp where they will be greeted by another dance band. Following activities so numerous that an information booth will be necessary to direct students to them, an open air ox-roast will be held.

Cost of the party is estimated at $18,200. Cost to students will be $25 a couple.

N. F. "Bud" Sherman, originator and chairman of the project, estimates over 1,000 students will attend this year's function compared with 814 last year.

Parents desiring to help on committees should contact Mrs. Jack Reinsma at CL 3-2988.

New Evening Hours For Heights Stores

Beginning May 7, most Arlington Heights stores will be open Thursday nights instead of Friday evenings.

The change affects 66 Arlington Heights stores in addition to Westgate and Arlington Market shopping centers. Some stores will also continue to open Monday and Friday nights in addition to Thursday.

Blame Snow on Those Premature Screen-Putter-Uppers

Some optimistic souls are reported to have taken down their storm windows recently which no doubt caused the wind shift that reversed the trend toward spring and brought a return of snow flurries early this week. Coincidentally there was a reversal in the social trend which is probably a post-spring vacation lull, since no one admits blackballing the premature screen-putter-uppers.

An April birthday party is always a good idea as it can either add to the joy of a beautiful spring or dispel the gloom of a miserable one. Margo Poulos was six years old last Thursday when the climate was fine for either an outdoor or indoor party and her celebration with a dozen neighborhood children was a little bit of each. Hearty after-school refreshments were served indoors and when pent-up energies grew restless with quiet games the party moved to the backyard at 1225 N. Dunton st.

Last Saturday was Judy Lee Logue's first birthday and family plans to celebrate changed when out-of-town relatives could not be here. Judy Lee was nevertheless grandly honored when she dined out with Grandmother Logue of Skokie and the rest of the family. Not only was she serenaded with organ music but was presented with a birthday cake with a sparkler on it, which is even dandier than a candle in the studied opinion of one-year-olds.

Sunday Judy Lee received the congratulations of other relatives in the home of her parents, the William Logues, 945 N. Ridge.

MEASLES POSTPONED Denise Voigt's fifth birthday celebration one whole long week, but the party day finally came last Thursday. Eight friends helped the birthday girl farewell the little red spots and welcome the fun at the Voigt home, 1014 N. Walnut.

Rose Marie Kelly was 10 years old last Monday and chose the more convenient weekend to have an afternoon party with a half-dozen girl friends at 738 S. Chestnut.

Fourteen little girls generated a record amount of giggle power over the fun of celebrating Susan Palmatier's sixth birthday last Saturday afternoon. Sunday was really the day to observe and Susan didn't mind celebrating again with the family at 416 W. Willow.

Peggy Bliss was 12 years old last Tuesday and also chose the previous Saturday for her party date. Twelve girl friends were luncheon guests at the afternoon party in the Bliss home, 1307 E. Eastman.

MARY BRADLE is also partial to celebrating her birthday on a Saturday and this year neither a premature party nor a delayed one was necessary. Mary was 13 Saturday. Thirteen dinner guests enjoyed the evening party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean Bradle, 534 S. Chestnut, and games and dancing filled the evening's schedule. Mary's aunt and uncle, the Eugene Larsons of Eureka, were overnight guests at the Bradle home and added their congratulations to the happy occasion.

Miss Lynn Pauly, 125 S. Burton, didn't have a birthday over the weekend but she was the overnight guest of a Park Ridge friend who did, and that was just as much fun. Lynn and her hostess, Miss Leslie Anderson, celebrated Leslie's 12th birthday Friday evening with roller skating at the Paladium in Glenview, late birthday refreshments in the Anderson home and a late, late slumber party. Lynn and Leslie concluded 24 hours of concentrated fun Saturday night in Park Ridge at a church pancake supper with the Anderson family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bobenmyer of Peoria arrived two weeks ago to visit with their daughter and family, the Sam Clarks, 608 S. Walnut. Mrs. Clark's father returned to Peoria after a few days while her mother stayed on for a longer visit that will end this weekend.

MRS. CHARLES Marshall and Barry, 819 S. Highland, recently returned after a week's visit with relatives and friends in Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Marshall reports that not only is the grass greener on the other side of the state line, but the flowers are also much "flowerier."

Also home again and with floral reports are the Howard Stiefenhoefers, 926 S. Vail, who returned Sunday after two weeks at the Gulf Hills resort near Bixoli. Admittedly it is Mrs. Stiefenhoefer who commented about the breathtaking spectacle of the azaleas now in full bloom all along the routes in the deep south.

The enthusiasm of the man of the house was reserved for the greenery, specifically on the golf courses. The vacationers came home via Oak Ridge, Tenn. where they made an overnight stop with relatives.

The most understanding of hosts concerning last-minute guest cancellations are doctors, especially if their guests are also doctors. Dr. George Smith and Dr. Gus Soltz were co-hosts at a recent cocktail party in the Smith home, 812 N. Belmont, and not at all upset that their original guest list of 16 local physicians and their wives was somewhat whittled down by emergency calls.

Last Tuesday afternoon the wives of four local doctors attended the spring luncheon of the Ravenswood hospital auxiliary at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. Mrs. Jesse Jacobs, Mrs. Jerry Duro, Mrs. Carl Palmer and Mrs. George Smith, less beset with emergencies than their husbands, planned to enjoy the event and did.

THE JAMES STOLL family moved last week from 614 S. Chestnut to a new home at 525 S. Ridge, with neighbors on the Chestnut street block making their departure official at a few farewell coffees and teas for Mrs. Stoll.

Friends and neighbors of the Vincent Wroblewski family, 209 N. Derbyshire, extend their sympathies to Mr. Wroblewski in the recent death of his mother. The Wroblewskis returned from the family home in the Bronx, N.Y. last Wednesday after several days in the east. Although the occasion for their trip was an unhappy one it afforded them the opportunity to visit many relatives and greet friends they haven't seen for 3 years.

Mrs. R. W. Moffitt of Washington, D.C., and her three daughters, Bette Jane, Ruth Ann and Rhonda Lynn, arrived in Arlington Heights recently to attend the wedding of her mother, Mrs. Jane Johnson, to Martin Denton. She also visited with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. McClosky and son, Roland Ray.

MR. AND MRS. C. H. Mills, 205 Drury lane, have returned from a month's sojourn in Palmetto, Fla. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Childs of Dearborn, Mich. While in Palmetto, Mrs. Mills, creator of character dolls known as "The Little People of Drury Lane," was a guest at a luncheon given by the curator of the St. Petersburg museum.

On the return trip the Mills called on the Clair B. Owen family who just recently moved from Arlington Heights to St. Petersburg. Before returning home Mr. and Mrs. Mills spent several days on their Indiana farm near Rensselaer.

Young Nan Geerdts, 114 S. Brighton place, served as flower girl Saturday at the wedding of her governess, Miss Ernestina Garcia and Oscar Gonzales. The wedding took place at St. Theresa Catholic church, Palatine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian MacLachlan, 1230 Woodford, were hosts at a dinner party Saturday to 14 guests and to celebrate two birthdays. Birthday guests were the MacLachlans' friend and neighbor, Mrs. John Hall, and J. A. Stansbury of Mt. Prospect.

WARREN STAHNKE received birthday congratulations Sunday when friends gathered at the Stahnke home, 110 S. Brighton place, for a dinner party.

Mrs. Larry Kussow, 1203 Woodford, spent the past week in Neenah, Wis., visiting her sister and family, the Carl Kiekhoesers.

The Walter Strobel and the Robert Metz families gathered Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Howard of Chicago to attend the pre-nuptial party honoring Mr. Strobel's father, John Strobel, and his fiance, Mrs. Barbara Moll, who will be married May 3.

Mrs. Frank Gault and Mrs. Carl Ehnnis of Berkely Heights, N.J. and Mrs. Marshall Solberg of Oak Park, were recent guests of the Eldred Koenigs, 1312 Woodford. Mrs. Gualt was a former neighbors of the Koenigs when they lived in New Jersey and brought news of their former friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kelly, 317 S. Stratford, gave a family dinner party April 2 to celebrate the first birthday of their son, Jimmy.

Mrs. William Knutsen, 414 S. Gibbons, and the children, Tom, Karen and Carol Ann, accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Dart of Wayzata, Minn. on a 3-week vacation at Marathon on the Keys, Fla.

THE 24 GUESTS who received invitations enclosed in corked bottles summoning them to a party wearing nautical costumes enjoyed a festive party Saturday evening in the home of the William G. Heddesheimers, 443 S. Lincoln lane. The Heddesheimers had just completed their playroom, which was made to resemble a ship, so a nautical "house warming" was in order. Guests, who came dressed as sailors and beach combers dined on a complete sea food dinner. Prizes were given for the most unusual costume and the rest of the evening was spent in fun and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lindstrom, 745 S. Beverly lane, recently returned from a 5-week vacation at Lauderdale-By-The-Sea, Fla.

Sunday, the Lindstroms entertained family members at dinner before attending the confirmation of their grandson, Jack Lindstrom, at First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hadlund, 702 E. Park, returned Friday

LAVENDER FLU
Your grandfather probably knew this cure. Flowers of lavender quilted in a hat were supposed to ward off "stuffed-up" noses and head colds. Pleasant treatment—but certainly not a sure cure. Today, thanks to medical science, we have numerous effective vaccines . . . against flu, whooping cough and other respiratory diseases . . . to immunize and protect us from the discomforts of infections. So, why suffer needlessly. Ask your physician about them. Let him prescribe the medication that is most effective for your needs. Then come to us for prescription service.

Rev. Harry L. Evans, pastor of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church, announced that the total amount pledged through the church's participation in the Free Church of America's "Program for Progress" was $32,160, to be received over a three year period.

The funds received are in addition to the regular giving of the church members and friends. The church was formed in 1952, and its present active membership is 136.

Fifty per cent of the money will remain with the local group for building improvements; the remainder will be sent to the Free Church headquarters for use in home and foreign missions and for the work of Trinity Seminary and Bible college.

Round 'n About Westgate

Pat Talbot, 311 N. Yale, had the pleasure of meeting many of her new neighbors at Jeanne Deal's home last week. On hand to greet her were Peggy Le Starge, Norma Thomas, Peg Falhrion, Nora Amato, Barbara Weber, Sally Zimmer, Shirley Thuerk, Sue Carlson, Pat Heinz and Ellen Schnur. Refreshments served were a specially blended punch prepared by Ed Deal and cakes baked by Sue Carlson. Unfortunately, illness kept Gloria Huter from attending.

Lucky number seven in the household of Aquinas and Frank Powers is John Louis, born April 5. He has four sisters and two brothers. Grandparents are Mrs. Julia Bregel and Mr. and Mrs. John Powers of Annandale, Minn. He was christened Sunday at Our Lady of the Wayside.

Bernice and Barney Callahan attended a wedding reception in Melrose Park Saturday. The groom was William O'Donell, a fellow-worker and friend of Barney's.

Proud of the fact that so many Westgaters were in the PTA revue, 15 couples attended the Friday performance in a group. The revue left them in a festive mood and they all returned to Bert and Andy Graczyk's home for a prearranged party. A smorgasbord was served and dancing until the "wee hours" completed the evening. Bruning Hosts 'Y' Dinner, $40,000 Is Pledged

More than $40,000 was raised at the recent meeting of 50 couples of the northwest suburban area who attended a dinner at the Charles Bruning Co., Inc., as guests of Herbert F. Bruning, president. This amount brings the total to $753,000 contributed thus far to the $900,000 YMCA building which will serve this area.

Those attending were told of the progress of the building fund drive and were given a brief summary of YMCA program activities already serving families of the northwest communities. Thomas M. Blake concluded the meeting by unveiling two bronze plaques which will be placed in the new 'Y' building to memorialize gifts of $500 and $1,000 or more pledged over a 4-year period. Stanley C. Amren, vice president of the Bruning Co., who was master of ceremonies at the dinner, and Herbert Bruning, who welcomed the guests, received an ovation for their generous support of this community endeavor.

MORE THAN 600 volunteers are now visiting homes in seven northwest suburbs to request 3-year pledges for the construction of the new Northwest Suburban YMCA building. Report meetings will be held this week in Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove Village and Des Plaines, and the goal for this residential drive is $40,000.

Groundbreaking for the new 'Y' is set for May 17 at 3 p.m., to which the public is invited. The site is located on Northwest hwy. at Cambridge rd., just east of Mt. Prospect rd.

Pay-as-You-Go Tax Plan Is Proposed

County Treasurer Francis Lorenz has announced a program for a "pay-as-you-go" plan for payment of real estate and personal property taxes.

Lorenz said the plan would save the county's taxpayers millions of dollars over a period of years. He pointed out that if his program is adopted tax anticipation warrants would be virtually eliminated with the burden of their interest charges saved for the public.

THE 462 GOVERNMENTAL taxing units in the county would have steady monthly income rather than twice a year lump payments. School districts, for instance, would no longer have to borrow at high interest rates on tax anticipation warrants.

Lorenz' plan would encompass monthly, bi-monthly or quarterly payments with a final payment at some point during the year which would provide a penalty date to insure full payment of taxes.

Lorenz has asked State's Attorney Benjamin Adamowski for an opinion on the legality of the plan. The County Treasurer said that he has asked Adamowski to suggest legislation which would legalize advance payment of taxes, if it's found that present state laws wouldn't permit such a program.

THE STATE'S Attorney's opinion was also asked on the authority of the Treasurer under present laws to render bills for real estate taxes on a staggered bases, under a program which would permit the billing of several townships at a time.

Lorenz said his plan has never been put in use by a local government in the United States. But, he added, the program is based on the same system of estimated taxes used by the federal government for income taxes.

Lorenz said that if the program is adopted the workload of his office will be spread more evenly over 12 months—rather than the three-month rush period under the present tax collection set-up.

IT IS ESTIMATED that at least 400 thousand dollars per month is spent by various county taxing units for interest on tax anticipation warrants when the tax bills are late in being mailed. This year's tax bills, for example, are expected to be at least three months late. Thus, more than a million, 200-thousand dollars will be spent on high interest rates paid on the tax anticipation warrants.

Lorenz said that he expects a storm of opposition to his proposal to come from savings and loan and other financial institutions. He pointed out that thousands of mortgage holders in the county pay their taxes to these financial firms as a part of their mortgage.

Lorenz said the financial companies in turn hold that money, collect interest on it and pay the taxes the very last day. Under his proposed modernization plan, those companies would pay the taxes in monthly installments, thus removing interest profits for them.

LORENZ SAID the program would go into effect necessarily in October of the year the plan is approved. The second installment or real estate bills under the present system is due on September 1st.

Lorenz has taken other steps in putting his proposal before county authorities. The legislative committee of the County Board has been asked to study the plan. A research program in Springfield also will be started immediately.

Taxing units such as school districts would be able to budget more accurately because they would have more constant awareness of just how much tax money they were to receive, Lorenz pointed out.

He said his new plan would have no effect or diminish the earnings of township tax collectors. He said that under the present system, township collectors encourage persons in their districts to pay their first tax instalments to them, rather than directly to the county treasurer's office. Lorenz said he would not discourage continuation of this practice. Under state law, a township collector may earn up to 10-thousand dollars a year in commissions from his collections.

LORENZ SAID THE idea of this plan was derived from letters his office received from two persons complaining about the burden of their tax bills. These persons suggested that the tax payments be made in advance of the billings.

Under this system, no matter how late the Assessor's office might be or how late the State's equalization factor was determined—there would be a constant flow of money into the tills of the various taxing agencies in the county. (B8

Nursing Offers Promising Future

by PAUL JOHNSON

That community is fortunate which can count among its residents a number of trained nurses who have settled down to homemaking and community work. These outstanding women have saved the day in many an emergency by administering first aid, teaching health programs and donning their uniforms as private and hospital nurses when there is special need.

Young women with an eye on homemaking as a career might well consider nurses training as an "extra" skill and a means of supplementing the family income. To become a fullfledged nurse and have the privilege of putting R. N. after the name, it is necessary to spend three years studying at an accredited school for nurses. There are a number of such schools in the Chicago area. The first in the northwest suburbs will be opened early next year in connection with Lutheran General hospital near Park Ridge. This school is already accredited in that it is a continuation of the Lutheran Deaconess school of nursing which has operated in Chicago since 1906.

GIRLS WHO ARE interested in nursing as a career can think in terms of several kinds of nursing. Most work in hospitals where the positions included supervision, teaching and general duty nursing. Public health nursing is a growing field which involves teaching, visiting and preventive work under a public or private agency.

Another important field is industrial nursing. Many large commercial firms now employ registered nurses to be on duty all the time, administering first aid and looking after the health of employees. Many nurses are also working at private duty and in doctor's offices and clinics.

THE DEMAND FOR nursing services has increased greatly and is still growing. While there are more nurses today than ever before, the demand is still far greater than the existing supply of nurses. Several factors are responsible for this. Health education today emphasizes the importance of early treatment for illness. Many people are joining hospitalization plans and health insurance groups which make it possible for them to afford hospital care and treatment. Physicians are hospitalizing more patients in order that they may receive the benefits of new methods, equipment, and drugs. The high birth rate and growing population has further taxed the existing hospital facilities. In addition, nurses are finding that their services are in demand in medical and scientific research, in counseling, and in community health programs.

While nursing is still regarded as a woman's profession, there is a growing demand for men in this field. The improvement in the salary scale should serve as an inducement for young men to enter this profession in the future, especially in the field of mental health and other nursing specialties. (B8

Few Accidents Mar Week Here

Motorists in northwest suburbs again exhibited caution this past week, with only three accidents of any consequence reported by District 3 state police.

The accidents:

April 19: Lester O. Hanke, 26, of 528 E. Chicago ave., Elgin, was cited by police for disobeying a traffic signal when he ran into a car driven by Donald A. Pruyn, 19, of 918 N. Hickory st., Arlington Heights, at the intersection of U.S. 45 and Touhy ave.

Police said that Hanke's car was headed south on U.S. 45 when it collided with Pruyn's automobile traveling east on Touhy ave. No one was hurt in the mishap, police added.

April 18: Ronald C. Grostad, 21, of 1054 Springfield ave., Deerfield, was treated for injuries suffered when his car left the road and rolled over on Illinois 68 half-a-mile east of Barrington rd. Police said that Grostad failed to negotiate a sharp curve. Damage to his automobile was estimated at $500.

April 17: Issued a traffic citation for failure to yield the right-of-way was Fred E. Thomsen, 21, of R.R. 2, Box 85 Ela rd., Palatine, after he pulled out from a stop sign headed north on Roselle rd. and was hit by a car going west on Illinois 58.

Driver of the other car, Norma J. Hultgren, 22, of 551 E. Middle st., Elgin, was taken to Sherman hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the crash. Damage to both vehicles was set at $800.

Channel 11 Official Is PTA Speaker

Edward L. Morris, director of development for Channel 11-WTTW, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Arlington Heights PTA on Tuesday, April 28, 8:15 p.m. at the South Junior high school, 301 W. South street. Mr. Morris's topic will be "How Can We Make the Best Use of Television, Books and Magazines for Our Teenagers?"

Mrs. Albert S. Dunham, 401 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights, is the program chairman.

A native of Louisville, Kentucky, Morris is a graduate of the University of Louisville. He did graduate work in psychology and human relations at the University of Chicago and studied advertsising and radio and television script writing and production at Northwestern university.

PRIOR TO COMING to Channel 11, Morris was director of public relations and fund raising for United Charities since the fall of 1956. From 1952 to 1956 he served as executive director of the Chicago Committee on Alcoholism establishing a state supported program for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

He has served as president of the Publicity Club of Chicago for the year 1958-59, and is a member of the executive committee of the Welfare Public Relations Forum. Morris is also a member of the Public Relations Society of America and the Chicago Society of Fund Raising Executives. (A

'Auntie Mame' Review April 29 For Faith Ladies

Faith Ladies society is presenting Mrs. Walter Meyer in a review of "Auntie Mame" Wednesday, April 29, at 12:30 p.m. in the recreation room of Faith Lutheran church on State rd.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the April committee. They are Mrs. W. Ellertson, chairman, assisted by Mesdames W. Birr, William Mueller, H. Westerland, W. Rudolph, E. S. Jackson, M. Chamberlain, M. Bublitz, W. Koeritz, V. Maschoff, M. Nagel and A. Wangles.

The regular meeting of the group was held on April 15, when Dr. Paul Hauser spoke on the Medical Mission society. Dr. Hauser had been scheduled at a meeting on January 21, but due to the snowstorm of that evening the lecture was cancelled.

GEORGE HARRIS

Being born and bred in the drug business, I have a first love which, obviously, is the filling of prescriptions. To be sure, the drug business has grown by leaps and bounds and each and every pharmacy must handle many items, but the compounding of prescriptions is the business upon which Harris Pharmacy was built.

Quality and service are two commodities, for which there is no substitute. The quality of the ingredients we use in the compounding of prescriptions has always been and always will be the FINEST. The SERVICE we offer, has often been imitated, but never equalled. We feel that we owe this much to our customers that have put their faith in us. When you leave a prescription at Harris Pharmacy, you can do so with the feeling of confidence; you can be sure our personnel know their business.

We will appreciate your letting us handle your prescription needs — you'll be glad you did.

The search is on for the 1959 "Foster Mother of the Year" in Cook County.

The winner of this title will be named May 6 at ceremonies sponsored by the Cook county board of commissioners in the George Bernard Shaw room of the Hotel Sherman, it was announced by Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook county department of welfare.

She will be chosen from among finalists now being selected by 16 public and voluntary child-placing agencies. The 1959 "Foster Mother of the Year" will be a symbol of approximately 5,000 foster mothers who provide 24-hour a day help to dependent children in Cook county, Hilliard said.

IN KEEPING with its fifth annual Foster Mother of the Year awards ceremony, publicly honoring the thousands of families who take foster children into their homes, May 6, the day of the ceremony, will be called "Foster Mother's Day."

Important day-to-day foster care gives homeless, distressed children the opportunity for a better tomorrow and acts as one of Cook county's major deterrents to juvenile delinquency.

"The foster home shortage is acute," said Hilliard. "The number of children deprived of, but desperately requiring love, care and guidance continues to mount. More families are earnestly needed to open their hearts and homes to youngsters who lack security and the joy of a home of their own."

Invited to participate in the ceremony are the following child welfare agencies: Bensenville Home society, Catholic Home bureau, Central Baptist Children's home, Chicago Child Care society, Child and Family services, Cook county department of welfare, Evangelical Welfare agency, Family court of Cook county, Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, Illinois department of public welfare, Jewish Children's bureau, Lutheran Child Welfare association, Lutheran Homefinding society, Lake Bluff Children's home, and St. Mary's Home for Children.

Juniors to Dance Saturday Plan Annual Club Banquet

Saturday evening, April 25, is the date for the annual spring dance sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club to be held at the Biltmore country club in Barrington.

Unusual and colorful table decorations, made by the women of Mrs. C. L. Briscoe's committee, will decorate the club. Members and their guests will dance from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Del Rene's orchestra.

This popular dance serves as a fitting climax to a year of worthwhile activity and service by the club. All proceeds from the dance go toward the support of local and district philanthropies sponsored by the club.

AT THE APRIL meeting of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club new officers for 1959-1961 were elected. They were the president, Mrs. G. T. Beckley, 737 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights; first vice president, Mrs. H. E. Wieditz, 1241 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights; and recording secretary, Mrs. R. L. Heller, 837 N. Pine, Arlington Heights.

These new officers will be installed at the annual club banquet to be held May 19 at Old Orchard country club, for which a special 25th year celebration is being planned. Invitations for the dinner and evening have been extended to all past presidents of the club.

Prominent among community work achieved by the club through its fund raising activities is the teaching scholarship soon to be awarded to a student at Arlington High School.

THE CLUB also actively supports the Northwest Community hospital fund, Boy and Girl Scouts, Rolling Meadows School for Retarded Children and many more civic projects.

In addition to its local interests, funds are raised and working hours donated to Illinois Federated Womans club projects such as Park Ridge School for Girls, a scholarship for teachers of exceptional children and other philanthropies of statewide interest.

Polk Bros. Report Record Sales of Color Television

More than 15,000 Chicagoland families are enjoying color television in their homes today as a result of having bought a color TV set from Polk Bros. during the past five years, according to a statement made by Lester M. Bachmann, executive vice president of Polk's.

"The sales tempo of color television receivers has increased substantially from year to year," Bachmann stated. "Improvement in quality and frequency of color television broadcasts has been significant. In addition, every time a family gets a color TV set, all their friends and neighbors become prospects for a set of their own, through exposure to color TV in a home."

POLK BROS. pioneered the sale of color television sets in Chicagoland. It is estimated there are more color TV sets operating in homes in this area than in any other area of equal size in the country. Color sets in operation on the retail sales floor in all seven Polk Bros. stores expose store traffic to color telecasts especially during the week-end and evenings when outstanding color programs are scheduled and family shopping traffic is at its peak.

Bachmann stated that at the present rate of increase, Polk Bros. expects to sell its next 15,000 color television sets within two years instead of five. "It took five years for color TV to get off the ground in the minds of the general public," he said. "More and more families are now trading in their old, first TV set for a new set. Naturally they are excellent prospects to get a color television receiver in order to enjoy every aspect of today's television programming." (B8

CHECKING TICKET SALES for the mother-daughter banquet set for May 8 by the women of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church of Palatine are shown above, left to right, Grace Olson, ticket chairman; Irma Chelius, Gladys Gustafson, Nell Berntzen and Violet Heidorn. This annual dinner is open to all local women and their daughters and will be held in St. Paul church of Palatine, beginning at 6:30 p. m. Banquet chairman is Florence Busch. Tickets may be obtained by calling Grace Olson, FL 9-1091, or Gladys Gustafson, FL 8-1077.

Sorority Activities

Two movies on vacation opportunities in Illinois will be shown to members of Kappa Delta northwest suburban alumnae group when they meet Monday evening, April 27, in the home of Mrs. R. B. Miller, Barrington. "Illinois Holiday" and "Broad Lands-Narrow Water" are the titles of the movies.

Election of officers is also on the agenda for the meeting. Interested Kappa Delta alumnae in this area are urged to contact the group's vice president, Mrs. W. K. Smith at CLearbrook 3-6142.

A spring dance and party is being planned by the northwest alumnae group of Gamma Phi Beta sorority for the evening of May 9 when members, husbands and friends will gather at the Park Ridge VFW home for an evening of entertainment and dancing. Bill Heller and his band will furnish the dance music from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Newly-elected officers of the group include Mrs. Warren Van Der Voort of Mt. Prospect as president; Mrs. George Paris of Mt. Prospect as vice president; and Mrs. C. McCornack of Mt. Prospect as recording secretary. (S

Individual Differences

Miner and Windsor-Miner groups combine to meet Tuesday, April 28, at 8:15 at Miner Junior high. Dr. Arthur H. Oestreich, superintendent of Kenilworth schools, has as his subject, "Providing Education for Individual Differences," pertaining to the remedial as well as the gifted child in addition to problems confronting educators at different mental levels.

A Wisconsin native, Dr. Oestreich was graduated from Ripon college and received both advanced degrees from Northwestern. His teaching and administrative experience was obtained at Three Lakes, Wis., and at Northwestern. Since September, 1948, he has been superintendent in Kenilworth and on the guidance staff of the Northwestern summer session.

TV Professional

Station Manager Edward Morris of WTTW, channel 11, Chicago, will speak briefly before the audience divides into discussion groups at South junior high Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Best use of television, magazines, movies and books are discussed in the buzz sessions in which everyone participates. This is a repeat of last year's extremely popular program.

Education—for What?

Westgate is fortunate in obtaining Miss Wilma Lux of Roosevelt university as its speaker Tuesday at 8:15. Her talk at Ridge school early in the year proved an enlightening and extremely interesting comparison of foreign educational systems with ours.

Miss Lux has taught at several colleges one of which was Thornbridge Hall Training College near Sheffield, England. Although most of her teaching has been in the fields of political science, history, sociology and human development, she is currently assistant professor of education at Roosevelt.

EMPHASIZING THE NEED for preparing to meet the demands resulting from a swelling population rate, Shell Oil co. dealers and distributors from the Chicago metropolitan area held a series of meetings recently. Among those attending were Virgil Horath, Walter B. McCall, Kenneth L. Stiet, and John Patton, all of Arlington Heights.

Completes Engineers Training

ROBERT L. JAMES

Prior to his Bell Telephone laboratories assignment, he was a staff engineer with Illinois Bell Telephone company. He will return to Illinois Bell in this capacity, and is expected to live in Arlington Heights.

DURING HIS training, James was introduced to some of the new electronic devices and systems being considered for future telephone use.

James is a graduate of Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa. He served in the Navy in World War II.

James and his wife, Sue, have a girl, Jo Ellyn. (A

Teacher-Parent Council Votes Tonight on Split

The Teacher-Parent council of Arlington and Prospect high schools will vote at 8:15 tonight at Arlington school on the division of the council into two separate units, according to Gil Liebe now, president.

If the split into an Arlington council and a Prospect council is approved, nominations for offices in the new councils will be presented. The slates are:

Developer Sends Hasbrook Residents to 'Jamboree'

Albert E. Riley, president of Hasbrook Construction company, Inc., Arlington Heights, turned the Aunt Jemina Pancake Jamboree into a "get acquainted party" when he decided to present each Hasbrook homeowner with a pair of tickets to the Little League fund raising event which will take place Saturday, May 9, at the high school cafeteria.

Riley said, "with all youngsters of prescribed age within the village limits being eligible for the Little League program, I am sure the residents of our subdivision will want to join with other residents of Arlington Heights in supporting this activity."

TICKET SALES started April 2 with approximately 1,000 Little Leaguers making systematic coverage of the community. Business firms are being solicited by adult volunteers. The adult drive started early this week.

LATEST report indicates sale of approximately 3,500 tickets, which means that 4,500 tickets remain to be sold in order to meet the required budget of eight to ten thousand dollars for the season.

Local and national suppliers, through their contributions of products and services, have assured that the drive will be highly profitable. Provisions have been ordered to accomodate 8,000 customers who will be provided with continuous entertainment while they enjoy their pancake meal. Special equipment being brought from Rockford, Ill. will insure that patrons will be served promptly. (A

Historical Society To Meet April 24

The Historical Society of Arlington Heights will meet Friday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the Community Room of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association building, on Campbell at Evergreen.

Health check-ups were completed and vision tests were given April 17. Heights and weights were also checked.

School board of education meeting was held Monday evening. The regular meeting was held and after the conclusion of the business an organizational meeting was called with the board members voting unanimously for Bill Grismer, as president, and Eunice Hutchings, secretary, for the coming year.

Parent and teacher conferences will continue through April 29. School will close at 2:30 p.m. today, Thursday, and next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for these conferences.

The next school hot lunch is scheduled for Thursday, April 30.

Twenty-six students will go to Springfield Friday, leaving Arlington Heights on the 6:45 a.m. train for the loop, where they will take the 7:50 train. The students are to bring their own lunches.

Forest View boys have scheduled a ball game with the Feehanville team for Wednesday, April 29, after school.

Henry Rossbery voluntarily built the new cabinets which have been installed and completed in the school kitchen and Bill Grismer donated some of the lumber.

Mothers club library books are available for reading and may be obtained at the school office for a 2-week period. They may also be renewed if desired.

MRS. ROBERT Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bruening of St. Louis, Mo., are spending this week in the Palmer home. Saturday afternoon they all saw the Ice Capades at the Stadium.

The Henry Rossbergs toured China Town Sunday and had dinner there at Chiam restaurant. They also attended the recent 25th wedding anniversary surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. John Tanke, Chicago, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Panjan, Chicago. Fifty guests were present.

Harold Milbrodt was in Denver for several days.

The junior W. H. Grismers were Saturday evening dinner guests of the Edgar Kirchhoffs of Harvard. They dined at the Country House in Dundee.

Speedy recovery wishes are extended to George Sidor, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident recently. He is still a patient in Resurrection hospital, for those who wish to send cards.

The senior Edward Smalenbergers enjoyed Sunday dinner with their son and family, the junior Smalenbergers. The dinner was in honor of the senior Mr. Smalenberger's birthday.

Shirley Van Dyke, Mrs. Arthur Christensen, Sandy and Gail Christenson drove to St. Louis, Mo., Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Faith Hannis and Doyle Stegall.

AMONG THOSE present at the annual dance and initiation of new members into the Independent Order of Foresters at Tam O Shanter country club April 10 were the George Mailfolds and their guests, the Michael McFarlanes and the David Delvins, and a member, Joe Pecoraros.

David Smalenberger's guests played baseball and enjoyed a spaghetti dinner in honor of his 10th birthday last Saturday.

On April 18, a surprise farewell party for guest of honor David Beigel was given by his sister, Marcella, and his parents, the Alfred Beigels, at 135 Golf terr. David has left for Norfolk, Va., where he reported for duty on the USS Greene. He completed 12 weeks of training from the machinist mate school at Great Lakes April 3. David's guests at the party included Roy Klehm, Claudia Cieiwa, Carole Kronencke, Dwayne Mueller, Wayne Schmidt, Leroy Miller, Charlotte Popp, Marcy Beigel, Mary Claire Kratt and Sharon Luczak. On Sunday Open house was held for David at his home with relatives attending.

On Thursday, Mrs. George Mailfold, Marie Sigwart and Marcella Ernst attended the AMA Material Handling and Packaging show at the International Amphitheatre, representing the Weber Marking System, Inc., where they work. Afterwards they enjoyed lunch at the Stockyard Inn.

KEITH Swearingen celebrated his sixth birthday with a special supper April 12. His guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Moehling and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and children and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bartels and children.

Paul Anderson celebrated his 21st birthday April 21 with a family dinner and with friends April 19. Following the Sunday celebration the group drove to Rockford to visit with other friends for the evening.

Carol Swearingen was a first place winner in vocal solo division and Dennis and Gary Bartelt were winners in vocal duet division in the Northern Illinois district talent show at St. Paul Lutheran school in Skokie. They will compete with other finalists at Concordia Teachers college, River Forest, April 26.

A daughter, Carol Elizabeth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thon, 25 W. Golf rd., March 31 in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thon, Arlington Heights, and maternal grandparnets are Mr. and Mrs. John Keenan of South Elgin. (A

Church Auxiliary Elects Officers At Lunch Meeting

The women's auxiliary of St. Simon Episcopal church combined business with pleasure at its annual spring luncheon and election of officers held April 14 in Old Orchard country club.

Following a buffet luncheon, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Roger Krohn; vice president, Mrs. Edward McKown; secretary, Mrs. John Beverly; treasurer, Mrs. William Utermohlen; and assistant treasurer, Mrs. F. W. Weiser.

FR. SAMUEL KEYS, rector of St. Simon Episcopal church, spoke to the ladies about plans for the building of the new church which is to begin shortly.

New officers will be installed by Fr. Dargan Butt, curate of St. Simon Episcopal church at the 10 a.m. service May 3 in South Junior high school.

Fifteen Girls Vie For Peony Princess

Fifteen northwest suburban area girls are vying for the title of peony princess to reign over Elk Grove Village's first peony pageant in June, as the deadline for entering the contest was reached today.

Miss Peony Princess will be chosen by a panel of judges the evening of May 2, at Higgins school auditorium, Higgins and Touhy rds. The judging will begin at 8 p.m.

Master of ceremonies will be Josh Brady, radio personality of WBBM. Judges are Singer Connie Mitchell, also of WBBM; Michael Kirby, owner of ice-skating studios in Park Ridge, River Forest and Chicago; Jean Harper, representing Patricia Vance School of Charm; Harold Bender of Fashionette swimsuit shop; and Mrs. Elk Grove Village, who will be named prior to beauty contest judging.

JEAN MALEK

PROCEEDS from the peony princess contest will be donated to a building fund for an Elk Grove Village community center, according to John Radzis, president of the Elk Grove Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of both the beauty and talent contest and the peony pageant.

Among the latest entrants are:

Jean Malek, 510 Briarwood st., Elk Grove Village, who is a dancer. A graduate of St. Alphonsus high school in Chicago Jean lists her hobbies as painting and photography.

Christine Johnson, 772 Fifth ave., Des Plaines, is a singer. A senior at Maine township high school, Christine also models. She was in the court for "Miss Des Plaines of 1958."

Mary Ann Winters, 6736 W. Senior place, Harwood Heights, also sings. She has studied at Patricia Vance modeling school and has sung at several Evanston hotels and over the Evanston radio station.

THE PRINCESS chosen will preside over the peony pageant from June 10 to the 14th, and also compete in the Miss Illinois contest May 28-30, in Moline.

The girls will also be competing for such prizes as modeling scholarships, wardrobe prizes and custom swimsuits. Expenses for the winner's trip to Moline will also be paid. (B8

Lambda Deltas Plan Banquet

Members of Lambda Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met last week in the home of Mrs. William Valiant of Prospect Hts. to make plans to attend the sorority Founders day banquet which will be held at Midwest country club in Hinsdale April 26.

The group also gathered for a farewell party April 9 in honor of Mrs. Donald Kirkwood who will soon be moving to Raleigh, N.C. The party was given in the home of Mrs. John Dupin.

The next meeting of the chapter is scheduled for May 6 in the Arlington Heights home of Sarabel Lazor. (APhP

Sidelights from Springfield

How Much Influence Should Constituents Exert

by REP. PAUL SIMON

Should a member of the legislature count the letters from his home district in deciding how to vote on an issue, or should he study the pros and cons and vote his own conscience?

Legislators differ on that question. Many issues are decided by a legislator's approach to that basic problem.

It's not uncommon for one legislator to tell another, "I'd surely like to be with you on that bill, but the folks from my district are against it so I'll have to be against it, even though I think it's a good bill."

IN MY OPINION, a legislator serves his district best when he follows his personal convictions. To try to follow the winds of public opinion is both senseless and dangerous. Let me give you a few reasons:

1. While mail is important in letting you know what people back home are thinking and what issues they are interested in, it is not a perfect guide to their thinking. One person who is sold on a measure can kick up a storm of mail.

2. One of the reasons a legislator is sent to Springfield or Washington is to study the issues. If we are doing our job at all, we are going to be more informed on many issues than people who cannot devote their full time to studying proposals. To represent them properly we do not ask, "How is my mail on this issue?" I think we should ask, "If they had all of the facts on this issue that I have, how would they vote?" Many times these two questions come up with opposite answers. When the answers are not the same, the legislator should vote his convictions and try to explain to the people back home why he voted the way he did.

3. Political observers such as Walter Lippmann have pointed out that one of the dangers democracy faces today is that our government officials too often are not leaders but followers; too many let government drift with popular opinion rather than to find out where government should go and try to point out to the public why government needs to go in that direction. This seems to me a just criticism.

4. People in public office are human beings. We like public approval. I thing this fact means that there is a natural pull away from extreme positions. This is a balancing factor and probably wholesome. But the great danger is that we like public approval so much that we hesitate to stand up against public opinion when we think it is wrong.

WHILE THIS issue may not seem too important to you, it affects your community and your pocketbook.

For example, frequently mail in favor of some senseless expenditure far outweighs any pressure against it.

This does not mean that your mail is not important. It is important. Mail from interested citizens decides many issues. Frequently mail which I have received has pointed out some fact which I had not known and has changed my opinion on a proposal. Also, the mail gives you an indication of what issues are of concern to people.

But you should neither want nor expect your legislators to agree with you always. Explain your position on an issue. If they disagree, don't hesitate to ask the reason. It may be a good one.

SOMETIMES your legislators may be doing you a favor by voting differently than you requested.

I recall a recent letter I received, containing eight points. Seven of the eight points called for increased government services. The eighth point was to reduce taxes.

That letter is a good illustration of why we who are legislators serve you better by studying the issues and voting our convictions, rather than following the mail blindly.

Flight Scholarship Will Be Given to CAP Cadet

Some northwest suburban area Civil Air Patrol cadet will literally be flying high by Armed Forces day, May 16. He, or possibly she, will be the recipient of a scholarship designed to take the honored cadet through flight training culminating in solo flight.

The flight scholarship will be presented by the 9631st Air Force Reserve Squadron of Des Plaines to the outstanding cadet among the six CAP squadrons which the 9631st furnishes with instructors.

THE WINNER will be named during the week preceding Armed Forces day by squadron officers at their headquarters, 620 Lee st., Des Plaines. Major Laurance A. Bartnek, CAP project officer for the 9631st, conceived the idea of the flight scholarship which is believed to be a "first" in the CAP program.

Civil Air Patrol squadrons in contention for the award are the Maine township squadron of Des Plaines, River Park squadron from the northwest side of Chicago, Barrington, Elgin, Palwaukee squadron in the Wheeling area, and the DuPage squadron of Bensenville.

Each CAP squadron will select its own candidate with the award winner being determined by a six-man board composed of 9631st Air Reserve Squadron flight commanders.

Since about one out of every three CAP cadets is a girl, it is possible a young woman may be selected for the award. (B8

Federal Funds Available To Illinois Schools Now

An initial appropriation of $589,809 of federal funds is available to Illinois public schools for science, mathematics and foreign languages.

George T. Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction, this week announced establishment of supervisory and consultative services to administer the federal-local program for all schools from kindergarten through junior college as the first step in a four-year program

He said the "starter" appropriation made by congress under the National Defense Education Act will be matched by local school district funds.

WILKINS said the current appropriation will not be used for private schools since such institutions must apply directly to the United States office of education for laboratory and classroom equipment.

He expressed the view that the federal law reflects increasing public interest in science applied to national defense in the so-called "missile age."

"This law," Wilkins said, "has properly been labeled an historic piece of legislation because it signifies the start of a program of federal assistance for the first time to strengthen education at critical points across the board.

"While this section of the National Defense Education Act provides for strengthening instruction in the specific areas of science, mathematics and modern foreign languages, it is important that no less attention be focused on all other areas of learning.

"Boards of education and educators," Wilkins added, "must continue to improve the total educational aspects for all youth."

LOCAL SCHOOL districts in Illinois will have an opportunity to submit a plan to Wilkins' office for acquisition of equipment, and minor remodeling to be used in the teaching of each subject.

Items include mathematical instruments, laboratory apparatus, films, filmstrips, recordings, projectors, recorders, screens, reference and library books, science kits, charts and demonstration materials.

Wilkins said he will name an advisory committee to help administer the statewide program and evaluate local projects.

The schools chief also pointed out the federal program is an assistance project of a temporary nature. Congress is expected to make annual appropriations in areas of education where needs are most pressing.

Officials of local school districts should contact county school superintendents for necessary information and application forms. (B13

DeMolay To Confer Degrees

The Order of De Molay from Northern Illinois will confer degrees in a ceremony at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, 935 N. Dearborn, in Chicago April 30.

This is a yearly affair when the boys are guests of the Scottish Rite bodies and the best ritualists are selected to confer the degrees. All De Molays or Masons are welcome to attend.

The Prospect chapter of Mt. Prospect is now arranging a class of candidates for the rites. Any boy between the ages of 14 and 21 can join the De Molay order. Anyone interested can obtain additional information from John E. Knox Jr., Rolling Meadows, CL 5-3766; William W. Boyd, Mt. Prospect, CL 3-3685, or Matthew Cation, Prospect Heights, CL 3-1099. (B8

Installment Plan

Motor vehicle registrations in the United States grew from 8,000 in 1900 to 468,500 in 1910 and 2,490,932 in 1915. Resistrations today total more than 70,000,000.

Martian to Make Appearance At St. Peter's

Members of grades one to four of St. Peter Lutheran school have been actively rehearsing these past weeks in preparation for April 29 and 30. On these two evenings they will present the musical play "Roddy Riddle from Mars."

Each evening beginning at 7:45, the audience will witness an operetta concerning a visitor from the planet Mars. The play will be given in St. Peter Lutheran school. There will be a free will offering and the community is invited. (A

First Buildings Nearly Complete for Little City

Construction work is well under way on the first three buildings at the unique Little City community for Mentally Retarded Children, to be located on a 60-acre tract bordering Algonquin rd. (route 62) just south of Palatine.

According to President Ben Sears, projected palns now call for occupancy during early June. At that time, the first 60 children will be admitted and the nonsectarian, non-profit residential treatment center will become a reality.

Sears indicates that, when completed, Little City will provide 30 cottages, housing 20 children each. Each home will have its own kitchen and dining facilities.

BESIDES THESE units, there will be three school buildings, an administration building, a large playground area, a community house of worship, a recreation hall and an infirmary.

Much of the land surrounding the buildings will have fields, orchards and gardens for the ablebodied to cultivate and there will even be some farm animals for the love and amusement of the children.

All children who enter Little City will be provided with the means toward a useful existence for the balance of their lives. They will be offered a protective residence, but also one which gives them the opportunity to learn at his (her) own rate.

The founders of Little City are confident that the residential community will rapidly become a model center for training, education and research in the field of mental retardation.

ACCORDING to Delilah White, executive administrator and the Dr. Julian D. Levinson Research Foundation and special services director for Little City, the organization plans a broad program of public education which they hope will eventually:

1. Create a more tolerant neighborhood environment for the retarded.
2. Explain how special training and research meets the needs of, and benefits, mentally retarded children.
3. Stimulate much needed legislation which will ultimately provide other "much needed" facilities for the residential treatment of the mentally retarded.

ONE OF THE originators of the Little City concept, Mrs. White indicates that motivation for the community was mainly due to the lack of boarding facilities for mentally retarded children in the Chicago area.

"Mentally retarded have problems that are complex and often beyond the scope of the understanding of the average parent. They need an environment . . . an organized schedule so constructed that they will find security and peace."

On this basis, she indicates, Little City is the most unique community of its kind ever to be constructed.

"Our children will be made happy and will be given the need to belong, to be loved, to be cared for and, above all . . . the need to be needed."

Square Dance Club News

Palatine Squares

Club members remind area dance enthusiasts to dance while the dancing is good as the season for this open club is fast drawing to a close. They feel gardening can wait ocasionally and are personally putting the hoe down early on Saturday nights until the end of May when the regularly scheduled hoedowns conclude at Paddock school in Palatine.

The dance April 11 with Horace Hall calling was well attended as usual and as usual attracted several out-of-town guests. All open clubs have an almost predictable number of out-of-towners present, but for no known reason the Palatine club has an average rate of such guests. One officer wistfully remarked that if they'd all turn up on the same night the guest register would look like a Northern Illinois telephone directory, "and wouldn't that be fun."

The club's next dance is April 25 with Don Finfrock calling. Don and Horace are among the callers booked for the Palatine Squares' annual Jamboree, Sunday, June 7, from 2 to 5 p.m. at Paddock school. Frank Walker and Art Mathews will complete the caller roster. Although some details remain to be worked out, the jamboree committe announces that tickets are now available and can be had at the club's Saturday night dances or through ticket chairman Harvey Zimmerman, CL 3-4483.

Round Dance Club

The first session of the newly formed round dance club met April 9 at the Pioneer park fieldhouse in Arlington Heights with 22 registered couples from the northwest suburban area getting the club off to a good start. Minor details of organization that inevitably crop up at the first session of anything were settled, the choice of names for the club was whittled down to three and there was still time to learn a new round and end the evening comfortably over coffee and cake.

One change was agreed upon. The club will meet from now on at 8 p.m. rater ta 7:45 icensh—at 8 p.m. rater ta 7:45 innhs—ntes are not as much needed on at 8 p.m. rather than 7:45 since members felt those extra 15 minutes are not as much needed on increasingly needd through the the dance floor as they will be summer months behind the lawn mower. It was further agreed that anyone potentially interested in joining the club may come on a one-night basis without having to register for a full quarter, and that quarterly registrations should continue to be accepted, dues payable upon registration.

One of the two nights a month will be a workshop when the round of the month will be taught and the second night will be purely social, giving the dancers the pleasant opportunity to use what they have learned. Mary Bengson, co-instructor with her husband, Bing, will furnish printed instructions for each new dance of the month so that members will have a complete book for easy reference and review. Name tags will also be furnished the members to speed the getting-acquainted process and to help that most universal of groups, the "your face is familiar, but—" name-forgetters.

CLUB officers remind everyone to note a change in schedule for this month only. The regular fourth Thursday dance is postponed a week and will be held April 30 rather than April 23. Subsequent dances will adhere strictly to the second-and-fourth-Thursday schedule originally planned. At the April 30 dance a vote will be taken to break the 3-way tie that resulted when names for the club were suggested at the first session. The club will thereafter be known as the Laughing Dancers, the Northwest Round Dancers or the Pas-De-Bas club.

Mrs. Bengson is still taking registrations for the beginners group that has grown out of the unexpected interest shown in the club by enthusiasts who wish to learn the fundamentals. For information regarding these classes, which have not yet started, beginners are asked to call Mr. Bengson, CL 3-8562.

Arlington Heights Squares

Instructions for a round dance or square dance often read like secret code to the uninitiated, and invitations to the dance can sound downright wicked. The Arlington Heights club extends a welcome to guests for their next dance, April 24, at the South junior high school and it reads in part, ". . . if you go for some "red hot" dancing come out and join the excitement . . ." Lest non-square dancers plan to jam the hall, let it be known that Red Hot is the name of a dance which, like all folk dancing, is sprightly but most circumspect.

Fifteen guest couples from the northwest suburbs and Chicago added to the fun of the club's open dance April 11 at Miner junior high school cafeteria which is known to local dancers as the ideal square dance hall. It is considered by many to be accoustically perfect, so vital to successful and easy following of the calls.

The club's caller, Bill Clarke and his wife, Marie, precede the square dancing, which begins at . . . with a half-hour of instruction in round dancing.

Arlington Heights Leads Home Building in Chicago

Home building in Arlington Heights continued at a record pace in March, putting the village among the top 10 communities in the Chicago metropolitan area, according to a Bell Savings and Loan assn. survey.

Sixty-two home building permits were issued here last month as compared to 37 in March of last year. The value of $1,220,490 compared with the 1958 figure of $671,400.

For the first 3 months of the year, Arlington Heights was 8th among 10 communities which the survey designated as leaders in home building. The value of the 94 homes during the period was estimated at $1,890,716 or an average of $20,114 each.

MT. PROSPECT reported 44 home building permits last month as compared to 22 last year; Palatine 4 against 97; and Wheeling 33 against 1 in 1958.

Home permits issued last month in the entire Chicago Metropolitan area rose about 55 percent over March of last year, the survey noted. The recovery from last year's recession is continuing, according to the association's figures. (B8

'Lobbying' Law Defeat Is Vital

by W. RUSSELL ARRINGTON
STATE SENATOR,
4th DISTRICT

Perhaps the most significant action of last week's session of the General Assembly was the defeat in the Senate of a bill which would have repealed the so-called "Lobbying" law.

During the 1957 session, one of the reforms resulting from the Hodge debacle was the adoption of a law requiring lobbyists to register. The law provides that each lobbyist must register with the Secretary of State and indicate the interests he is representing In addition, he is required to pay a $5 fee and submit a photograph of himself. The Secretary of State is thereupon required to furnish to each member of the Legislature each two weeks this detailed information for all new registrants.

THESE requirements met with some dissatisfaction on the part of some members of the Legislature. Accordingly, a bill was introduced to repeal the law.

This writer took a principal part last week in defeating the repealer bill. He pointed out that admittedly the lobbying law is defective in some respects. One deficiency is that it requires all public officials and their employees to register. This obviously is unnecessary, since the purpose of the law is to require registration of those having no official status with government.

It was pointed out to the Senate that one of the principal recommendations of the Morey-Jenner commission was the adoption of a law regulating lobbying. The fact that the law as adopted was not as detailed as many would wish provides no justification for its repeal. Rather, the proper approach is to amend the present law so as to remove some of its imperfections.

Several of the Senators, including this writer, stated they had found that registration of lobbyists had proven very helpful in identifying the lobbyists and their affiliations. While the administration of the act involves some additional expense, the amount involved is small compared to the benefits received.

AFTER PROLONGED debate, the repealer bill was defeated by as crushing a vote as has occurred this session. The vote was 32 against the measure while only 14 Senators supported it.

Steps are already being taken to cure some of the imperfections of the present law. Last week a measure was introduced to make unnecessary the registration of public officials and their employees. This measure, if adopted, will also make unnecessary the registration of newspaper reporters. There seems every indication that these improvements will be adopted and that the lobbying law will continue in effect.

Eastwood Events

An 8-pound, 1-ounce son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryd, 722 N. Beverley ave., April 15 in Sherman hospital, Elgin. The new baby has been named Jan Michael and he has a sister Christina who is three years old. Both sets of grandparents live in Sweden. Mr. and Mrs. Hallberg, maternal grandparents, reside in Staket, while Mr. and Mrs. Algot Ryd live in Kungsangen.

Parents of Mrs. Robert Lollar, 634 N. Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee Booth, from Webster Groves, Mo., spent the weekend with the Lollar family. They saw for the first time their newest grandaughter Cindy, who is now 3½ months old.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoym, 210 N. Lincoln lane, attended a district meeting and dinner of the Elks at the Berwyn lodge. At this time the Arlington Heights chapter was awarded a trophy for the best ritual performance of the Northwest district Elks.

Park District Completing Summer Recreation Plans

by JOEL CARTER

Now that the buds are budding and spring is sprung many folks' fancy is lightly turning to thoughts of the summer. Inquiriesabout the summer recreation program are beginning to flood the Park district office.

People are planning vacations and want to take them at a time that won't interfere with little Johnny's swimming lessons. Others want to form a neighborhood softball team. Others have heard rumors of some of the new activities to be offered in 1959 and want to confirm them.

Complete details on the summer program are almost ready to go to press and will be announced soon. A brochure listing the time and place of all activities will be published. In May a copy will be sent to every family in the Park district.

SLOW PITCH softball is the game used in park adult leagues. It is played with a ball which is 16 inches in circumference rather than the regular fourteen inches. The pitcher must deliver the ball with a perceptible loft. This rule and the ball's extra size makes the game ideal for all ages to be played just for fun.

The young buck just out of school has only a little advantage over the businessman whose reactions have been slowed by years behind a desk. A game on a pleasant summer evening is good exercise for both mom and pop, even if they haven't picked up a bat in years.

Two leagues are planned for men and one for women, so see if you can round up nine players on your street.

THE DEVELOPMENT of access streets to Pioneer Park has considerably lagged behind the development of the park facilities. Newcomers have no trouble finding the park but often have to drive around a while to discover how to get to it.

Arrangements for paving the new streets are under way and the first surfacing should be finished early in the summer. Until then the best approach is from south State rd. by Fairview st. to the parking area on the south side.

On the north side there is half-width paving on Grove st. but it extends only along the park property. There is parking off this strip, and it is best reached by taking Kaspar or Fernandez st. from Sigwalt. Paved walks lead from both the parking areas.

Announce Spring Parks Program

The Arlington Heights Park district's spring recreation program was announced today by superintendent Joel Carter. The activities for children will be concentrated on Saturdays, but the playgrounds will be prepared for afternoon use daily.

Adult activities include a hat making class for ladies at 10 a.m. on Fridays and a ceramics workshop on Wednesdays at 9 a.m. Saturday art classes for children is another activity that is already under way.

A roller jamboree will be held at Pioneer park on April 25 for skaters of all ages. The tennis courts will be turned into a ring with music and supervision provided.

RECREATION RELAYS, a track meet for grade school boys, will take place on May 2 at Recreation Park. Races and contests will be held for all age groups.

May 9 is the date of the One Day Tennis Tournament to be held on all the parks' courts. Competition is open to all boys and girls through high school age.

The Little Madames Tea Party will be presented on May 16 for all little girls who like to dress up like mamma and occasionally bend an elbow over some polite refreshment. It will be held at the Pioneer park fieldhouse.

A MODEL SHOW for both adults and boys will be held on May 23 and 24 at Pioneer park. Prizes will be given for the best models in each age group. Airplanes, ships, and all types of models may be entered.

Memorial Day will be the occasion of the Pet Parade. Any pet except dogs may be entered.

Playground supervisors will be on duty at Pioneer and Recreation parks on Saturdays beginning May 2. These adult leaders will issue sports equipment, lead games, keep order and give first aid in case of accidents. (A

Officers Register For Firearm School

Officer Joseph E. Ostermann and Sergeant Raymond H. Jahnke, of Arlington Heights' police department, are registered for a police firearms instructor's school Monday through Friday (April 20-24) at Indiana University.

The short course will include 22 hours of training on the university's practical pistol course, under the direction of certified firearms instructors from the FBI, Indiana State Police and the sponsoring I.U. center for police training.

Special emphasis will be placed on the qualifying of police personnel for duty as weapons instructors. (A

It's Needed

Stockbrokers are following with keen interest the progress of Trail Timbers, Inc. of Texas. The company is reported to be buying fantastically large numbers of well logs. Informed sources say these will be cut into planks to be used in shoring up the Texas ego which has sagged so badly since Alaska was accepted as the 49th and largest state.—Geo-Times.

REVERENCE FOR LIFE

The great African Missionary, Albert Schweitzer, has written a history of civilization which is organized around reverence for life. This was one of the great contributions of Jesus to humanity. Toward even the dependents, the defectives and the delinquents he shows a great love and offers help.

OBITUARIES

James M. Mulligan

Word has been received that James M. Mulligan, former Arlington Heights resident, died January 31 at Green Bay, Wisconsin. Mr. Mulligan moved to Green Bay seven years ago. He was employed by the Chicago, North Western railroad and attended St. James church in the 20 years he lived in Arlington Heights. He is survived by his wife, Marie, and two daughters, Mrs. John Dresser of Mundelein and Mrs. William Utnehmer, Antigo, Wisconsin.

Herbert Henry Bach

Services were held April 18 in Dunedin, Florida, for Herbert Henry Bach, 61, former Prospect Heights resident, who died April 15. The former owner of Bach Brick Manufacturing co., Chicago, moved to Florida two years ago. He is survived by his wife Elizabeth; four daughters, Mrs. John Lehman, Plainville, Kansas, Mrs. Floyd Hart, Crystal Lake, Mrs. William Pilz, Glen Ellyn, and Mrs. Norman Stickney, Dunedin; a sister, Mrs. Walter Neff, River Forest; and seven grandchildren.

Frank Hausman, Sr.

Services were held Tuesday for Frank Hausman, Sr., 77, late of 1013 Sherwood dr., Prospect Heights, who died April 18 at County Hospital. Rev. Klepper of the Community Church of Prospect Heights officiated. Interment was at Irving Park cemetery. His wife, Mary, preceded him in death. He is survived by three sons, Frank, Jr., of Prospect Heights, Rudolph and Henry. The retired sign painter leaves five grandchildren.

Ernest Konemann

Ernest Konemann, 84, late of 314 N. Highland, Arlington Heights, died April 14 in St. Louis, Missouri. Services were held Saturday at St. Peters Lutheran Church, Rev. Robert O. Bartz officiating. Burial was at Forest Home. He is survived by his three sons, Henry E. of Oklahoma, Victor of Burbank, California, and Warren of Glendale, Arizona; six daughters, Ann Wilken of La Grange; Adeline Rawers of Lyons; Minnie Egglasman of St. Louis, Missouri; Helen Soski of McFarland, Wisconsin; Ruth Lassanske of West Patterson, New Jersey; and Mrs. Adolph Obermann, 314 N. Highland, Arlington Heights. His wife, Bertha, preceded him in death. He was a retired foreman for F. Boyer of Chicago for 50 years.

Richard F. Whiting, Jr.

Services will be held tomorrow for Richard F. Whiting, Jr., 37, of 211 N. Main, Mt. Prospect, who died April 20 at Resurrection hospital. Rev. Herbert of Community Presbyterian church of Mt. Prospect will officiate at the 1:30 p.m. Friederichs chapel services. Burial will be at Elm Lawn cemetery, Elmhurst. Mr. Whiting is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting, Sr., of Mt. The Language of Flowers
Some things are so close to our hearts, our tongues cannot express them. Then is the time for flowers to say what words cannot. We honor the thoughts of those who send flowers by the care with which we handle them.

High School Players Dip into New Realism

The voices were raucous and edged with sardonic derision; the object of their scorn was the boy in the tub of water, who was unceremoniously carried across the stage and dumped on a table close to the footlights.

The only things deleted from this violent protest to privacy were the four-letter words which were originally written to accompany the action.

For this was rehearsal for "Stalag 17," which treats with war prison camp life, and will be presented at Arlington high school May 8, 9, and 16.

But it was only in eliminating some of the more descriptive adjectives from the script that Director Douglas Murphy, 31, was departing from realism.

His contention: that the movie of the same name didn't even have a "damn" in it, and that the play would be witnessed by a similar audience.

"I really had to argue with the cast about it, though," Murphy admitted. "Of course, some of their lines were awful good," he conceded.

IN OTHER MATTERS, Murphy is adamant in insisting that realism be reached.

Old lumber scrap piles were consulted in order to insure against the impression of furniture being anything but something hammered together by prisoner-of-war camp inmates.

A stain will be added to the bunk beds and solitary table to lend to the atmosphere of makeshift.

"We didn't borrow any props for reasons of realism," Murphy explained.

The cast of 21 and stage crew of 35 have been listening to sound effects records for weeks now in preparation for the play, and lighting has been studied for nine months so that the proper emphasis is given to a fire and the omnipresent search lights.

Rehearsals are a strenuous 3 to 5 p.m. during the week, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

"Saturdays we usually go right through the play to get it back in proper perspective since we just run through segments of the play during the week," Murphy, who is directing his fifth full-length play at the high school, pointed out.

AND THE DIFFICULTIES of producing a play of "Stalag's" scope are multiple.

For instance, the cast of 21 is on the stage throughout the majority of the acts; this complicates physical movement.

Director Murphy, who usually diagrams cast movements, threw up his hands at the prospect of applying this method to "Stalag." He feels it would just add further complications.

"I think this play will be just as hard for the actors as Shakespeare, since it's so difficult to get around the stage," he lamented.

But obstacles such as these are what the Louisiana-trained theater technician seems to prefer.

He subscribes to the principle that "it is more valuable to be in the better-written plays even if they are more difficult to stage."

He explained: "It gives the actor more to work with, and it's always a challenge to him."

Among the challenges Murphy has thrown at his audience is "The Crucible," Arthur Miller's somber dramatization of the Salem witch hunts which was presented last fall.

"I didn't expect such a deadly serious play to go over with the majority of the student body; I anticipated a cooler reaction," Murphy confesses.

SURPRISINGLY, NOT only attendance was good but reception of "The Crucible" favorable.

Murphy also insists that the play be produced as it was written, saying, "It's been rewritten often enough before first being staged."

He said he tries to maintain a variety of plays from year to year and added that Shakespeare is a possibility for presentation next year.

One thing at which he flinches, though, is a play that sentimentalizes. "I'm not against sentiment as such, but I don't care for something with a hearts and flowers theme which insists on the audience weeping," he declared.

This week, the all-male cast was still dependent on the written script as they went through the rehearsal pace.

Already, however, some cast members were displaying fathers' worn but wearable war momentos, such as flight jackets, fatigues and battered hats with a "Fifty-mission crush."

One girl, Ellen Wolf, a senior, is included in the credits. The play's prompter, she has assumed so many duties that Murphy refers to her as an assistant director.

Playing the lead is Randall Bolsinger in the role of Sefton, the part which earned William Holden an academy award.

Although it will be the youth's fifth full-length play, Murphy says he understands that Bolsinger will not go into theater work or studies upon graduation.

"Usually about three people a year who have been in our plays go on to study acting," Murphy observed.

OUT OF THE many-membered cast of "Stalag 17," only six have had any kind of previous experience in front of the floodlights, he noted.

But participation in the play is apparently appealing to students of all academic descriptions. "We have straight "A" students and some "D" students," the director observed.

"There is no special type which tries out for parts. We have extroverts and introverts, people who are sometimes discipline problems in class, and all of whom succeed in the plays," he continued.

Nor is the theater a domain of expression reserved for the strictly scholarly, Murphy feels. "We attract a number of athletes when their sport is not in season," he added.

The high school director, who in the summertime directs shows for junior and senior students at Northwestern University's high school institute, attempts to "make the actor fit the part but not the type fit the actor."

"It's deceiving," he said. "Sometimes the serious student will make an excellent comedian, while the school kidder does well with serious parts."

"METHOD" acting is not stressed for two reasons: 1) "We don't have the time to take out of rehearsal for the actor to think about being the person he is playing," Murphy said; 2) he feels that it takes a good deal of experience on the actor's part before he can indulge his preparation with "method" role compliments.

Murphy, who acted in a number of productions staged at Louisiana Tech and holds a Master's degree in theater from Northwestern University, also teaches English and speech classes at the high school. (B-8

Secretaries Query Bosses on Gripes

Why doesn't the boss tell us where he is going so he can be reached . . . keep appointments . . . recognize our efforts with a compliment once in awhile?

These were some of the questions presented to a panel of "bosses" by the Park-Plaines chapter of the National Secretaries assn. at a luncheon meeting last week at the Des Plaines Elks club.

Some 150 secretaries, employed in the northwest suburban area attended the luncheon which marked Secretaries Week April 19-25. They were welcomed by Mayor Herbert Behrel of Des Plaines.

THE BUSINESSMEN'S panel suggested that secretaries talk to their bosses about leaving word where he can be reached, but they noted:

"Most of the time if the boss is out, he might not want to be reached. If you can't find him, he is safe."

The panel added that bosses are sure to compliment secretaries (might even give them a raise) if "they do a little more than the job requires . . . anticipate the needs of her boss and have the answers ready . . ."

If the secretary thinks her boss is "not friendly enough . . . too friendly," the panel's advice: "switch bosses."

Everyone agreed that the boss should keep his appointments or instruct his "gal" to cancel them in advance. They also agreed that the secretary should not be caught ii the middle of a demanding caller and a boss, who forgot the appointment.

Donna Lee Doughty of Arlington Heights received an award as "Secretary of the Year." Loretta Daum, chapter president, made the presentation.

THE PANEL AND some of their comments:

L. J. Borkowski, Borg-Warner Research Center — "Secretaries should be tactful, have a sense of humor, and be willing to take responsibility."

J. Hickman, Charles Bruning co. — "Be courteous, have a good memory, work under pressure and keep matters confidential."

William Davis, Hannifin co. — "Have a good appearance, good dictation and transcribing skills and organize work well."

Charles Eskrich, Middle States Telephone co.—"Competent workmanship, ability to learn firm's business."

Jack Rieke, Jewel Tea co. — "Have fundamental intelligence, have ability to get along with people, have pleasant voice and warm smile."

Don Lewan, Universal Oil Products co. — "Be able to condense long letters, keep sealed lips about confidential matters of your organization." (B8

Arlington Man On Jet Flight

Charles F. Close of 304 Wilshire lane, Arlington Heights, was among the 109 passengers aboard a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner April 9 on the inaugural flight from O'Hare International Airport to Los Angeles.

Close is vice-president of the Arlington Seating co., 607 East Northwest highway.

The 550 mile and hour jet established a new record of 3 hours and 54 minutes on the inaugural flight. Capt. R. F. Rowe of Kansas City, TWA's system director of flight training, said he encountered strong headwinds most of the way, reaching a maximum of more than 100 miles an hour.

THE OLD RECORD was set in October of 1954 by a piston-engine plane which made the flight in 5 hours and 7 minutes. TWA's jet schedules on the Chicago-Los mangeles route are 4 hours westbound and 3½ hours eastbound.

Close described the trip as "the smoothest . . . I have ever made." He said he would contact schools on the west coast about the purchase of his company's school furniture.

Capt. Rowe said the 707 cruised most of the way at 31,000 feet. It reached that altitude within 24 minutes after taking off from O'Hare. The jet was over Des Moines in 48 minutes, Denver in 2 hours and 18 minutes and Las Vegas an hour later. The pilot pointed out the Grand Canyon to the 109 passengers, including Charles S. Thomas, TWA president, just 3 hours after leaving

Dinner Sparks YMCA Fund Drive

A total of more than $42,000 was pledged to the Northwest Suburban YMCA building fund at an unusual dinner meeting held recently in Mt. Prospect.

At the invitation of Herbert Bruning, president of Charles Bruning Company, Inc., who has been active in YMCA work, 130 people gathered in the Bruning company cafeteria for a special program devoted to YMCA activities.

DETAILS OF construction plans were revealed to an enthusiastic audience by a distinguished panel of speakers, including Bruning; Thomas N. Blake, chairman of the board of directors, Northwest Suburban YMCA and president of Littelfuse, Inc.; Charles McClellan, executive secretary, Northwest Suburban YMCA; and Stanley C. Amren, vice president-manufacturing Charles Bruning Company, Inc., who served as master of ceremonies.

According to Amren, ground breaking ceremonies for the new YMCA building will be held on May 17. Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church will be on hand as guest of honor and will be the principal speaker.

The new two-story and basement structure, will be located at the intersection of Northwest hwy. and Cambridge, between Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines. Once completed, it will provide much needed recreational and athletic facilities to the rapidly growing northwest suburban area.

AMONG SPECIAL features will be a 60 x 84 foot gymnasium; a large L-shaped swimming pool; a children's spray pool; a club room; handicraft roms; golf, rifle and archery ranges; handball and squash courts; exclub room; handicraft rooms; a sundeck; a steam room; and kitchen facilities.

Highlights of the dinner meeting were a discussion of teenage activities at the YMCA and a demonstration and explanation of the Y-Indian Guides' program for dads and lads.

Sponsors of the gathering were gratified by the financial aid pledges, and anticipate that an additional sum of $150,000 required will be raised soon. (B8

Sunday Closing Bill Is 'Buried' in Committee

by REP. BERNARD M. PESKIN

The Sunday closing bill was sent to a subcommittee of the House labor and industry committee last week, and will probably stay there for the rest of this session. Good riddance!

I don't know of any single measure that has come before this legislature, either at the last session or this one, which is a greater infringement on private rights than this bill. It is private interest legislation and nothing more.

TWO YEARS ago, the Sunday closing bill was introduced with the active backing of the automotive Trades industry and was aimed at closing down one large auto dealer who had captured a large portion of the new and used car market. They were joined by a segment of the retail furniture and appliance trade who wanted to close down one certain appliance dealer who does a tremendous Sunday business. It is significant to note that no other retail industry was particularly interested in this law and all of the organized activity behind the bill was in these two fields.

Unfortunately, these lobbying groups were joined by certain church groups who pressed for its passage on the grounds that Sunday should be set aside as a religious holiday and permit everyone to spend the day with his family in church. So what was originally a private interest bill then became an object of crusade as a religious matter.

I believe firmly and positively in the absolute separation of church and state. No one — or no group — should be able to legislate as to religious holidays and no one or no group should be permitted to tell an individual when he should do business. If any person or group of persons looks with disfavor on a store because it remains open for business on Sunday they can insure its closing — merely by not patronizing that store on Sunday.

THE BILL THAT was introduced at the last session passed both houses of the legislature, but was vetoed by the governor on constitutional grounds. This year's bill made an effort to overcome those objections by providing that an individual who observed a day other than Sunday as his day of worship, and closed on that day, could then remain open on Sunday.

To my mind this still does not cure the defects — I still violently protest the attempt to legislate religion.

It seems unfortunate to me that those church groups who have been pressing for passage of this bill should have let themselves be taken in and used on behalf of such private interest legislation. These same efforts, if channeled in the direction of good legislation which will serve the entire community, could insure the passage of many bills which now face rough going because of lack of public attention. I speak of such things as fair employment practices, compulsory auto insurance, the mental health bills, State Labor Relations laws, state aid for education, and many others. These are things which concern the welfare of the general public, and are not designed to serve just a few.

I don't mean to bring criticism on the heads of those who support the Sunday closing bill for religious reasons. I think they are well intentioned. But I don't hold with the theory of enforcing church attendance by means of legislation, nor do I subscribe to the theory that one must close his place of business in order to be a God-fearing man. Those who work on Sunday still have an opportunity to practice their religions, and the defeat of this bill signifies a victory for individual freedoms. This is as it should be.

Girl Scouts and Brownies in the area are happily welcoming spring with its opportunities to explore the awakening outdoors and to learn new camping skills. As the school year approaches an end Scouts are beginning to look forward to summer activities at the Northwest Cook county council Scout camps: Camp Pine, Camp Baden-Powell, Hickory Hill and our newest, Norwesco. Recruiters are now lining-up women to act as counselors at the day camps.

The Senior Scouts who have been chosen to attend the International Roundup in Colorado Springs in July are now engaged in an intensive training program which will continue until the girls leave for this gathering.

Arlington Heights

In Arlington Heights, Brownie troops 605 and 131 are busy with plans for the April 28 joint meeting. The meeting will be held at Dryden school, with first graders who will enter scouting next year as guests. The little girls will see examples of Brownie projects and will be entertained with games.

Rolling Meadows

A puppet show, "Hansel and Gretel," featuring puppets made by the members was presented on April 8 by Girl Scout troop 37 of Rolling Meadows. Families and friends of the girls were guests at the presentation held at the Community church.

Refreshments of lemonade and cookies were served after the show. Troop 37 is under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Zeller, Mrs. Perry Mann and Mrs. Stanley Emmer.

Hoffman

Fairview school in Hoffman Estates was the scene of another scout theatrical endeavor April 8. Troop 549 presented a one-act play entitled, "The Duchess Goes to a Ball." The play was written by Mrs. La Von Foarde and sets and costumes were created by the scouts.

This presentation proved to be an entertaining one for the audience and participating scouts.

Wheeling

The 25 members of Wheeling troop 531 enjoyed a cookout at Allison Woods April 4. The scouts built camp fires and prepared the meal of barbecue on a bun, mock angel cake and pop. After they had eaten and done the clean-up chores, the girls went on a short hike. The troop plans an overnight outing later in the year.

Wheeling troop 505, under the leadership of Mrs. R. Drinkwater has been busy completing the many projects needed before flying up into the intermediate group. During Easter vacation the Old Peoples' Home in Des Plaines received 40 baskets donated by the troop. The scouts are currently working on Mother's day projects and plan to have a cookout in the near future.

Palatine

In Palatine, troop 430 under the leadership of Mrs. C. Van Boxtaele is working on the requirements for second class rank. The girls are also working on Mother's day gifts.

On April 6, troop 301, Palatine, held its Court of Awards at the home of Mrs. D. V. Sargol. In a campfire setting the scouts were awarded their Rambler, Tree, Sewing, Dabbler, Child Care, Horsewoman, Cook, Needlecraft and Homemaker badges. After the ceremony the girls and their parents were served refreshments.

Realtors Offer Air Service

Customers who purchase real estate from Carl M. Behrens and Associates can see their property from the air if they wish.

It's a new service offered by the Arlington Heights real estate firm which has offices at 205 S. State rd.

Behrens explained the service this way:

"Many people want to know the relationship of the property to schools, churches, business sections and the railroad. By taking them for a flight over Arlington Heights or the area in which they are interested, we have found they grasp the overall picture quicker."

BEHRENS AND ONE of his associates, Ken Andregg, do the flying themselves in an amphibian Behrens owns. The plane is based at Pal-Waukee airport.

Behrens and Andregg were pilots in World War II and have been active in private flying for years. (B8

Cub Scouts Set Cookout For Saturday

A dedicated but hardy group of early risers on Arlington Heights' south side will inaugurate their outdoor season this Saturday morning, April 25, when parents and youngsters of Cub Scout Pack 255 gather at Busse Forest Preserve for a breakfast cookout and other activities.

According to Cubmaster Stewart M. Grant, 701 S. Mitchell, Pack 255 will start preparing fires at 6:30 a.m. at Grove No. 5, with each den supervising its own cooking and clean-up.

CEREMONIES AND awards are scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m. winding up with games and contests including the traditional tug-of-war.

Grant announced that the Cub Pack would have openings for the fall season for boys 8-years-old, and suggested that parents get in touch with him at CL 5-3828. Pack 255's "territory" is the south side of Arlington Heights between State and Ridge rds. (A

Virginia Terrace News

An unexpected vacation was in order for Gianna, who accompanied her husband, Gordon Riefstahl, 1224 N. Race, on a business trip to New York. The Riefstahls took the new jet flight there, and although Gordon worked by day, and Gianna took in the sights, they had the evenings to themselves and enjoyed dining and dancing at famous night clubs and hotels, among which was the Roosevelt hotel, where Guy Lombardo's show is televised.

One of the highlights of their trip was attending a cocktail party at the home of artist Norman Rockwell, at which there were many well known authors, artists and television personalities. While Gianna and Gordon were away, their children, Linda, Jan and Robert, were well taken care of by Gianna's sister, Mrs. Lillian De Palma, who is visiting here while awaiting the arrival of her husband and son from their home in Italy.

AMONG THE new residents in the Terrace is Suzanne Marie, daughter of Jane and Donald Von Ebers, 1410 N. Illinois, who was born in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Suzanne, who weighed 7 pounds, has two brothers, Steve and Don, who were well taken care of this past week by their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clara Von Ebers, Evanston, is also proud of her son's family.

Audrey and Howard Miller, 1222 N. Illinois, entertained playmates of their daughter, Laura, at an afternoon party last Saturday in honor of her sixth birthe the birthday cake, which was entirely of the circus mood, even the birthdaycake, which was enjoyed by Janae and Greg Schafer, Robert and Paula Twilling, Gordon Heise, Mark Drews, John Patrick Noon, Michael Capraro, Sue Anne Herbert and her sister, Wendy. After games, for which prizes were awarded, the children enjoyed the cake and ice cream, and each was bestowed a favor to take home.

It pays to let your husband have a bowling night, as evidenced by the wives of several men in the Terrace, for last Saturday night they received their reward. Helen and Virgil Marienau, LaRue and Andrew Reed, Adelaide and John Fairfield and Shirlee and Frank Pircher, together with three other couples, enjoyed dinner at a restaurant in Algonquin and then returned to Old Orchard country club for a pleasant evening of dancing and fun.

CASSIE, daughter of Lorraine and Ray Kunstman, 1309 N. Chicago, who was 14 last Thursday, celebrated her birthday for two days. Friday evening the Glenn Andersons, Northbrook, treated Cassie and girl friend, Peggy Kuhlman, to dinner at Gus Allgauer's restaurant in downtown Chicago, after which they went to the movie, "The Shaggy Dog." Peggy then returned home with Cassie to remain as an overnight guest.

Saturday the Kunstmans entertained friends of their daughter at a late afternoon party, which her sister, Rae, Judy Whipple, Marcia Cech, Jean Guderly, Ann Schmidt and Robert Frohn attended. The guests played games, participated in a scavenger hunt and danced, after which they enjoyed supper, which included the teen-agers favorite, "sloppy-joe-burgers."

The family enjoyed a private party in the evening, when Cassie's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Schlicht, Chicago, joined them for birthday cake and ice cream.

Scott, son of Carol and Bill Narup, 1207 N. Race, celebrated his third birthday last Saturday at a luncheon party to which Michael McGuire, Jim Lussier, Brad Crouch, Barrington, and his sister, Cathy, were invited.

ELLEN AND Bob Wiley, 1329 N. Race, presented their three children, Mary Anne, Susan and Michael, with a new sister, Patricia Lynn, who weighed 7 pounds in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. Preparing the children for the baby's homecoming last week was Bob's mother, Mrs. Ann Wiley, Elmhurst. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Paris.

Maisie Sikorske, 1231 N. Race, entertained the members of one of the local birthday clubs at her home April 21 in honor of Pat Kieffer. Mary Lou Crouch, the club's newest member, Pauline Noerenberg, Dorothy Ballard, Isabel Nottoli and Marga Wilmot were pleased that Pat's mother, Mrs. Carl Pohland, visiting from her home in Sheboygan, Wis., could be in on the birthday celebration, which included cocktails, lunch, card playing and the presentation of a gift to Pat in rememberance of her day.

The Don Raymond family, 1337 N. Race, is celebrating the third birthday of their son, David, today at a family dinner party. Included were Steve, Michael and Jimmy, who also enjoyed their brother's birthday cake and ice cream, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. H. B. Raymond, Palatine.

An after-school party was the order of the day for David, son of Betty and Ed Cech, 1402 N. Chicago, last Friday, in honor of his ninth birthday. Enjoying the games, and birthday cake and ice cream were Whitney Kellogg, Larry Larson, Bob Gunnison, George Herbert, Jim Gumz, Joe and Dennis Herrity, Don Von Ebers, Tom Fitzpatrick, Wayne Hammond, Jeff and Tom Nelson and Jim Garrison. Each received a take home favor.

APRIL 15 is the birthday of Robert Stewart, who weighed 5 pounds 5 ounces when he joined the Walton Alexander household, 1346 N. Illinois. Pleased to have another member of the family are his brother, Ross Geoffrey, and sister, Lucille Grace, as well as his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chaplin, Sharon, Mass.

Hal and Herb Trowe, 1240 N. Chicago, held an impromptu evening of fun and relaxation, to which they invited their neighbors, Doris and Arnold Silver and Dee and Al Perry, the occasion being their seventh wedding anniversary.

Wednesday the Trowes and their children, Brad, Martha, Margaret and Barbara, had as overnight guests Herb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trowe Sr., who visited here prior to their departure for Florida, where they have chosen to live now that Mr. Trowe has retired from business.

A circus theme was in evidence at the afternoon party given Kathy Lynn by her parents, Lynn and Alan Jeffrey, 1236 N. Race, last Saturday in honor on her fourth birthday. Her sister, Susan Lynn, Julie Trees, Susan and Tommy Noerenberg, George Wilmot, Linda and Jan Riefstahl, Tommy and Dick Lyon and Paul Hacker played games, viewed cartoons, ate birthday cake and ice cream and were the recipients of party favors.

LAST THURSDAY marked the first birthday of Joseph, son of Kay and Don Jacobsen, 1210 N. Race, which was celebrated at a family dinner party. Appreciating the cleverness of their mother, Kay, who shaped the cake in the form of a Teddy Bear, were Joseph and his brothers, Bill, Jack and Jim, and sisters, Joan and Carol.

Virginia and Lincoln Dowell, 1243 N. Race, treated their daughter, Chris, and her schoolmate friend, Alana Southard, to dinner at the Ivanhoe, after which they enjoyed seeing the picture, "Gigi." To top off an exciting Saturday evening, the Dowells took the girls to the "top of the rock" at the Prudential building for a view of the city, all of which made Chris' 12th birthday one of the best.

Although her mother's birthday was Monday and her dad's was Tuesday, Marilyn's birthday was the one which took precedence in the Edwin Donath household, 1421 N. Chicago. Her parents, Joan and Ed, entertained their daughter's friends last Saturday at an afternoon party, at which Richard Sorensen, Scotty Martin, Bill Dean, Kenny Herman, Janet Fluhrer and sister, Linda, wished her a happy fourth birthday. The children played games, enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream and received favors.

SUNDAY the Donaths entertained Marilyn's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Winifred Fingel, Chicago, and uncles, Richard Donath and Alfred Donath, who was accompanied by his fiancee, Miss Mary Ann Campanella, all of Chicago.

Helping Debra, daughter of Mary and George Maybee, 1251 N. Wilke, celebrated her seventh birthday this past weekend were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kreuscher, and aunt, uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kreuscher, Janet and Steve, all of Kenosha, at a family dinner party. Debra's brother, Michael, and sister, Kathleen, were in attendance too.

Although cold weather prevented a planned barbecue out-of-doors, Betty and Bob Gumz, 1248 N. Chicago, did not postpone a Sunday evening supper party, to which they had invited Jerri and Bill Rix and their children, Jill and David, as well as Dee and Al Perry and children, Joey and Susan.

Jeanette Westmark, 1252 N. Chicago, and Hal Trowe, 1240 N. Chicago, co-hostessed a stork shower in the Westmark home last Wednesday for Dee Perry, 1256 N. Chicago, who, for once, was taken by complete surprise, expecting only an evening kaffee klatsch. The table was beautifully decorated. The centerpiece consisted of pink carnations and tiny pink and blue cradles, which served as nut cups.

Remembering Dee with everything a new baby could possibly need were Jeanette and Hal, Betty Gumz, Jerri Rix, Doris Silver, Laura Belle Wolf, Marvis Terry, Jackie Koenig, Pat Kieffer, Pauline Noerenberg and Lois Tillman and Dee's mother, Mrs. Armand J. Doyle, and sister, Miss Jacqueline Doyle, who were unable to attend because of living so great a distance. After playing games and the opening of gifts, the girls enjoyed a late buffet snack, which completed a memorable evening for this reporter.

ALL OVER EMBROIDERED SHEATH for every hour. Note how the two tones of Schiffli create a striking garlanded effect. Huge self bow at hip sets off slender lines dramatically. In Rosewood's Super Seaspray, embroidered lightweight rayon linen, washable, crease-resistant. Beige, pink or blue; 12 to 20. By Toni Todd.

A special warning is given to Wilke rd. residents, as they have several dogs running at large and the owners will be reported to the sheriff's police, VA 7-2144. One resident has lost four evergreens because of this situation.

Civic Group Moves for Incorporation

The Greenview Estates Civic association, composed of home owners in the eastern sector of Arlington Heights, has filed articles of incorporation and has applied for a charter.

Warren Petersen, chairman of the association's executive board, reported these steps at the group's mid-month meeting at the Lauterberg and Oehler Funeral Home.

IT WAS PROPOSED that meetings be held with civic groups in the village. This proposal was designed to encourage interest in village elections. The association also discussed the possibility of combining village elections as an economy measure.

In another action, the association discussed plans to set up recreation, social and youth activities committees. The plans for the first year include a picnic in July, a dance in September and Christmas party.

Junior Football Committee Meets

Arlington Gas Office To Close

The Northern Illinois Gas co. service office at 101 W. Campbell in Arlington Heights will be closed May 1.

M. L. Klump, district superintendent for the company, said a study of the store's traffic indicated the same service could be afforded by arranging a convenient bill-paying agency in Arlington Heights.

The Hagenbring's department store, located in the same building as the former service office, has been named as the authorized agency.

CUSTOMERS CAN transact business by telephone (CL 5-6020) or by stopping at any gas company office listed on the reverse side of the gas bills. Payments can also be made by mail.

Klump emphasized the company was not curtailing any of its essential operations here. Around-the-clock service still can be conveniently arranged by phone, he said. (A

A consistently high-earning investment which is free of loss of any kind because it is insured safe — that's what you get when you put funds in FIRST FEDERAL savings accounts. Each saver's account is insured to $10,000 by an agency of the U. S. government, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Your money here cannot possibly diminish or suffer from downward fluctuation. For every $1.00 you invest you can withdraw one hundred cents when you need it. In most cases you withdraw more, thanks to our high 3½% per annum dividend rate. You don't have to look anywhere but in your savings passbook to know what your savings amount to. You are not required to pay commissions on money in or money out.

Yes, insured savings here removes the uncertainty that is present in many other types of investments. Stop in our friendly office and you will see why FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS of DES PLAINES has been the first choice of the smart saver and has also been selected by businesses, clubs, pension funds, Union funds, Credit Unions, church building funds, etc.

If you are looking for a safe, sound, non-fluctuating and assuredly profitable investment, whether of your own funds or others with which you may be entrusted, you'll be smart to come to FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS of DES PLAINES.

Every time you increase your savings you help to check inflation!

Keefer's Pharmacy — MAY, 1959 — Prescription News

A Message from J. T. Keefer, "Your Pharmacist"

"DOOR-TO-DOOR PEDDLING OF DRUGS, VITAMINS AND OTHER MEDICINES will be outlawed by the New York City Board of Health" said Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, Commissioner of the Department of Health.

DR. KANDLE SAID: "Many door-to-door peddlers make wild, irresponsible and fraudulent claims about the diseases their products will prevent or cure. The courts have forbidden such claims, but the individual peddlers make such claims orally."

ANOTHER SOURCE OF GREAT DANGER IS THEIR SALE OF FOOD SUPPLEMENTS, most of which have little value. Because potent vitamins, which can accomplish much good, are regulated by law for sale in a pharmacy under professional supervision, many opportunists skirt the law by calling them foods. To do this the strength is so reduced that results are negligible. Yet, the prices they charge are usually much higher.

THERE IS NO REASON FOR ANYONE TO GAMBLE WITH THEIR HEALTH. Our desire to protect and keep our good professional reputation is your assurance that your health will always be our foremost consideration. The products we supply will always be dependable and fairly priced. In this competitive age, no one can sell for less and give equal value or quality.

BE SAFE. DEPEND ON YOUR PHYSICIAN TO TELL YOU WHAT MEDICINE TO TAKE AND ALWAYS GET IT FROM A PHARMACIST.

Golf Instruction Begins April 28

The arrival of spring has accounted for record numbers of aspiring golfers who have been registering for the course in golf instruction offered as a part of the adult education program of Arlington high school. The lessons are given on the driving range of Rob Roy Country Club in Prospect Heights.

Registrations for the course have been accepted at the same time as for other courses in the evening school, and only a very few openings remain in either section.

Classes are scheduled to meet for two hours each week for six weeks, beginning April 28 for the Tuesday class, and April 30 for the Thursday section.

Members of the class are asked to bring one club with them to the first meeting, preferably a driver. (ACM

County Court OKs Petition To Annex Sky Harbor Land

A petition which sought permission for the Northbrook village board of trustees to consider the annexation of Sky Harbor airport and Sportsmans golf course to Northbrook has been approved by Acting County Judge Charles I. Fleming.

About 550 acres, including vacant and improved subdivisions, would be annexed by Northbrook under terms of the petition which was submitted to the County court on March 23. Fifty six electors and property owners signed the petition.

Weller's subdivision was also included in the area covered by the petition. Neither the airport nor the golf course is contiguous to the village. However, other land included in the petition makes all parcels contiguous as is required in annexation cases.

THE POINT OF contact would be a corridor between Oak ave. and Keystone rd. from Pfingston rd. to 7th st.

All land involved in the annexation petition is in Northfield Township.

Two objections to certain portions of the area outlined in the petition were sustained by Judge Fleming. The objections were made by attorneys for the Chicago Title and Trust Co. which represents the trusts which own the 10 acres on the northeast and 20 acres on the southwest corners of the intersection of Landwehrs rd. and Walters ave.

Judge Fleming ruled that 175 feet of frontage on each side of sides of the intersection will be included in the land to be submitted for annexation.

He sustained the objection by the Chicago Title & Trust attorneys to eliminate the remainder of the 20 acre and 10 acre tracts on the corners of the intersection.

THE ANNEXATION proposal now goes to the Northbrook village board. If the board approves the annexation, it will be submitted to the voters of the suburb at a referendum election.

The petitioners were represented by attorney Joseph N. Skies of Grayslake. The objectors representing trusts held by the Chicago Title & Trust Co. was the law firm of Marovitz, Powell & Pizar of Chicago.

Air Filter Issue In Tax Law Suit

A Winnetka resident Monday sued the Internal Revenue District Director for refund of $6,338 in 1956 income taxes which represents a medical expense deduction on a $19,224 home air filtering system for his hay fever.

William P. White Jr., and his wife, Lillian C., of 950 Hill rd., Winnetka, allege no action has been taken on a refund claim filed July 14, 1958, for an overpayment due to an error in deducting the cost of the system in 1955 instead of 1956.

They seek the maximum $10,000 medical deduction on their $82,924 adjusted gross income, for the $19,224 expended on an Electro-static Air Filtering System.

THE IMPROVEMENT, their suit asserts, was "solely for the alleviation and mitigation of an existing physical ailment," consisting of "an annual recurring catarrhal infection of the air passages and eyes, sometimes known as hay fever, suffered severely by plaintiff William P. White Jr. and in varying degrees by his children."

If allowed the added $10,000 would make their total deductions $24,373, which after seven family exemptions totaling $4,200, would make the tax $23,842 instead of $28,181.

Since White had $10,200 in taxes withheld and paid on estimates $15,836 plus a final balance of $2,145, this would entitle him to a refund.

Pure Oil Breaks Ground For New Office Center

The Pure Oil company broke ground yesterday for its new general office building south of Palatine. Preparatory work on the 240-acre site at Meacham and Golf rds in Schaumburg township began earlier this month.

Basically, the building will be a one-story structure with a red brick and limestone exterior with a style reminiscent of Williamsburg. At the main entrance there will be a two-story section housing the executive offices on its second floor.

The construction schedule calls for completion of the building late next year, according to J. Porter Langfitt, executive vice president of Pure. The building will contain 250,000 square feet of floor space.

LANGFITT SAID the new building would provide "a well-planned facility designed to permit the conduct of the Company's business in a most efficient manner." He said that after extensive study Pure had selected the Palatine site "as an ideal location."

The site is in the center of a rapidly growing area and is readily accessible from the Northwest Tollway, which bounds the property on the north. There is a tollway interchange at Rohlwing rd. (route 53), the east boundary of the site. The Tollway and the Northwest expressway, scheduled to be completed before Pure's building, will provide convenient and rapid access residential areas of Chicago and ternational Airport and many reidential areas of Chicago and suburbs.

The 700-foot-long front of the building will face south toward Golf rd. The one-story office areas will surround four attractively landscaped courts of varying sizes.

Building design permits any wing to be expanded as the company's needs increase, thus making possible continuous operational efficiency.

THE 69-FOOT-WIDE interior sections of the building will be free of columns. The unobstructed floors and movable office partitions will permit flexibility of office layout and future rearrangements.

An employes' lounge, a cafeteria, and an auditorium are among the important facilities for employees included in the building. The cafeteria and auditorium are arranged so that they can be combined to provide extra capacity for special occasions.

Among the building's other features will be a two-story map room and specially designed areas housing an electronic computer and other data processing equipment.

Central air conditioning, heating and electrical power distribution are housed in a separate building connected with the main office by a tunnel. Subsidiary distribution stations in the main building will be in seven service penthouses.

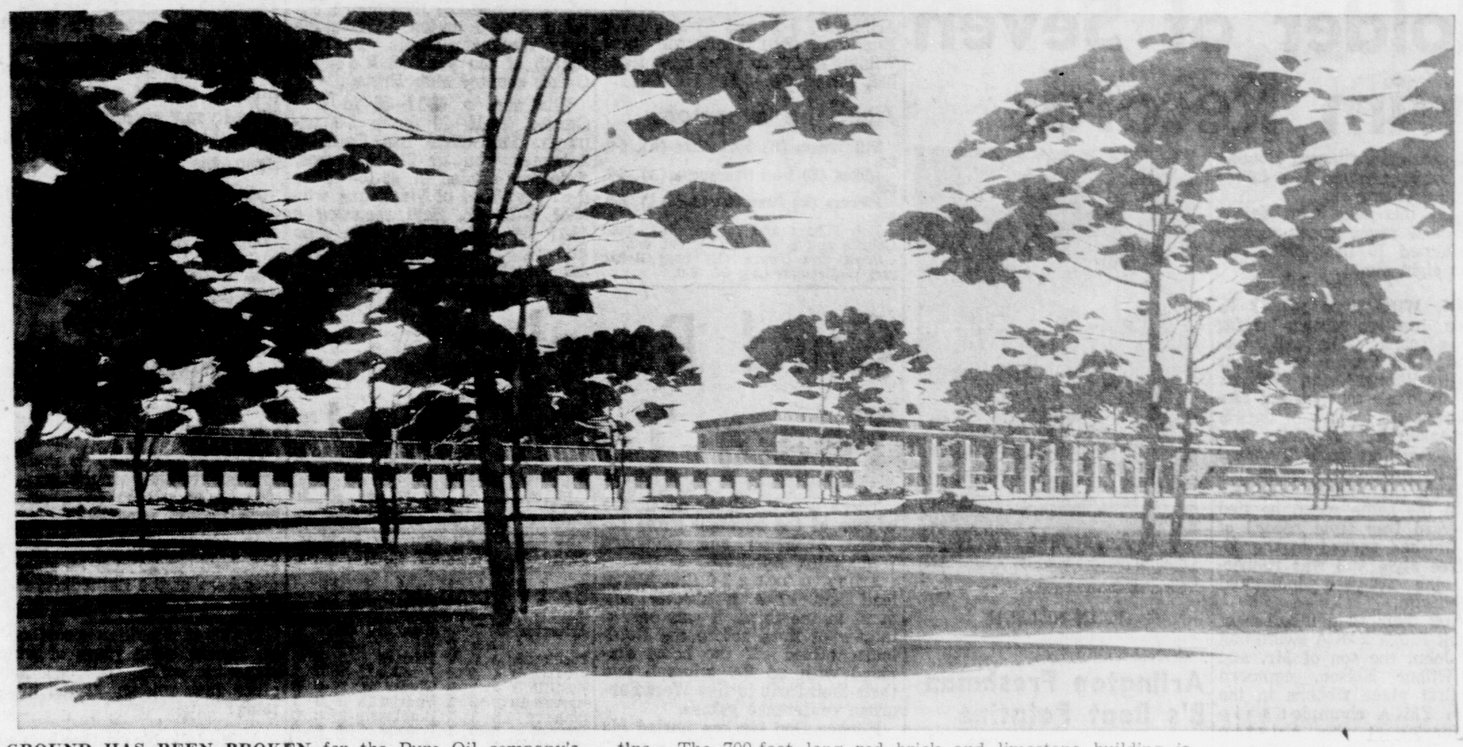
CIRCULAR PARKING lots, occupying nine acres, at the east and west ends of the building, will provide space for 1,000 cars. The unique circular arrangement is designed not only to be more attractive than the conventional arrangement, but also to shorten the average distance from a parked car to the building. There will be entrances both on Golf and Meacham rds.

The George A. Fuller Company is the general contractor.

Pure is celebrating its 45th day this month. The company moved its headquarters from Columbus, Ohio, to Chicago in 1926 and since that time has occupied a substantial portion of the Pure Oil Building at 35 E. Wacker dr.

Upon completion of the new building Pure plans to move its general office, which now has approximately 1,000 employes, many of whom live in northwest birthday this month. The company suburbs to the new location.

In the Chicago area, in addition to its general offices, Pure has its Research Center at Crystal Lake, a large refinery at Lemont, and an accounting center at Arlington Heights. (B8



GROUND HAS BEEN BROKEN for the Pure Oil company's new general office at Golf and Meacham roads, south of Palatine. The 700-foot long red brick and limestone building is scheduled for completion late in 1960.

Village Theatre Rings Up Curtain on Farce April 30

As busy as the proverbial beaver might well be the phrase used to describe the activities of many Village Theatre members as they prepare for their forthcoming production, "Mister Roberts," scheduled for presentation April 30, May 1 and 2.

Production manager, Lynn Lobenhoffer, has been fortunate in securing the services of two men from the Des Plaines Navy recruiting office as technical advisors for the play. GM 1 LeRoy Ward and EN 1 Joe Mohar, U.S. Navy recruiters, are proving themselves indispensible, as they round up such various items of Navy gear from stretchers to uniforms, without which, the play could not be produced.

THEIR EXPLANATION of things such as gun tubs, bitts, and king posts, together with pictures, has been a great help to Maurice Geye, set designer, as he and his crew of Tom Grisell, Charlie Linde, Al Wilcox, Richard Linnelle, Bill Rix and Al Estrella, have the job of turning a large quantity of lumber and plywood into something resembling parts of a U.S. Navy cargo ship.

Marge Knott, in charge of stage props and furniture, has a few small problems to be solved. Helping her scout around for souvenir pillows, cargo nets and palm trees (the latter of which is in the process of being made) are Marge Kamen, Sylvia Stoebler, Jean Ballard, Jerri Rix, Miriam Rietz, Irene Lee, Dru Linnelle and Joe Crittenden.

Securing hand props is Marcelle Wilcox's responsibility. What worries her and Norma Smith, Beverly Foote, Jean Novotney, Doris Mosley and Jean Dietz most, is the live goat that is to appear is each performance. They are trying to book the services of the goat who played in "Teahouse." He has theatrical experience.

Pat Paris and Carol McCann, co-heads of wardrobe, are also receiving able assistance from Navy men Ward and Mohar. Over twenty people have to be outfitted in dress uniforms, dungarees and other various items of Naval apparel which the two men have been "bumming" from the Glenview and Great Lakes training centers. Muriel Hanor, Scotty Schinke, Vesla McNerney, Marie Pridmore, Mary Marsh and Beverly Foote will have quite a time getting the right clothes to the right person during each performance.

Jim Smith and Ron Laskowski can be counted on to do their usual good job of lighting the stage and actors, while Carol Mooney, head of make-up, together with Ginny Bishop, Lee Suhr, Ann Hume, Mary Jayne and Dorothy Swoboda must, with the help of grease paint, turn ordinary civilians into seasoned sailors.

BEING IN CHARGE of sound means that "Red" Pownall has to build an inter-communication system like that of a cargo ship. By usinng a lot of scrap materials and ingenuity, he is progressing nicely at his task.

Painting sets is always fun, although a little bit messy, as Carol Frederick, Anita Wilkins, Pat Paris, Ann Hume, Carol McCann, Joan Grisell and Gladys Pownall are sure to agree come next Saturday, when all paint brushes will be wielded at a furious pace.

Setting the stage and changing scenes will keep Charlotte Shaughnessey, Jeanette Jenkins, Charlie Linde, and Bob Hutchinson busy, with Anita Wilkins taking charge.

Turning out soapsuds as special effects is the job of Marion Malcolmson and Beverly Foote. This should be easy for them, as both women, being housewives, have plenty of experience along this line.

HOUSE MANAGERS for the three evenings of the play are Dennis Malcolmson, Dick Mooney, Harriet Smith, Bob Thrailkill, Ed Hume and Al Estrella.

Carol Frederick, Marge Kamen, Bari O'Dea, Mary Estrella, Alice Linde, Bette Randolph, Alice Scheske, Chris Bauske, Joan Grisell, Jo Duro, Betty Brooks and Barbara Faun, as ushers, will assist theatre goers in finding their reserved seats.

Play promotion is being handled by Lee Suhr, publicity by Jerri Rix and box office by Joyce Wolter.

Don Baylor is directing the show with Randy Moses as his assistant and Kay Hawley as stage manager.

ALL THREE performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Prospect high school Little Theatre, 801 W. Foundry Rd., Mt. Prospect, Illinois. Tickets are available for the April 30 performance only and may be reserved by mailing a self addressed envelope and a check or money order to Seventh District Juniors, c/o Mrs. Robert McCullagh, 506 Go-Wando, Mt. Prospect, Illinois.

Persons interested in obtaining patron tickets for next seasons plays may make their reservations in the lobby at any performance. (B8

Mrs. Kephart Is Candidate For Award

Mrs. M. R. Kephart, 801 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, has been nominated by the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls as its candidate for Volunteer of the Year 1959. The annual Volunteer of the Year award program is sponsored by the State Street council in cooperation with the Volunteer Bureau of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago.

The program is held annually to recognize and honor outstanding volunteer welfare workers. Awards will be given at a luncheon Thursday, May 7, in the Grand Ballroom of the Palmer House.

MRS. M. R. KEPHART

AS VOLUNTEER day camp director for Arlington Heights district of the Camp Fire Girls, Mrs. Kephart planned, organized and executed a 3-day long camp program for 213 pre-school and school age children. With complete responsibility for the program, including the supervision of 59 counselors and two naturalists, Mrs. Kephart developed, planned and organized a balanced program with an original approach.

Her ability to work with people was evidenced by the good spirit that existed throughout the camp period, and the inspiration and encouragement she gave to the camp counselors. Mrs. Kephart also is a Camp Fire group leader, and is currently responsible for the entire camping program in Arlington Heights.

Area News In Brief

ROLLING MEADOWS—An emergency school bond referendum for $160,000 has been set by the Palatine-Rolling Meadows school district 15 for May 9. The money will be needed to supplement the $700,000 school bond issue authorized by district voters last summer for construction of the new Winston Park Junior high section and the new Cardinal dr. school in Rolling Meadows.

MOUNT PROSPECT—Clarence O. Schlaver, Arthur Gaw, and Parker Ekren were elected to village board of trustees and incumbent Charles Houchins was re-elected to park board of commissioners Tuesday. Voters approved retaining trees on Prospect ave. between Emerson and Pine sts. and continue parallel parking along both sides of a widened street.

ROLLING MEADOWS—John J. Woods won an overwhelming victory in Tuesday's mayoralty election. His closest rival was Ald. Abiather White, with the other candidates, Ald. Wing Groves and Lester Traub, trailing far behind. Wood's entire ticket won election except for city clerk and two aldermanic posts. Mrs. Gertrude Darnall was elected city clerk. More than 65 per cent of registered voters turned out to cast ballots for the 10 offices sought by 40 candidates.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—In a stormy village board session Monday night, trustees—in the face of more than 50 jeering home owners—over-rode Mayor Edward Carlisle's veto of plans for erection of additional efficiency apartments in the village.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—A clean sweep of three trusteeships and police magistrate was made by Caucus party candidates in Tuesday's election. Voters rejected two bond issues totalling $2,575,000 for purchase of Railway parks and expansion of the sewer system.

SCHAUMBURG CENTER—The United party, led by TV-recording star Bob Atcher, presidential candidate, swept the village election Tuesday, downing long-time township political leader Louis Redeker and his Home Rule party.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Three candidates out of a field of nine were elected Tuesday to the village board of trustees. Better Government League candidates James R. Young and Robert E. Hartshorn were voted into office along with an independent, Charles P. Smith, who edged out the third BGL candidate Charles J. Zettek Jr., by 19 votes. A total of 839 votes were cast from 1,281 registered voters.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Voters approved establishment of a village police and fire commission.

PALATINE—In a mild election upset, People's Economy party candidates won three seats on the village board. Voters approved a bond issue for a second fire station and additional fire equipment; they rejected the village's purchase of triangle property in downtown Palatine.

WHEELING—A giant $20 million land development project will get under way in Wheeling around mid-May. The development includes a shopping center, industrial park, and 704 homes.

WHEELING—The Associated party, with the support of Wheeling Township's Regular Democratic organization, swept all three village trustee posts in Tuesday's election.

Area Hams Join Red Cross; Ready Emergency Operations

A network of "ham" radio operators joined Red Cross this week in a joint project of emergency service.

To help counter the effects of a sudden natural or man-made disaster, the "ham" group will act as a communications link at the scene of a disaster, relaying vital information to Red Cross Chapter Headquarters, so that needed relief supplies and services may be rushed to the disaster location.

Ed Lindmeier, 149 W. Norman lane, Wheeling, and Ivan Novak, 151 S. Forest, Palatine, are two local amateur radio operators participating in the disaster plan with Red Cross. Both of these men have also volunteered to serve as disaster representatives for their communities; to give on-the-scene relief and rehabilitation aid to victims of fires, floods, tornadoes and other disasters.

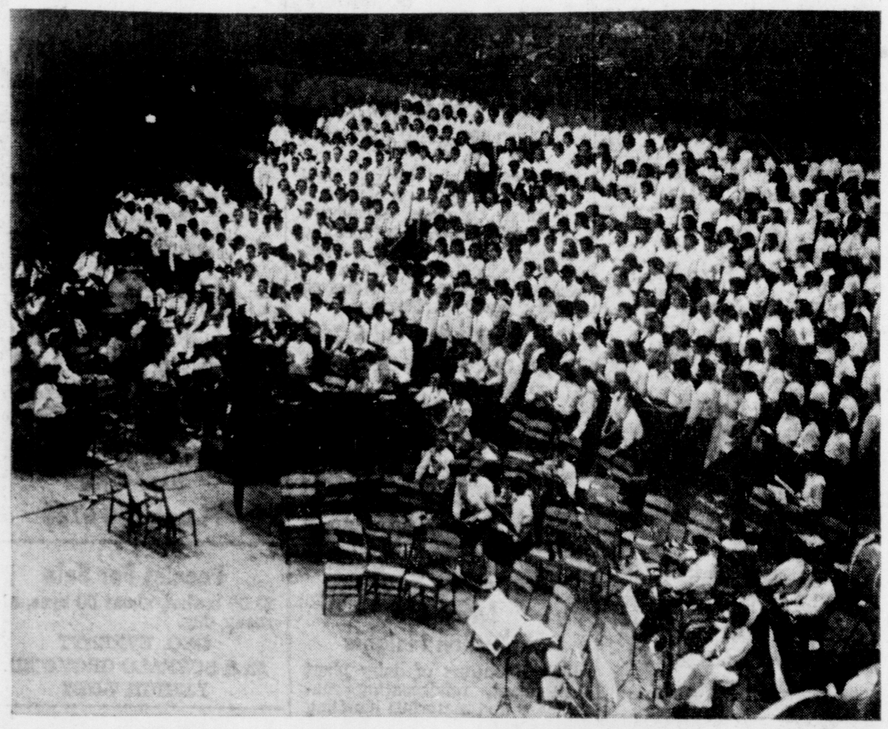
THEIR SPECIAL talents will supplement the work of present disaster representatives for Red Cross: Troy D. Lee, Box 215, Wheeling; Don Foster, 16 N. Bothwell, Palatine; and Robert Hollinger, 3 N. Bothwell, Palatine.

The County Emergency Radio Network has devised its own system of alerts, through which each of the 42 amateur radio operators can be called into service in a few minutes.

Red Cross, which has been the official disaster relief agency of the United States government since 1881, recently met with members of the amateur radio network at Lombard Village Hall to work out formal details of the plan.

The "hams," who meet on the air each Friday night, cooperate with police and fire department officials in the area, and have mutual aid agreements with other Illinois and Wisconsin amateur radio groups. (B8



OVER 500 VOICES are raised in song by the Arlington Area Elementary Music Festival's chorus. Students from Arlington Heights, Elk Grove, and Prospect Heights elementary schools participated in the festival last week at Arlington high school's gym.

CHECKING BUILDING PLANS as they near completion of a gun tub for the "Mister Roberts" set are construction crew men Bill Rix, Charles Linde and Maurice Geye. Village Theatre's final production of the 1958-59 season is April 30, May 1 and 2.

THE FIRST INDIAN PRINCESS club formed by Northwest Suburban YMCA is having the time of its life planning its Penny Toss booth for "Karnival Kapers" which the local 'Y' is sponsoring Saturday evening for its world service pledge. Ten organized groups of Northwest Suburban YMCA will conduct the carnival from 7 to 10 p. m. in Main Township high school girls gym, and all families of the northwest suburbs are invited to join in the fun. There will be booths with games of skill and games of chance, and refreshments will be available.

Members of the "White Cluod" Indian Princess club of Elk Grove Village shown above are, left to right, Mary Lynn Fyfe, Christine Hammerstrom, Claudia Kosick and Susan Weadley. This club is for girls 7 to 9 years of age, and its 17 members meet weekly in Rupley school under YMCA sponsorship. Elk Grove Village also has a YMCA Little Women's club for girls 10 to 12 years of age.

SHERIFF FRANK SAIN beams approval as Jeffrey, 3-year-old youngster from Croation Children's Home in Des Plaines peers down tuba of Simeon Alcantara, 17, of Maryville academy. This was part of Sheriff Sain's first izing in Cook county. The tryouts were held April 19 at the Croation Home.

GRIMACING WITH PAIN, Judy Robinson, 17, of Chicago is assisted by patrolmen while awaiting an ambulance. She and Linda L. Smietanka, 17, of Golf were injured in an accident Monday at Lake and Greenwood sts. at the entrance to Glenview Naval Air Station. They were rushed to Resurrection hospital.

10-Year-Old Boy Holder of Seven Swim Records

A 10-year-old Arlington Heights boy is being groomed as a future swimming champion.

Already this year John Nelson has broken seven meet records and claimed 10 first place ribbons in eight meets.

JOHN, WHO lives at 409 N. Douglas, has set records as far away as Toledo, Ohio, Indianapolis, Ind., and Peoria as well as in nearby Wilmette and Chicago.

One of John's most prized records is the :16.4 mark in the 25-yard backstroke set while winning the event at the 11th annual Glass City invitational swimming and diving championships in Toledo. In the same meet, he tied the 25-yard free style record of :14.0, finished second in the 50-yard free style and was runner-up in the 100-yard individual medley swim.

A week later as a member of the Park Ridge YMCA swimming team, John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nelson, captured three first place ribbons in the Chicago YMCA championship preliminaries at the Austin YMCA. He broke the 20-yard freestyle record, swimming the distance in :11.1. John also set a 20-yard backstroke mark of :13.3 and won the 20-yard butterfly in :12.5.

IN THE YMCA finals, John broke his own backstroke record, swimming the distance in :13.2 and finished third in the free-style.

Despite being sick all week, early this month Nelson placed second in the 25-yard backstroke and third in the 25-yard free-style in the state YMCA finals at Peoria. He had bettered both winning times before his illness.

Earlier in the year, John set a meet record of :28.8 in the 40-yard backstroke in the Chicago Park district's sixth annual La Follette park age group invitational. He also won the 20-yard butterfly and was third in the 40-yard free-style event.

JOHN PROVED the backstroke was his specialty, winning in 50 yards in record time of :35 7 at the Riviera invitational at Indianapolis in February.

At the Boys Central AAU championships at Loyola academy in Wilmette the Arlington Heights youngster won the 50-yard backstroke, setting a new meet record of :37.3. He was second in the 50-yard free-style and runner-up in the 110 yard individual medley swim.

Though Arlington high school lacks a swimming pool, John still has several years to wait before the fourth grader becomes eligible.

Card Freshman Golf Team Tops Bulldogs

Paced by Ken Blix' 56 for 12 holes, Arlington's freshman golf team racked up an 8-1 triumph over Waukegan in its opening match of the year at Rolling Green country club Friday.

Blix shot a 42-14—56 to best Gordon, 52-15—70 for a 3-0 triumph. The other two Cardinal linksmen won by 2½-½ scores. Peterson carded a 49-15—65 to defeat Van of Waukegan who shot 52-15—67. Heyl recorded a 47-17—64 to beat Cizerle who had a 51-17—68 for the Bulldogs. All matches were 12 holes.

Card Baseball Team Tops Bards

There was no doubt about the winner of the baseball game between Arlington and Glenbard Wednesday, April 15.

Arlington took a 1-0 first inning lead and after a six-run outburst in the third, it was only a matter of time before the Cardinals walked off the home diamond with an 8-0 triumph and their theird win in five West Suburban conference games.

Pitcher Don Gerken hurled his second consecutive three-hitter while limiting the Bards to three singles.

An error by losing pitcher Teun Schoolwerth opened the door in the first inning for one Arlington run. Safe on the bobble was Tom Broderick, Cardinal shortstop. Broderick stole second and on a miscue by Moeller went to third from where he scored on Lee Magnuson's single.

The third was the inning. Gerken started his own cause by singling. After Fred Boedeker fanned, Broderick singled Gerken to third. Magnuson walked to load the bases.

Jim Blake's clutch single also scored a pair. After pinch hitter Chuck Staral walked to fill the bases again, Catcher Al Sander tripled home the last three runs. Magnuson tallied the Cards' final run in the fifth when he was safe on an error by Moeller, home on Art Tews' single.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it correct for an employer to introduce his secretary to a caller by saying, "Mr. Adams, this is my secretary, Miss Ryan," or does he give the woman's name first, as, "Miss Ryan, ths is Mr. Adams"?

A. In the business world, the most important person is mentioned first, regardless of sex.

Q. Are desserts always eaten with the fork?

A. This depends upon the dessert. Some are just too soft to be handled with the fork. A good rule to follow is to use your fork whenever possible — but use good judgment, too.

Q. Is it necessary to mail engraved wedding invitations to close friends who have already been invited verbally?

A. It is always correct to mail engraved invitations — even to members of the immediate families.

Q. What should a guest do if he knocks off a glass of water, spills his coffee, or has some other such mishap at the dinner table?

A. He tells his hostess how sorry he is, but lets her take care of the situation. She will do what she can to repair the damage and will probably conceal the soiled spot with a napkin.

Q. If a man and woman are walking together during a rain, and both have umbrellas, does each one use his own umbrella?

A. This usually proves awkward. It is much better if both walk under the man's larger umbrella.

Q. Is a bereaved person supposed to return all calls of condolence?

A. No; this is neither required nor expected.

Lessons In English

Entracte (the interval between two acts). Pronounce ahn-trahkt, accent first syllable.

Haydn (Austrian composer). Pronounce high-d'n, accent on first syllable.

OFTEN MISSPELLED

Tortuous (wisting; winding); only one "r," and not "torturous." Alienate, one "l"; alliance, two "l's." Funeral (the rites); funereal (appropriate to a funeral). Aggregate, observe the "gre"; aggravate, "gra." Erotic (amatory); erratic (wandering). Paradox, observe the "ra"; parody, "ro."

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Pleonasm; the use of more words than necessary, words whose omission leaves the idea intact. (Pronounce plee-oh-naz'm, accent first syllable). "That teacher seems addicted to pleonasm."

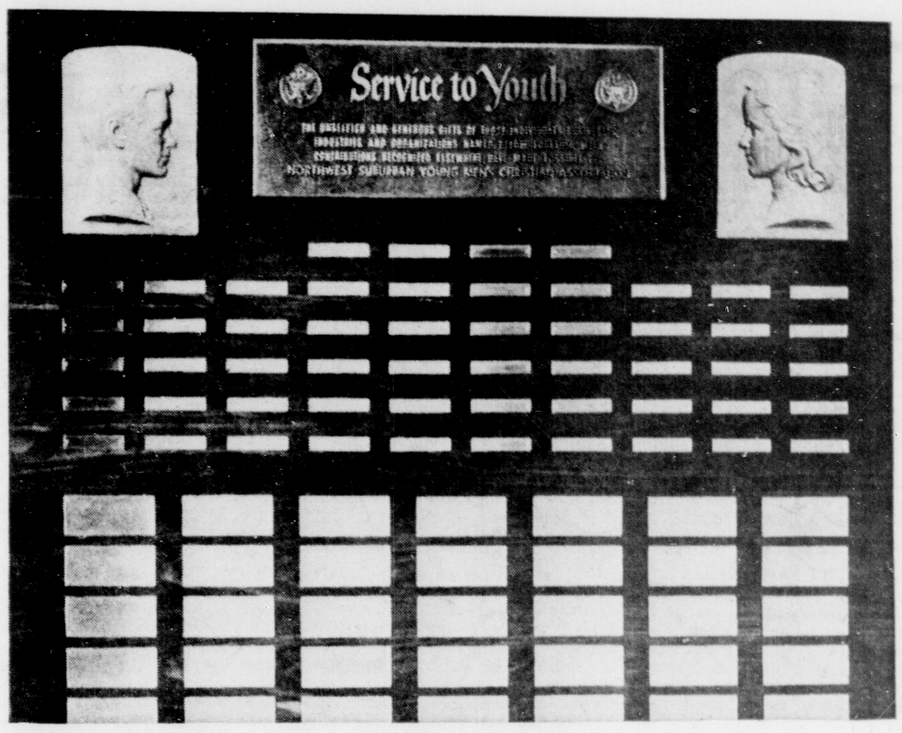
Indelicacy; that which is offensive to good manners; coarseness. "The indelicacy of his remarks embarrassed his listeners."

Imperiously; arrogantly; imperatively. "His voice rang imperiously through the hall."

Whimsical; full of whims; freakish; odd; queer; fantastic. "The farmer spoke to us in a whimsical manner."

Dispassionately; in a manner free from passion or feeling; calmly; impartially. "He regarded the scene impassionately."

Emendation; a critical improvement by alteration of a text, especially of literary and artistic work. (Pronounce eemen-day-shun, accent third syllable). "With careful emendations, the author brought his manuscript to perfection."



THE UNVEILING of this "Service to Youth" plaque by Thomas M. Blake, chairman of the board of directors of Northwest Suburban YMCA, was the highlight of a special gifts dinner which Herbert F. Bruning, president of Charles Bruning Co., Inc., gave recently for civic and industrial leaders of the northwest suburban area. The plaque will contain the names of those contributing $1,000 or more, pledged over a 4-year period, in the current 'Y' building drive and will be placed in the lobby of the new YMCA unit which will soon be a reality. Names of more than 70 individuals and business firms are ready to be engraved on this plaque. (B8

GETTING AS ASSIST from his family is Mark Heller as he prepares to break ground for his Studebaker auto sales building in Arlington Heights. Heller, in the automobile business in Chicago for 12 years, estimates he will open for business June 15. The agency, to be named "Mark Motors," will sell and service the Studebaker lark. A resident of Glencoe, Heller estimates the agency will employ seven or eight persons. Pictured are his wife, Peggy, and two children, Marka, 4, and Lawrence, 2. The building will be located a quarter mile west of the village limits on the north side of Northwest hwy.

R-B First Card Golf Victim

Arlington encountered little trouble in capturing its opening West Suburban golf match Tuesday against Riverside-Brookfield at Timber Trails country club.

The Cardinals won, 14½-½, for their fourth straight victory without loss. R-B's only half point came when Gary Verhoven tied Bob Sbarbaro on the outgoing nine. Both had 42's.

Dave Ebert recorded the best mark, a two over par 62 for 15 holes before his match was called. Tony Ricker had R-B's best round, a 69 for 15 holes, but he lost 3-0 since he was paired against Ebert.

Dwight Pate shot an 80 to win easily and Wally Borman had an 83 to also score a 3-0 verdict. Al Kruse had his poorest round of the season, shooting a 71 for 15 holes, but still managed to win over Pete Nutley who had a 79 for R-B.

R-B Routed

Kruse (A) 28-43—71 beat Nutley (RB), 3-0 (15 holes).
Ebert (A) 28-43—71 beat Ricker (RB) 29-40—69, 3-0, (15 holes).
Sbarbaro (A) 42-45—87 beat G. Verhoven (RB), 42-47—89, 2½-½.
Pate (A) 41-39—80 beat Hess (RB), 47-49—96, 3-0.
Borman (A) 44-39—83 beat Sandusky (RB), 50-50—100, 3-0.

Old Orchard Women's Golf Opens May 12

Tuesday May 12 will be the opening day for the Old Orchard Ladies golf league, President Jo Schroeder announced at the annual breakfast meeting of the league at Brandt's restaurant in Palatine April 14.

Play is scheduled to continue until Sept. 1. Tee-off time has been set for 8 to 8:45 a.m. each Tuesday.

The league will be limited to 60 women golfers and is on an individual match or flight play

There are a few openings for basis. There will be no teams. Golfers will compete in their flight for weekly and season prizes.

both regular and alternate golfers. To qualify as a regular, each woman must turn in three ninhole scores of 75 or less, atteted by a league member. It is preferred that the scores be on the three nines at Old Orchard.

Alternates need not qualify and do not compete for prizes. They play every week to improve their game and substitute when a vacancy occurs.

Women interested in joining the summer league may call Elsie Kurtz, handicap chairman at CLearbrook 3-2851, or Uriel Cook, co-handicap chairman, at CLearbrook 3-7199 for further information.

League officers are Jo Schroeder, president; Gloria Willie, vice president; Dot Warrington, treasurer; Georgia Peterson, secretary; Harriet Wilcox, rules chairman; and Helene Harper, social secretary.

Card Soph Net Team Loses, 3-2

After winning the first two singles matches, Arlington's frosh-soph tennis team dropped its final three matches to lose to Riverside-Brookfield, 3-2, in the opening West Suburban conference matches for both teams.

Bill Thompson had little trouble winning the No. 1 singles match, 6-1, 6-3, and Ron Sherburne rallied to win the final two sets to beat Eggleston of R-B.

Jerry Hawkins, after dropping the first set, won the second one, 6-2, but then lost the crucial third one, 6-0. Both doubles teams lost in straight sets.

Rubbed by R-B

Thompson (A) beat Balhatchet (R-B), 6-1, 6-3.
Sherburne (A) beat Eggleston (R-B), 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.
Strand (R-B) beat Hawkins (A), 6-4, 2-6, 6-0.
Sieberg and Ellison (R-B) beat Auer and Bohac (A), 6-4, 6-3.
Reid and Pons (R-B) beat Wollerman and Kirchoff (A), 7-5, 6-3.

Elgin Tennis Team Loses To Arlington

Arlington's tennis team continued to show improvement as it defeated Elgin, 50-, winning all matches in straight sets. The match was played in Monday's 35 degree temperature on the Cardinal courts.

The No. 2 doubles team had the closest match, 6-1, 6-4, but were never threatened.

Elgin Erased

Jim Erickson (A) beat Bob Miller (E), 6-1, 6-2.
Bob Inman (A) beat Lynn Brinkley (E), 6-1, 6-0.
Warren Myers (A) beat Chris Darling (E), 6-1, 6-1.
Tom Von Boeckmann and Steve Scheffer (A) beat John Ryerson and Bob Quayle (E), 6-2, 6-1.
Jay Wheelock and Bill Spomer (A) beat Bill Brown and John Bunge (E), 6-1, 6-4.

Card Golfers Drop Waukegan

Cold, wind and rain failed to halt Arlington's golf team Friday in its toughest match this season.

Evan so, the best Waukegan could do is score 4½ points in a 10-4½ Cardinal victory. The match was called at the end of 14 houes because of darkness and weather conditions on the Rolling Green countdy club course.

Al Kruse once again led Coach Ed Spacapan's golfers with a two over par performance for 14 holes. Bob Sbarbaro, shooting his best round of the season, was only three over for the route. Both men beat their Bulldog opponents, 3-0.

Dave Ebert was four over par at the end of 14 holes in winning, 2-1. Wally Borman's 65 was good for a tie with his opponent. Dwight Pate was only Cardinal on the losing end, dropping a 2-1 decision despite a three over par 39 on the outgoing nine.

Still a Breeze

Kruse (A) 37-21—58 beat Drobnick (W), 40-22—62, 3-0. (14 holes).
Ebert (A) 38-23—61 beat Sylvester (W), 42-21—63, 2-1 (14 holes).
Sbarbaro (A) 21-38—59 beat Grom (W) 25-42—67, 3-0 (14 holes).
Rause (W) 41-24—65 beat Pate (A) 39-27—66, 2-1 (14 holes).
Borman (A) 24-41—65 tied Miheve (W) 22-43—65, 1½-1½ (14 holes).

FROM RIDGE PARK

Bruce Kilbury left a chilly Arlington Heights Saturday for an even chillier Minneapolis, his first stop on a trip that will eventually take him to Alaska. He plans to spend some time in Montana visiting friends before he heads north to Canada and the Alcan hwy. to Alaska. This will be a long vacation for him, extending through the summer, after which he will be ready to do his stint in the service when he's called. Bruce's parents are the Winston Kilburys, 1011 N. Illinois.

Last week Lawrence Geisler, 816 N. Ridge, went to Paducah, Ky., with the 40 and 8 color guard for the American Legion convention. Back home, Mrs. Geisler was busy too. Thursday night she bowled with a group of friends from Northbrook and Friday nite she attended the concert at the high school, taking special pride in her two nieces who were in it. Sunday she took the children into Chicago to visit her folks, where Mr. Geisler picked her up on his way back from Kentucky. To round out a busy weekend, she attended a clothing demonstration party in Northbrook Monday evening at the home of a friend with whom she bowls.

FORMER Arlington Heighters, the Casey Gordons came up here in a whirlwind last Wednesday afternoon and left the same way Saturday. They spent Wednesday night with the Cass Nastals and Thursday and Friday nights with the Ed Bakowskis. In between, there were kaffee klatsches at Doris and Dot Friker's, so everyone who could had a chance for a visit with Florence.

Friday afternoon Florence and Claire went to the Milk Pail for lunch. The N. S. Cryers had put their bid in early to get them Friday evening for dinner, but they all complained the visit was far too short. Ronnie enjoyed a day at school with Wally Friker and Cathy had fun seeing Dorothy Bakowski and many of her friends again.

THIS WEEK seems quiet at the Jim Ronaynes, 1011 N. Kennicott, after a wedding anniversary and a birthday party last week.

Thursday Noreen was one and here to help her celebrate were Chris Gleason and Ken, Jean Kunberger, Chip and Beath, Madeline Kellar and Wayne, Mary Meade, Mary, Maggie and Tom, Norma Snap and Steve, Nan Stocking, Dorothy Cryer and Betty Dunn. They continued the celebration when the two sets of grandparents came for dinner Saturday evening.

To celebrate their ninth wedding anniversary last Thursday, Jim took the two girls to breakfast at the Milk Pail Sunday morning.

The Gene Barnes, 1016 N. Kaspar, are still talking about the two playoffs of the Chicago Blackhawks they saw at the Stadium recently. Avid hockey fans, they have even infected the girls with their enthusiasm for the game.

Last Thursday the N. S. Cryers had dinner at the Empire room of the Palmer house and saw the Maurice Chevalier show. After seeing this performer, they were convinced that the notices he has been getting in the papers are understatements.

JANET CHAPLIN, 4, daughter of the Robert Chaplins, 815 N. Fernandez, is back home recuperating from an abscess on her tonsil that kept her in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, for four days. She came home last Tuesday, a day before her fourth birthday, so the celebrations were on the quiet side.

There was a baby shower at the J. T. Garrisons, 716 N. Kaspar, Sunday for her cousin, Mrs. Andrea Diven of Chicago. Thirteen relatives and friends were there. Mrs. Garrison outdid herself with the centerpiece she made of a tree branch painted pink, from which were suspended by threat, eggshell cradles, cue tips, cotton balls, baby nursing bottles and diaper pins.

When the Robert A. Hildebrandts, 736 N. Patton, were invited to see the John Galandaks new recreation room Friday evening they were in for a pleasant surprise. Mr. Galandak had finished off the basement, even installing a hi-fi which the two couples enjoyed that evening. Later in the evening Mrs. Galandak served a buffet supper.

THE JOHN H. Hillebrands, 817 N. Patton, have been enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. C. J. Howell of Houston, Texas, who has been here about 10 days.

The confirmation class of the First Methodist church included many of the Ridge Park children. Among those confirmed last Sunday were Charles Van Duzer, Sandy Schultheis, Jane Huff, Lynn Buckley, Jack Trendel, Morrey Knutzen, Marsha Gray, Linda Vetter, Doug Gustason and Henry Wiegel III. Saturday Dr. Morris, Rev. Owens and Rev. and Mrs. Dotts took the group on a tour of Methodist institutions in the Chicago area.

The Edmund W. Mears, 1014 N. Patton, are happy to have his sister, Mrs. Mabel Farrow, back home after having undergone surgery in St. Francis hospital.

Mary Busse, daughter of the Earl J. Busses, 712 N. Kaspar, celebrated her 11th birthday in grand style last Thursday. Sixteen friends, many of them her roommates at Ridge school, came for refreshments, games and dancing in the basement. Sunday the family came for dinner and honored Mary again.

Sunday was an important day at the Donald Vogels, 734 N. Kaspar. Two-month-old Douglas was christened at St. John church. Afterward about 30 of the family gathered at the Vogel home for a buffet supper.

WHEN IT COMES to celebrating birthdays, Janice Dunn hit the jackpot when she was seven last Tuesday. The first celebration came the previous Monday, when she invited Patricia Gibbons, Carol Sorensen, Bonnie Kamin and Peggy Eeles for ice cream, cake and games. Tuesday evening her aunts and uncles coming out from Chicago to wish her well and Saturday many of her neighborhood friends came for another party. Chip Kunberger, Davie Whitfield, DeLynn Winkelman, Cheryl Moehle and Kenny Gleason enjoyed cake, ice cream and games.

The Dick Platts, 806 N. Kennicott, had a full weekend. Saturday evening they went into Park Ridge with the Roy Splitts to their Couples club. Sunday they attended a family dinner at Faith Lutheran church for the Couples club there. The Glenn Argusts also attended the dinner.

Condolences are extended to Norma and Al Snap, 1012 N. Kaspar, in the recent death of her grandmother.

FROM SHERWOOD

The J. M. Rankins, 1106 N. Harvard, are back from Dallas, where they left their car when they flew to Monterey, Mexico recently. They spent three weeks with friends in Monterey, during which time they went up into the mountains to Saltillo, where their friends are building a retirement home. From Saltillo they drove back to Monterey to catch their plane for the States. Mexico is not new to the Rankins; they have been vacationing there for several years.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Russell E. Smith, 1108 Watling, was hostess to Mrs. Robert Bliss, Mrs. H. M. Rutledge and Mrs. Theodore Samuelson at a scholarship benefit bridge at the Phi Kappa Sigma house, Northwestern university. Mrs. Smith's son, Roger, is a member of that fraternity. (A

Along the Camp Fire Trail

by Dorothy Schomburg CLearbrook 3-7017

1958—A Year to Grow On

Looking back to review a year that is past, while at the same time looking forward to the demands and hopes for the year ahead was within the scope of every adult Camp Fire member who attended the annual dinner meeting of the Chicago Area council of Camp Fire Girls Monday, April 13, at the Prudential Plaza.

Reports of committees and election of officers seemed to take on new significance in the "glowlight" beauty of the skyscraper's assembly hall. Re-elected to a second term as assistant treasurer of the council was Ralph Sandeen of Mt. Prospect, who also received a most appropriate honor, a plaque for his tireless and devoted service rendered to Camp Tiyalaka. W. T. Chester was also a recipient of a similar award.

Arligton Heights joined the volunteer staff by having A. B. Condon elected to the board of directors. Mr. Condon is credited with the successful Camp Fire wampum fund drive which he headed in Arlington in January.

ATTENDING FROM Arlington Heights were the Mesdames G. Beckman, R. Currier, P. Eriksen, F. Heiden, R. Hoppe, C. W. Johnson, M. R. Kephart, D. Knutsen, S. Luczak, R. Nicol, G. Oberlin, O. Oliveson, R. Rota and L. M. Schomburg. Mt. Prospect district was represented by Mesdames H. Busse, N. Dahlgren, F. Krempel, R. McMahon, W. Meyer, D. Morton, P. Notari, E. Weigt and Mr. Sandeen.

1958 saw the beginning of plans for the Golden Jubilee, aimed toward the culminating celebration throughout the nation in January, 1961. Groups throughout the council embarked on three projects for Camp Fire's 50th anniversary. First was a Tree Census and Planting, to begin the organization's national conservation project. Second was the earning of the Golden Jubilee charm bringing more girls and adults into the Camp Fire program. Third was the start of the "Gold Rush."

Petunia Pig is being fed daily as custodian of a fund for the local celebration of the Jubilee.

ONE OF CAMP Fire's objectives is to nurture initiative and self-reliance. Helping girls to plan, and guiding them in their celebration is one of the most important functions of the group leader. This is done in individual groups and by group representation in district girl-planning committees. At day camp planning sessions, representatives from various Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups meet to resolve problems and suggest ideas.

The Camp Tiyalaka Camper council involves a cross section of girls, and camp also provides an opportunity for this activity at the unit level. More than half of the girls in the council attended day camp, and more than 10 per cent attended Camp Tiyalaka. A family camp was initiated in 1958.

Girls also planned and carried out the camp reunion, prepared the camp bulletin, and gave a tea for those who had achieved the highest rank, that of torch bearer. More girls than ever before earned rank. A new project for the Horizon Club cabinet was the producing by an all-girl staff, of a new magazine, "Tribal Topics."

Forest Preserve Trip

One requirement for a certificate for a day camp counselor is attendance at one of the field trips for adults conducted by the forest preserve district. The north side field trip will be held Tuesday, April 28, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the River Trails Nature Center, Allison Woods, off Milwaukee ave. Persons wishing to attend this informative nature tour should notify their day camp director no later than Friday, April 24.

Notice shold also be given as to whether a ride is nedded, or if car space is available for others. Mt. Prospect day camp director are Mrs. R. Hjelm, Blue Bird chairman, CL 3-4614 and Mrs. H. Busse, Camp Fire chairman, CL 3-5119. Mrs. Fred Heiden, CL 5-3729 is day camp director for Arlington Heights.

Mount Prospect

Tree planting ceremonies will take place Saturday, April 25, at 1:30 p.m. in the following planting areas: Sunset Park, Fairview, N. Emerson and Lion's Park. Camp Fire Girls participating in this community service earn citizenship honor 510.

Arlington Heights

Honey Bears Blue Birds journeyed to the Chicago loop Monday, April 13, and were guests on TV's "Lunchtime Little Theatre." Accompanying the girls on the scenic bus trip were Mrs. R. Andersen, Mrs. A. B. Condon, Mrs. G. Landis and Mrs. I. L. McDougall. After the Blue Birds returned to Arlington Heights, they were treated to lunch at Mrs. Edwin Tierney's home where Mrs. Fredric Marks helped prepare the festive spread.

Elukocita Camp Fire Girls made Mother's day gifts at their April 16 meeting. Serving refreshments after the handicraft session were Chris Hansen and Karen Wulff. Sixth and Seventh grade girls will join Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds from Arlington Heights Saturday in special tree planting ceremonies in observance of Arbor day and Camp Fire's Golden Jubilee tree census and planting project.

MORE THAN 400 Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, leaders and fathers will participate in planting an approximate 400 silver maple trees and blue spruce evergreens in tree planting ceremonies at Pioneer Park, First Methodist church and hundreds of homes in Arlington's residential areas Saturday, April 25.

Those attending the 1:30 p.m. ceremony at the Methodist church will see Rev. Hughes B. Morris turn the first spade full of soil. Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of the Methodist faith will be on hand to finish the task and to help beautify the new church grounds. Before and after pictures will be taken to note the change and the girls will tenderly care for the trees in the years to come.

Participating in tree planting ceremonies at Pioneer Park on Saturday at 10 a.m. will be Mrs. Peter Eriksen's Wayakita Camp Fire Girls and Mrs. Robert Roth's Merry Blue Birds. The two groups will plant 25 silver maple trees. (B9

THURSDAY, APR. 23, 1959

Expand TB Research, Study Through Cooperative Plan

The scientific attack against tuberculosis will receive greater support and consequently added impetus through the recent action of three of the largest voluntary TB agencies in Illinois.

The three agencies — The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County, the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, and the Edward Sanatorium this week combined their programs of financial support to medical researchers in TB.

Through the new program more than $70,000 will be made available in grants to scientists throughout the state, according to Dr. Milan Novak, chairman of the medical advisory committee of The Tuberculosis Institute, and associate dean, Graduate College, University of Illinois College of Medicine.

"The new agreement is designed to give prospective researchers a sort of 'central agency' to which they may appeal for research support," said Dr. Novak. "It will eliminate the possibility of duplication in project aided by funds from the three agencies. However each agency will continue to allocate its own funds to the individual investigator."

THE TUBERCULOSIS Institute and the Illinois Tuberculosis Association have included medical research support in their programs for years. Their operating funds come from the annual Christmas Seal Sale. The Edward Sanatorium, whose physical assets were given to a new board of trustees for conversion to a general hospital in 1956, will grant to researchers the interest from its funds, which are in excess of $500,000.

John W. Freels, Edward Sanatorium board president, said, "Scientists involved in studies that must be carried on over a period of years now have greater assurance that grants will be forthcoming on a continuing basis. The greater sum now available plus the coordination which will prevent duplication, gives our combined programs more depth and flexibility than separate programs could offer.

"The discovery of antibiotics effective against the TB bacillus in the '40's has made possible revolutionary advances in treatment and control. We hope this unified program will result in research findings leading to final eradication of the disease."

Scientists seeking financial support for research projects in tuberculosis and pulmonary diseases are urged to address their requests to John E. Egdorf, executive director of The Tuberculosis Institute, 1412 W. Washington, Chicago. Egdorf's office will act as a clearing house for all such requests to the three agencies. (B8

Area Students Science Winners

Students at several elementary and high schools in the northwest suburban area were among the winners in the Junior Academy of Science Fair April 11 at Glenbrook high school.

There were 1,150 exhibits in the fair from 40 schools from northern Cook and Lake counties. Steven J. Kubisen, Glenbrook science instructor and fair director, estimated about 4,000 visitors during the one-day exhibition.

ARLINGTON high school students won 6 first place awards; Prospect high, 3; Prospect Heights elementary, 3; Salk junior high, Rolling Meadows, 3; Paddock and Oak St. junior high, both in Palatine, 1 each.

Main township high school was the top winner with 55 first place awards; Glenbrook was second with 38 and Niles township third with 29 first awards.

All first place winners are eligible to participate in the Illinois State Science Fair at the University of Illinois, Champaign, May 7, 8 and 9.

Kubisen noted that judging of entries was performed on one level so that the 7th graders from Salk, Paddock and Oak St. schools were competing with high school students.

THE WINNERS:

Arlington high—Susan Shrogren and Sylvia Pfeffer, botany; Marie Martin, physics; Alfred Jutzi and Clinton Bowman, physics; Tom Wade, physics; Robert Roosen; Kenton Knoeppel and James Brundberg, chemistry.

Prospect high school—James Spinello and Denis Daniels, zoology; Conrad Neumann, physics; Robert Miller, general science.

Salk—Nancy Bohac, chemistry; John Herro, physics; and Jay Lemke and Jay Hines, chemistry.

Paddock — William Krass, physics.

Prospect Heights elementary—Bob Bowker, biology; Mike Smith, Zoology; Merrykay Borman and Vivian Den Best, chemistry.

Lions Club Plans Benefit Auction

An Arlington Heights Lions club auction to benefit the community's blind has been tentatively scheduled for May 23.

The auction, to be held at Arlington Market, will feature a professional auctioneer.

Persons desiring to contribute clothing, furniture, or any article suitable for auction should contact Harold Best, CL 5-6128; Harold Hastings, CL 3-1787; Jim Nolan, CL 5-3978; Howard Buchholz, CL 3-0249. (A

Christian Church Plans April Potluck Supper

Fellowship and fun will predominate when members and friends of the Christian church of Arlington Heights (Disciples of Christ) gather for their April potluck supper to be held in the South church, Community Baptist, Mt. Prospect, at 5:15 p. Sunday, April 26. Until a building can be erected on their site at Oakton st. and Buffalo rd., the Christian church currently holds regular Sunday services in Miner Junior high school, Arlington Heights, while the monthly Fellowship Potlucks are held in the Baptist church, 105 South Emerson, Mt. Prospect.

At the conclusion of the supper, Dr. Orvis F. Jordan, interim pastor, will conduct a brief period of devotions. Following that, a very special program in the form of a three-act comdy will be presented by the music and drama departments of the Senior Women's club of Watseka. A cast of ten, along with their director and their prompter, will travel the hundred miles from Watseka to perform their successful play, "For Beauty's Sake." A free-will offering will be taken to cover expenses.

Guests will include relatives and friends of the Watseka cast who reside in this area and friends from the Waukegan Christian church. The committee in charge of the supper and program is Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pearce, Elk Grove Village, and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kugler, Roselle. (A13

Home Bureau Has Craft Day

The Palatine Home Bureau met last week for Craft day in the home of Mrs. Henry Berenz, 1995 W. Palatine rd. Members finished their metal craft, and the hostess served coffee and dessert at noon.

Thursday, April 30, the group will hold its potluck luncheon at noon in the home of Mrs. Heinz Breit, Frostrd., with Mrs. George Kuhlmann as assisting hostess. After luncheon the afternoon will be spent playing cards and games.

Those bringing guests are asked to call Mrs. Breit, FL 8-1764, or Mrs. Kuhlmann, FL 8-2443, to make arrangements. (AP

Spring Sports for Adults Get Under Way at YMCA

Men and women who are golf-minded at this time of the year are invited to join a golf instruction class which Northwest Suburban YMCA is conducting for six weeks at Rob Roy golf driving range on McDonald rd., Prospect Heights. This brush-up course begins Monday, April 27, at 7 p.m. and offers the finest instruction in grip, stance and swing from professionally trained instructors.

Practice on the golf course itself will follow later in the series of lessons. Those interested in joining the group are asked to call Mrs. Deyman at the 'Y' office, Va 4-4156.

A POPULAR spring and summer YMCA program just getting under way is softball, and all men in the area are welcome to join one of the leagues which play Tuesday evenings at Algonquin junior high school in Des Plaines.

There are two softball leagues, one for churches and one for industries in the northwest suburban area. Churches are invited to enter a team in the YMCA-church league which begins play May 19 and continues through August. Games start at 7 p.m. and are played in a double round robin season, with eight teams participating.

Rosters are unlimited; the only eligibility rule being that the minister of the church signs the completed roster. All managers and interested representatives will meet May 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the 'Y' office, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, to discuss the league budget, rules and administration.

INDUSTRIES OF this area are invited to enter teams in the YMCA-industrial softball league now being formed. Last year the Charles Bruning Co. of Mt. Prospect was league champion and will defend its title against all comers.

Games are played Tuesday evenings at 5:30 p.m. at Algonquin junior high school in Des Plaines and league play begins May 26. Six teams will be accepted on a first come first serve basis for this 16-inch league, and the only eligibility rule for players is that they must actually be on the company payroll.

All managers are invited to attend a meeting May 5 at 8:30 p.m. at the 'Y' office to discuss rule and regulations with Cliff Lothery, physical director of the 'Y'. Further information concerning either league may be obtained by calling Mr. Lothery at Va 4-4156. (B8

Stratton Signs Salt Creek Bill

Gov. Stratton on Tuesday approved Senate Bill 91 appropriating $1,202,000 for building the first of three stages of a plan for flood control on Salt Creek, including broadening and deepening, a emergency overflow channel near Brookfield Zoo, and replacing of some bridges.

Estimated cost of Stage I, the Brookfield Overflow Channel, is $331,000; Stage II, from the beginning to the mouth of Addison Creek, $315,500; and Stage III, from Addison Creek to Fullersburg Dam, $555,500.

Seven other stages will await added appropriations.

THE ACTION follows a recommendation made by the division of waterways late in 1958 to the governor. Salt Creek, draining 159 square miles within the Chicago metropolitan area, has had no prior flood control projects, it was pointed out.

In 1958, the Division of Waterways deepened and widened Addison Creek, a tributary of Salt Creek, for about 2,300 feet near Cermak road. In 1951 the department made a partial improvement from the mouth of Addison Creek to Lake street.

The measure, which becomes law July 1, 1959, was handled in the house by Rep. Elmer W. Conti of Elmwood Park and in the Senate was sponsored by Senators Sprague, Bidwill, O'Brien, O'Neill, Ozinga, Robertson, and Graham.

Arlington Greens

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Brown, 1146 N. Dryden ave., entertained a number of friends last week at a Saturday evening get-together for bridge. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Korff and Mr. and Mrs. David Lindsey.

Members of the Belmont ave. canasta club met last Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Swoboda, 1119 N. Belmont ave. Co-hostess Mrs. June Holst helped plan the farewell party for Kathy Harrison, former resident of the Greens, who will move to Florida shortly. Enjoying the get-together were Frances Brosseit, Anne McLean, Mary Dahl, Bette Bunnelle, Mimi Haugh and Evelyn Jahnke.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of 1134 N. Dryden ave. returned late last week from a 3-day trip to Cedar Rapids, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Davis' father, Henry L. Davis, who died after a month's illness. Daughter Linda remained at home, enjoying a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. William deWendt, of Evanston.

A 2-WEEK TRIP to Puerto Rico and nearby islands ended last week for Mr. and Mrs. Gary Waffle of 1154 N. Dryden ave. As a member of the Naval Reserve, it was training duty for Gary and a pleasant 10-day vacation for Jean, who along with eight other navy wives enjoyed sunning on the beach, sightseeing in San Juan and a shopping trip visit to St. Thomas in the nearby Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Henry Korff, 1179 N. Beverly lane, was hostess to members of her luncheon-bridge club last Thursday afternoon. Attending were Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mrs. Myron Hartley and Mrs. Julian Weislo of Mt. Prospect, Mrs. Richard DeMuesy of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Gene Caughlin, Mrs. Roy King and Mrs. Maurice Cooney of Arlington Heights.

Seven-year-old Wendy Hedberg of 1104 N. Pine ct. celebrated her birthday April 18 with a luncheon party for several classmates and neighborhood friends. Attending the "all-girl" affair were Marcy Vosburgh, Connie Heyer, Diane and Carol Staahl, Toni Bunnelle, Donna Rateike and Barbie Wotruba. Debbie Jahnke was unable to attend because of illness.

Last Saturday evening was square dance night for members of the club who meet once a month for an evening of fun, food and exercise. Host and hostess to their fellow do-si-do-ers were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson, 709 E. Olive st. Enjoying the evening of activity were Bill and Gert Miller, Bob and Lorraine Lantz, Bob and Elaine Bradshaw, Fred and Audrey Dargatz, Ray and Ruth Epsky, Ed and Ann Koren, Ken and Doris Jennings and John and Dotty Funk. Caller is Floyd Birt.

THE TWO-DAY LEGISLATIVE SCHOOL for members of the League of Women Voters provides opportunity to meet state legislators and discuss current problems in the legislature. Pictured here during one of the informal get-togethers are Senator John A. Graham (3rd district), Mrs. T. A. Copple of Palatine, Mrs. John W. Dennett, president of Palatine league, and Mrs. John Horton of Rolling Meadows.

POSING TOGETHER are area members of the League of Women Voters and area legislators: Mrs. John R. Vork of Arlington Heights, Mrs. T. A. Copple of Palatine, Mrs. B. L. Buxton of Palatine, Rep. Arthur Simmons of Skokie, Mrs. John Horton of Rolling Meadows, Rep. Bernard Peskin of Northbrook, State Sen. Lottie H. O'Neill, 41st district, and a League member for 25 years, Mrs. John W. Dennett of Palatine, and State Sen. John A. Graham, third district.

Dear Mama... Here's All About My Trip To Springfield

For the past six weeks, members of the League of Women Voters of Illinois have been attending two day legislative schools in Springfield. These workshops enable League members to personally meet their state representatives, to observe the House and Senate in action and to participate in a question and answer workshop at the conclusion of their visits to committee hearings, state offices, and their representatives.

Three members of the Arlington league, Mrs. R. B. Yadon, Mrs. John Vork, and Mrs. John Horton, attended one of the legislative schools and reported their reaction to the local membership at the annual meeting held recently at Old Orchard country club.

Their reports were in the form of "a letter to Mama," with all due apologies to a well known night-time TV comedian.

Dear Mama . . . (I call her that—because she was married to my father). Thought you'd like to hear about my recent trip to Springfield—Illinois that is. I went to a school for the League. Now don't write back and say you didn't know I was playing baseball . . . It's not the American or National League . . . it's the Women Voters' . . . you remember the bunch of girls grandma used to run around with . . . Carrie Chapman Catt, Susan B. Anthony. Well, anyway, two other Leaguers . . . no, not Little Leaguers, mama . . . that's your grandson's club . . . two other Leaguers, Marilyn Horton, Jay Vork and I left home at 6:15 a.m. We drove down in our white car . . . (Honestly, we only have one car, but I put it that way in case Mama wants to impress anyone . . . she's wintering in Arizona . . . and you know how mothers are comparison shoppers).

After driving about 100 miles, we stopped for breakfast. Can't remember the name of the town where we stopped, but it was a typical friendly Illinois village . . . and the food was good. Jay took over the driving and in no time at all we saw a sign "City Route." In about 20 minutes we were back on Highway 66 . . . wrong City . . . we had turned off at Lincoln, but about 30 minutes later we really arrived in Springfield. Our hotel rooms weren't ready, so we checked our luggage and trotted up to the statehouse, just a few blocks away. Found the league registration desk, then went up to the House gallery, after pushing through the coffee drinkers in the rotunda. Honestly, mama, I never saw so many employees drinking coffee or cokes. Don't know whether it was better for them to be outside their offices wasting our money . . . or inside, thinking up new ways to spend it.

We quickly spotted our representatives from the seating diagram we got at the registration desk . . . but trying to figure out what was going on was something else. First off, every desk has a microphone and so many people were standing and talking, it took a while before we could tell which one's jaws were in sync with the p.a. system. It took a while longer for us to find the place on the calendar to tell which bill he was debating. It was "An act to revise the law in relation to criminal jurisprudence." In the language of the taxpayer that means to stop the death penalty in Illinois for six years. The ones against the amendment told some pretty gruesome stories about murders and kidnappings . . . made me feel like I should switch the channel from "shock theatre," but the ones in favor of the bill kept explaining that fear of the death penalty didn't stop people from committing crimes. Someone got up and made a motion to table the amendment, but that didn't pass, so they'll talk about it again one of these days.

It was interesting to see the difference in ages of the representatives. A couple of young boys I thought were pages, finally sat down and later talked on bills, so I wasn't very good at telling who was who without a program. They say you can't do two things at once, but more people were reading newspapers or mail, and then when they called for a vote, they didn't hesitate to push the voting button on their desk . . . and that voting board. Mama, you'd never believe it unless you saw it. There was a board on each side of the chamber, about 10 feet high, with all the representatives' names listed in alphabetical order. When a vote was called, the representative would push a button on his desk—red for "no," green for "yes," and yellow for "present." The green or red would light up by his name. The yellow was just shown in the total. Then at the top, lights started running the totals from left to right. The figures kept changing during the rebuttal speeches and then when the speaker called for the tally the actual vote showed. It was just like watching the election returns on univac.

Once a nice young man from around Peoria got up to talk on a bill that he had introduced. He was SO proud, and he told the members it was his FIRST bill, and would they PLEASE vote for it. It was a supplemental appropriation for his little school district. And when the vote was called the whole board went RED. That meant "no," and Mama . . . I thought that poor man was going to faint . . . but just before he hit the floor . . . all the lights turned green . . . the members were just having their little joke with a freshman . . . but it sure gave him a scare.

The Senate wasn't in session while we were there. They said they were waiting for the House to catch up with them. We went in and sat in the Senate gallery for a few minutes. The chamber is much smaller, of course, and has wall to wall carpeting—even in the balcony. It looked more quiet and subdued, but I don't want to be quoted, until I see them in action. After the House had adjourned we walked over to the new state house office cafeteria for lunch. It was good food and sure beat Chicago prices.

That afternoon each of us chose a different hearing to attend. I chose the House revenue committee. Although they have been in session since January . . . it was their first committee meeting. The bill was House Bill 89 . . . about the services of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and furnishing copies of the Digest to the public. Right now the Digest is free to anyone who writes for a subscription. This bill asked for a $10 fee, except for one free copy to each Representative or Senator. Noticed in my recent issue of the Digest that the bill was amended to $5 during the second reading and passed the House that way. Now it's in the Senate and if it passes there, hope the League will add that $5 to next year's budget.

There were more league observers at the hearing than committee members . . . shows that league turns out when revenue is an item of concern. Since that was the only bill they had for discussion I caught up with Marilyn and Jay in the Senate judiciary hearing. That committee is made up of all the lawyers of the Senate and they are a very impressive group. A great many bills have to be studied there and all of the members seemed to be well informed. Senator Arrington of Evanston is a member of the committee and greeted us most cordially.

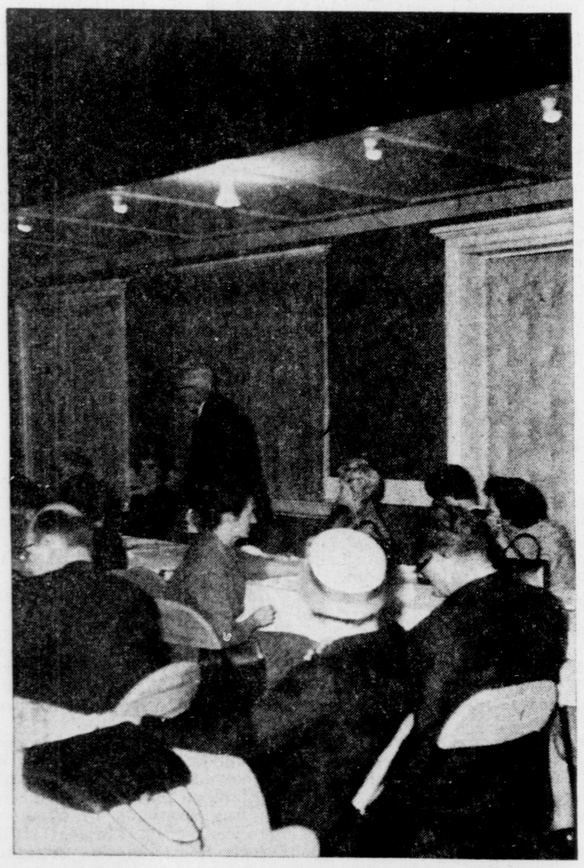
After there were no more hearings to go to, we walked back to the hotel and registered. A dinner was scheduled that evening at the Washington Park Pavilion. Members of the legislature from districts where leagues were present were our guests. After eating, all the guests were introduced and invited to tell us a few of their interests in legislation and answer some of our questions. There were about 15 representatives and six senators present.

We had been commissioned by our local paper to take some pictures . . . will send you a set. It was a wonderful idea, and since we had the only camera . . . were we popular! Really could have gone into the publicity business. Everyone was most cooperative and it was fun to get them in print.

The dinner was over about 9:30 and as we walked into the hotel we met Senator Graham of Barrington, and later Representative Peskin of Northbrook and visited again with them for a while.

The league workshop the next morning was for about an hour and was extremely interesting—hearing the reaction of the other girls to what we had seen and heard. After it was over we walked back to the state house for another look at the House. We wanted to stay for more of the hearings that afternoon . . . but our families were expecting us back home . . . and we were getting just a little homesick ourselves.

I'm sure you can tell we had a wonderful time and feel so much more informed of the activities in Springfield. We are awfully glad the Arlington Heights league let us represent them down there.



STATE SENATOR John A. Graham of Barrington addresses the dinner meeting for League of Women Voters at Springfield.

REGISTRATION is made by Mrs. John R. Vork of Arlington Heights and Mrs. John Horton of Rolling Meadows for the two-day legislative school in Springfield.

READY TO ENTER state capitol building are Mrs. John Horton of Rolling Meadows and Mrs. John Vork of Arlington Heights.

DISCUSSING CURRENT STATE PROBLEMS with Rep. John Carroll (sixth district) are Mrs. W. G. Bechtel of Park Ridge, Mrs. S. G. Jone of Park Ridge, and Mrs. John R. Vork of Arlington Heights. This was one of several sessions designed to acquaint participants in the league's legislative school with state legislators.

PAUSING IN FRONT of the state capitol building are Mrs. John R. Vork and Mrs. R. B. Yadon of Arlington Heights. They took part in the League of Women Voters legislative school in Springfield.

Palatine Agency Wins Prudential Citation

Sixty-four members of the Prudential Insurance company's Palatine district agency were presented with one of the company's prized President's citation at a special dinner held at Meo's Villa Venice April 9.

Located at 235 N. Northwest hwy., Palatine, the Palatine district won the citation through its outstanding record in customer service quality of business and volume of insurance sales during the past year.

Palatine ranked 44th among the 559 Prudential districts that competed for the awards in 1958. This was Palatine's first year of competition for such an award and an achievement of which the district is proud.

Official presentation was made to Manager Henry C. Bauer by director of agencies in the Mid-America home office, L. Lavern Wilkinson.

Storybook Park To Open April 25

Storybook park, where fairy tale characters come to life, is entering its second season of operation with new rides, new animals, and new exhibits.

The 30-acre family adventure park is located on Rte. 20 (Lake st.) at Medinah rd.

Storybook park will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on weekends from April 25 to June 6. Thereafter it will also be open from noon until 10 p.m. weekdays.

Last year's favorite characters will all be back in person including Mary and her Little Lamb, Little Red Riding Hood, Goldilocks, and Cinderella.

Three new bear cubs have been imported from Canada to delight children and adults with their antics. Other new animals include herds of young deer.

AN OLD-FASHIONED trolley car, modeled after the famed San Francisco cable cars, will run inside the park this year and, of course, the standard-gauge Lollipop train will again chug over 3,000 feet of track around the park.

Other new features include a Jolly Caterpillar ride, a miniature roller coaster for tots, a kiddie boat ride, and a helicopter.

OTHER FAMILIAR activities from last year include the antique autos, which are driven along an old-fashioned roadway and over a covered bridge; Little Boy Blue, with live sheep and cows, and the Three Little Pigs.

Cinderella is on hand in person to greet all children who visit Storybook Park and invite them for a ride in her coronation coach pulled by four vibrant ponies.

Free parking for 1,000 cars is available. There are two refreshment stands on the grounds for the convenience of those who want to make it an all-day outing.

Expansion Plans Outlined by Firm

HERE'S A VIEW OF THE NEW Filter-All plant and administration office opened this week at 830 Northwest highway, Palatine. The Electronic Water Purifier co., a subsidiary, plans to be producing 2,000 water conditioning units monthly by this year's end, Bernard R. Lewis, president said.

Plans for producing 2,000 water conditioning units monthly by the end of this year were revealed today by Filter-All corp., water conditioning company, which this week opened a new plant and administration office in Palatine.

The two-story, modern structure of 5,600 square feet is located at 830 Northwest highway, Quentin road, Palatine.

Bernard R. Lewis, Filter All president, said the building houses administrative and sales offices. also assembly, shipping and service facilities.

THIS IS THE SECOND expansion in less than a year for Filter-All, whose subsidiary, Electronic Water Purifier co., operates the world's first Water Conditioning Supermart at Lombard, with answers to all water problems under one roof.

Lewis, 46, of Lincolnwood, is a mechanical engineer who has been a businessman 30 year, the last five in water treatment. He said plans are under way to open six more Filter-All offices — at Chicago Heights, Aurora and Rockford, also near Valparaiso, Lafayette and South Bend, Ind.

The Palatine plant is managed by Harry Harrington of Mundelein. He has 12 years' experience in water conditioning. The new plant has a complete line of water conditioning equipment, including a commercial and industrial division. There also is a huge drive-in salt depot, cash-and-carry.

LEWIS SAID HE plans to expand the research and consumer survey operations conducted by Electronic Water Purifier Institute, an organization which evaluates new developments in water conditioning. The expansion will include areas within a radius of 100 miles of Chicago, instead of the present 50-mile limit.

He said anyone with a problem water can receive free analysis by mailing or bringing in a water sample to the Electronic Institute, 509 Roosevelt rd., Lombard. (BB

Dinosaur Star Attraction For Trade Fair in July

The dinosaur, a star attraction for millions of visitors at the Century of Progress Exposition in 1933 and 1934, is again expected to star on Chicago's lakefront this summer.

The 1959 version of the dinosaur — modeled after the huge pre-historic "terrible lizard" that became extinct 60 million years ago — will appear at Chicago's International Trade Fair July 3 through July 18 at Navy Pier in an exhibit by Sinclair Oil corporation.

The latest model of the dinosaur was unveiled recently by W. D. Cross Jr., central regional vice president of Sinclair Refining company, at the company's Chicago regional headquarters.

PRESENT WERE Paul W. Goodrich, President of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, and Thomas H. Coulter, the association's chief executive officer. The 1959 International Trade Fair is being sponsored by the association to coincide with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and to spearhead Chicago's emergence as a major world port.

Cross explained that Sinclair Oil is participating in the Chicago International Trade Fair because of the corporation's world wide interests, as represented either by direct operations or activities of its affiliates.

"We recognize that with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, plus the excellent rail, highway and air transportation facilities, Chicago and the middle west will become the unchallenged center of world trade," Cross said.

"We at Sinclair decided to feature the dinosaur at the 1959 International Trade Fair in Chicago not only because that is our trade mark, but also because of the popularity of our large display of life-size dinosaurs at the Century of Progress," he explained.

HE RECALLED that during 1933 alone — the first year of the Century of Progress Exposition — nearly 9 million persons visited Sinclair's dinosaur exhibit.

"It became a favorite rendezvous for fair visitors," Cross said, "and many persons will remember the popular phrase of fairgoers, 'Meet me at the Sinclair dinosaurs'."

Steiff, the famous German manufacturer of toys and stuffed animals, was commissionerd by Sinclair Oil to create a special dinosaur, or "Dino," for the 1959 Chicago International Trade Fair.

Four months later, Steiff delivered the dinosaur in Chicago in seven sections to be assembled. It is 12 feet long and 7 feet high, and weighs about 60 pounds.

Overall, this 1959 dinosaur is about one third the size of the larger "terrible lizards" that thrived for more than 100 million years during the Mesozoic era or the Age of the Reptiles.

New Rental Service Is Opened Here

When Douglas Cox purchased the local franchise for a new nationwide business, the United Rent-Alls, he found that in order to keep the standards of the famed rental company, that he must have a large stock of merchandise of all types for the renting public.

The new company, 700 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, specializes in renting things that the average person would not use enough to pay him to buy, yet would come in handy for him to have. For example a tent and a car top carrier, canvas covered.

Or, if one is having a party, it would not pay to buy a party set of matching crystal punch bowl, ladle and 24 cups when they can be rented. United Rent-alls also has banquet tables, folding chairs, bridge tables and a full line of china dishes and silverware.

FOR THE mechanical do-it-yourselfer, they rent all types of sanding equipment. They also rent tillers and power lawn mowers. For the lady of the house, they have such things as rug shampoo machines.

United Rent-Alls will deliver or pick up the materials rented for a small additional charge. Call Mrs. Jane Cox, CL 9-3350, for further information. (BB

Railway Law Suit Dropped

The Chicago and North Western railway has dropped its suit in U.S. District court to compel the City of Des Plaines to allow a piece of land formerly used for a lumber yard to have commercial zoning, near the railroad station.

Judge Walter J. LaBuy entered an order to "by agreement dismiss without prejudice and without costs."

Attorney John T. Burke, representing the city of Des Plaines, said this was equivalent to the city winning the case, since the railroad had declined to go to trial.

EARLIER, JUDGE LaBuy had ruled for the city by denying a motion for summary judgment last Spring after briefs had been filed by both sides.

The "without prejudice" portion of the order would make a later suit possible, but it is unlikely, Attorney Burke said.

Edward Warden and Robert W. Russell represented the railroad.

Klamm Honored For Safety Work

Edward R. Klamm, 1200 Woodford place, Arlington Heights, was honored at a banquet in the Leland hotel, Springfield, April 10 by the Illinois Driver Education association which presented him with a plaque for outstanding service in the development of high school driver education in Illinois.

Klamm, who is accident prevention director of the Allstate Insurance companies, Skokie, is a pioneer in the field of high school driver education in the state, having a record of continuous activity in this area from 1938 to the present.

WHILE A member of the Evanston police department in 1938, he experimented in driver training by conducting private classes, carrying out further studies at Evanston high school and Northwestern University's Traffic Institute.

After service during World War II in the U.S. Navy, Klamm conducted the first high school driver teacher training sessions in the state at the University of Illinois, Northwestern university, Bradley university, and Northern Illinois State Teachers college.

He also served as guest instructor in safety education and driver training at many of the state's colleges and universities. One of his outstanding achievements was the initiation of a driver education program, including pyscho-physical testing, for Chicago public high schools. In addition, he set up an adult driver education program at Chicago's Central YMCA.

KLAMM JOINED the Allstate Insurance companies in 1951 as accident prevention director and initiated the nationally-known Allstate Foundation grant program for high school driving instructors. Through these grants, high school driving instructors are enabled to study driver training techniques in colleges and universities throughout the country.

Klamm also was instrumental in obtaining insurance industry recognition of the value of high school driver training by playing an active role in the initiation of the trained driver discount plan which offers auto insurance premium discounts to young drivers who have successfully completed approved high school driver training programs. This discount plan was originated by Allstate in 1953 and later adopted by other insurance firms.

The Allstate executive has also been active in the legislative field, advising and encouraging the adoption of state legislation for support of the high school driver training program.

Give Movie Script To State Library

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier has received the shooting script of the motion picture, "Compulsion," which was based on the Loeb-Leopold thrill murder case in Chicago during the 1920's.

The script was presented by Richard D. Zanuck, producer of the movie and a son of the noted producer, Darryl F. Zanuck, to Carpentier in his capacity as state librarian for deposit in the Illinois State Library.

A preview showing of the movie was given Wednesday afternoon in the Capitol building for state officials and members of the General Assembly. (BB

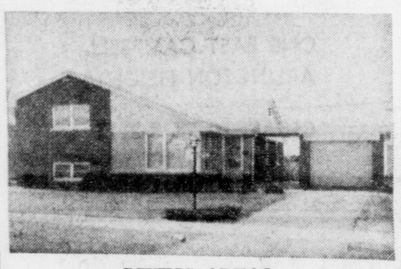
THREE BEDROOMS

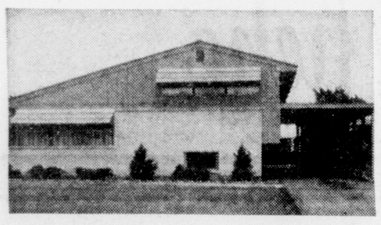
A GARDENER'S SHOWPLACE
This Contemporary has studio living-dining room overlooking garden. Just imagine what enjoyment the family living here could have in showing their garden under flood lights through the large picture windows. $28,900

QUALITY BUILT FACE BRICK
Exceptionally large living room plus a large paneled recreation room and 2 baths. Natural wood trim, a spacious kitchen to please mother, eating space; 90-ft. lot beautifully landscaped. $31,500

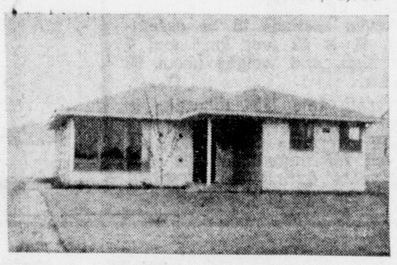
SPACIOUS?
You, too, will say I just didn't realize the size of this home and how much it offered in good living until I went into it. The basement has extra living quarters or a deluxe recreation room. ONLY $18,950



LIVING AREA?
Let's suppose you had a home with a living room 20x30 ft. Sounds mansion size and it is. This home doesn't have a room this size but the combined size of living room and family room is equal to it and will give you more good living. 2 full baths; gas heat. $29,900

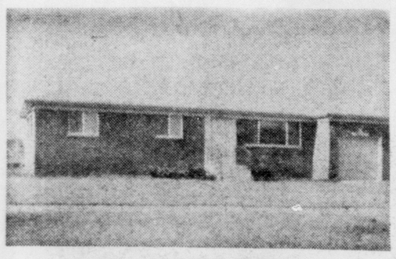


1800 SQUARE FEET
Living area. You won't have to take down a storm window here, they are all Thermopane. The plan is perfect with outside basement entrance where the visiting cowboys can use the 12x22 ft. family room and never go through the house. Kitchen has built-ins, all bedrooms twin size. Reduced to $25,900 and you may assume a 4½% G.I. thereby saving thousands of dollars in interest. By the way, you don't have to be a G.I. to assume a G.I. loan.



ROLLING MEADOWS
$1300 DOWN PAYMENT
If you are paying rent when you can buy a nice home like this and give yourself a nice increase in income, you just ought to reflect and consider. The principal is saved each month and the taxes and interest are tax deductions. Where else can you invest to better advantage than in real estate for inflation.

FOUR BEDROOMS



1540 SQUARE FEET
We believe this is the largest home in Hatlin area, yet only priced slightly above the price of 3-bedroom homes. Has 1½ baths, 1½-car garage, 107-ft. lot beautifully and professionally landscaped. Reduced from $27,500 to $24,-900.

STONEGATE—2½ BATHS
The children can walk to the new Windsor Grade and Miner Junior High schools from this attractive Colonial located in one of our best prestige areas. If your family has grown and you want a real family home, be sure to see this one today. ONLY $31,900

STONEGATE—100-FT. LOT, 2½ BATHS
15x21 ft. Thermopane window wall family room, recreation room and den. A kitchen to delight any housewife and mother — it has everything including built-in range and oven, built-in refrigerator and freezer, dishwasher and disposal; carpeting and drapes included. $47,950

Race Tracks Set For Civic Uses

From now on there will be no such thing as "off-season" for Arlington Park, Washington Park and Balmoral race-courses, even though the horses won't be running.

Under a new community-cooperation plan introduced by Arlington-Washington Executive Director Benjamin F. Lindheimer and Balmoral President Hubert E. Howard, the three tracks have already turned their facilities over to "off-season" special events ranging from a high school prom to a giant religious assembly of the Jehovah's Witnesses.

WITH WASHINGTON Park opening May 18 for the annual Balmoral spring meeting, activities at the Homewood track will be confined to autumn dates. Similarly, Arlington Park's opener on July 6 automatically confines the special events to spring and fall seasons.

"We want the communities in which we are located to feel that we are an integral part of their civic and industrial life," said a joint statement issued by the three tracks.

"Our plants are part of these communities, and we gladly put them at their disposal whenever it is physically possible."

Already this year Arlington Park has been the scene of one of the most unusual special events ever held at a race-track: The first annual Easter Sunrise Services on March 29. Several thousand worshippers braved freezing temperatures to attend the 6 a.m. ceremony.

Another rarity will occur on May 22, when Arlington Park's clubhouse will become the site of the Arlington Heights high school senior prom. The same afternoon, and through May 24, the entire plant will be turned over to the second annual Northwest Home and Garden show, sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Junior chamber of commerce.

From late April through October, the south edge of Arlington Park will be the home grounds of Little League baseball, launched last year to provide a spacious, safe area for hundreds of youngsters in the northwest suburban communities. The baseball facilities include a full-size diamond, bleachers and dugouts.

The other major community project scheduled for Arlington Park is the annual 4-H Club County Fair in September, while on July 4, two days before Arlington Park's racing season opens, the seventh Chicago Boys Club Summer Ball will be held at the famous Post and Paddock club. The Summer Ball is Chicago's annual social highlight, a charity dinner-dance for the benefit of the Boys Clubs.

Balmoral's plant in Crete will open its gates in August to the Jehovah's Witnesses annual assembly, as well as to the Crete raising picnic and other events.

Washington Park, on September 10 through the 13th, will be the scene of the first annual Homewood - Flosmoor Jaycees "Home-Arama" show.

Allison Is Bank Vice President

Harry B. Allison has been elected a vice president of Upper Avenue National bank, 919 N. Michigan ave., by action of the board of directors at their regular meeting April 16. Allison formerly was assistant vice president and manager of the commercial credit department of the LaSalle National Bank of Chicago.

A veteran of the navy, Allison attended the University of Illinois

He currently is secretary-treasurer of Robert Morris associates, an organization of credit men. Allison was born in Pontiac and has been associated with the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, Cal., for 11 years prior to coming to Chicago.

Hearings Set For Appeals On Rail Fare

Circuit Court Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski has set the afternoons of June 3, 4 and 5 for hearings on appeal of the Illinois Commerce Commission order that allowed the Chicago and North Western railway to hike fares, drop 22 "close-in" stations, and change its ticket structure.

The appeal will be made by the North Western commuters association, represented by attorney Harry R. Booth. That appeal will be joined by the city of Chicago.

THIS ELIMINATES the burden of the commuters filing a separate record of the ICC case with the court

The higher fares, involving a basic 24 per cent boost, and other changes have been in effect since December 1. (BB

ADMIRING THE AWARD OF MERIT presented to Paddock Publications, Inc. by the National Religious Publicity Council are Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann, awards committee chairman; Mrs. Stuart R. Station Wagon Saga Is May 'Suburbia Today' Feature

The first station wagon was a creaky, square box, drawn by one or two horses, and was called a "Depot Wagon." The latest station wagon is a model that sleeps four, has hot and cold running water, a sink, a stove, a shower, a boat—and they all work by pushing buttons.

What came in between? The May issue of "Suburbia Today" will take you through the years that saw this horse-drawn original become the sleek, efficient, all-purpose "domestic staff" of almost three million American families in "That Wonderful Wagon on Wheels"—the history of the station wagon. It is a timely story, too, since by May vacation time is upon us and station wagons are at their best on vacation.

MOTHERS DAY falls in May, too, but the mothers that we salute this month are not Mr. Whistler's frail stay-at-homes. The colorgravure supplement presents an article that discusses our more than six-million working mothers—the kind of jobs they are looking for (and finding, their reasons for working, and how they have managed successfully to combine a career with running a house and caring for a husband and children.

May is also the time for thinking about how we are going to use our leisure time during the busy summer months. "Suburbia Today" offers a piece by famed cartoonist Robert Osborn, who tells us how to employ our leisure to the best advantage. We also begin, about this time, to think longingly about the pool in the back yard. And if we haven't one, maybe this is the year to get one. Here is an article on pool-planning with a few simple rules of safety that could save your pool from being either a hazard or a pest.

Humor, in May, is provided by George Loukides, who in a poem of a few, well-chosen words, sums up the life of the average American males. Also, in his usual humorously biting style, Lew Schwartz gives us a look at perhaps this same average American male as seen by the people with whom he trades.

Our regular departments "What's New in Books, Movies and Records," and "Cross Country Classified" again this month review the latest in cultural and commercial opportunities. A random glance at "Books" discovers beatniks, Ernie Kovacs, and Boris Godounov; while a quick look at CCC shows a Kangaroo Kid, a Swoe, and a Tack-N-Taker.

The May issue of "Suburbia Today" will be distributed with all May 7 editions of Paddock Publications.

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "The members have approached the board of directors for better facilities." It is much better to say, "The members have petitioned (or, asked) the board of directors."

Do not say, "The arm of the coat is torn." Say, "the sleeve of the coat." "The boy put his arm into the sleeve of the coat."

In the sense of "get in touch with," contact is an overused colloquialism. It is much better to use such expressions as: Communicate with, write to, talk with, meet, telephone, call upon, inform.

Do not say, "I am not certain as that will help." Say, "I am not certain whether that will help."

Distinguish between adverse (opposed to; or, unfortunate) and averse (disliking, or unwilling). Thus: "The adverse criticism the play received made him averse to seeing it."

Do not say, "I cannot help but say that this is bad." Say, "I cannot help saying that this is bad."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Ravenous. Pronounce the first syllable to rhyme with "have," not with "rave."

Cambric. Pronounce kaim-brick, accent on first syllable.

Gendarme (French policeman). Pronounce zhahn-dahrm, accent second syllable.

Caprice. Pronounce kah-prees, accent on second syllable.

Goins Selected For Fellowship

Roland R. Goins, 626 Merle lane, Wheeling, has been selected as one of 55 teachers to receive a fellowship to attend the 1959 summer institute for high school teachers of science and mathematics at Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington. This is the second year Mr. Goins has received such a grant for summer study at IWU. The institute will run for eight weeks, June 15 to August 7.

The primary aim of the National Science Foundation in setting up such programs is to enhance the competence of science and mathematics teaching in high school, and the ultimate intent is to motivate an increasing number of young people toward careers in mathematics and science.

The 55 high school teachers who have been selected will receive a stipend of $600 plus $120 for each dependent up to four and an average travel allowance of $50.

Wesleyan is one of nine universities in Illinois to receive a grant of this kind from the foundation.

At Wabash

James Wilmotto of Arlington high school, Arlington Heights, was among 10 high school seniors named to receive half-tuition scholarships valued at $1,500 for study at Wabash college. Wabash Dean B. A. Rogge announced the selection of Wilmotte along with nearly 30 other scholarship recipients, early this week.

Wilmotte was among more than 200 competitors taking a battery of written tests given early this month on the Wabash campus. The top 10 men in this competition are to return to the campus this weekend for special interviews to determine the first and second five. The first five will receive grants valued at $5,000 and the second five will receive scholarships worth $3,000.

The second ten finishers on the written tests were awarded scholarships worth $1,500. (CC

On Committees For Frosh Camp

Judi Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverley, and Judy Goble, 306 E. Fremont, both sophomores from Arlington Heights, have been appointed to committees for the 1959 Freshman camp September 10-13 sponsored by the Indiana University YWCA and YMCA at McCormack's Creek State park near Bloomington.

Freshman camp is a pre-orientation period for freshman and other incoming students. YWCA and YMCA members plan programs describing the life of the campus, academic requirements, traditions, activities and residence hall, fraternity and sorority living.

Miss Clabaugh has been appointed to the recreation committee and Miss Goble to the talent committee.

At Michael Reese

Pamela Zaloudek, 150 S. Walnut st., and Carol Willie, rt. 2, Palatine, were among 43 high school students who were guests of the Michael Reese Hospital Medical center's school of nursing, Chicago, at a three-day house party, April 17, 18 and 19.

The party was to acquaint the prospective nursing students with the 3-year training program at Michael Reese, the largest private non-sectarian hospital in the midwest.

The house party guests attended lecture classes and conferences with student counselors to familiarize them with the Michael Reese nursing program. They also toured the medical center. Added to the weekend's festivities was a movie showing and a student dance.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Gayle E. Francisco, 143 S. Benton, Palatine; David N. Varnado, 616 S. Burton pl., William J. Evans Jr., 1150 N. Hickory, and Charles Ardinger, 17 S. Belmont, all of Arlington Heights, will be among the approximatey 400 high school seniors who will attend the annual spring festival weekend on the campus of Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, Saturday and Sunday, April 25 and 26.

The high school guests will be housed in residence halls and in fraternity and sorority houses on campus and a full schedule of activities is being planned by the university students for the visitors.

45th Brigade Is Top Region Team

The 45th Artillery Brigade rifle and pistol teams of the Chicago-Gary Army Air Defense forces became the proud possessors of two fifth region commanders trophies as a result of their "clean sweep" in the recent fifth region U. S. Army Air Defense command small arms marksmanship competition held at Ft. Sheridan.

Competing against teams from the 28th artillery group of Detroit, Michigan; second gun battalion, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; and the 61st artillery group of Milwaukee, Wis., the 45th brigade literally stole the show and brought back the bacon to the Chicago-Gary air defense area.

IN SPECIAL ceremonies held at Ft. Sheridan recently, Colonel Aaron Lazar, deputy commanding officer, fifth region, presented two fifth region commanders trophies to the 45th brigade rifle and pistol teams.

Top rifleman in the fifth region firings was SFC Clarence Brinson of the 16th artillery group. Ft. Sheridan. Captain William McDonald Jr., also of the 16th artillery group, took top honors in the pistol competition.

The 45th brigade rifle team amassed an aggregate score of 1845 team points out of a possible 2100 to capture the fifth region United States Army Air Defense commanders trophy.

In the region pistol competition, the 45th brigade pistoleers shot a 3025 out of a possible 3600.

Members of the fifth Region rifle and pistol teams from the 45th artillery brigade, Arlington Heights, will travel to Ft. Riley, Kan., to vie for the United States Army Air Defense command.

The Way We See It

Equal Jobs Bill Support Urged

The employer reviews the two job applications before him. Johnson, a Negro, has five years experience; Williams, a white man, has three.

Williams gets the job.

This is the kind of discriminatory hiring practice House Bill 495 — the fair employment bill — seeks to end. The proposal for equal job opportunities, approved last week by the house committee on industry and labor, would create a commission to enforce its provisions upon all employers in the state.

What are its provisions?

House Bill 495 is aimed at regulating hiring practices that show evidence of discrimination as to age, as well as race, religion, and national origin. It would apply to labor unions as well as employers, but would not apply to farm labor, domestic workers, or employers of fewer than 25 persons.

The bill, which has the backing of both Mayor Daley and Gov. Stratton, would establish a five-member commission with power to issue cease and desist orders on the basis of findings reached in hearings. The board could carry cases of continued violations to the courts.

Opposition to the bill takes the form of several arguments; the chief one, as expounded by Jack Tharp, head of the industrial division of the Illinois State chamber of commerce, goes like this:

"A law such as the one proposed here would impede further progress. This is a discriminatory bill in itself, against employers. The proposed ban on discrimination for age would disrupt pension systems."

But, said Augustine J. Bowe, chairman of the Illinois Committee for Equal Job Opportunities, the bill stresses "conference and conciliation" in providing equality of opportunity. He added, "Employers at all times can make their own choice between prospective employees who have equal abilities and qualifications. Enforcement would be effected through the non-salaried Illinois Equality of Employment Opportunity commission, and it would proceed only in cases where complaints are filed in writing.

"In such cases," Bowe continued, "the commission would conduct a thorough investigation. If it found substance in the complaint, the commission then would use every means of resolving the difficulty through conferences and conciliation. Only in cases of clear discrimination and refusal to negotiate the controversy, would the commission then issue its order, which would be enforceable only through the courts with all legal safeguards afforded both parties."

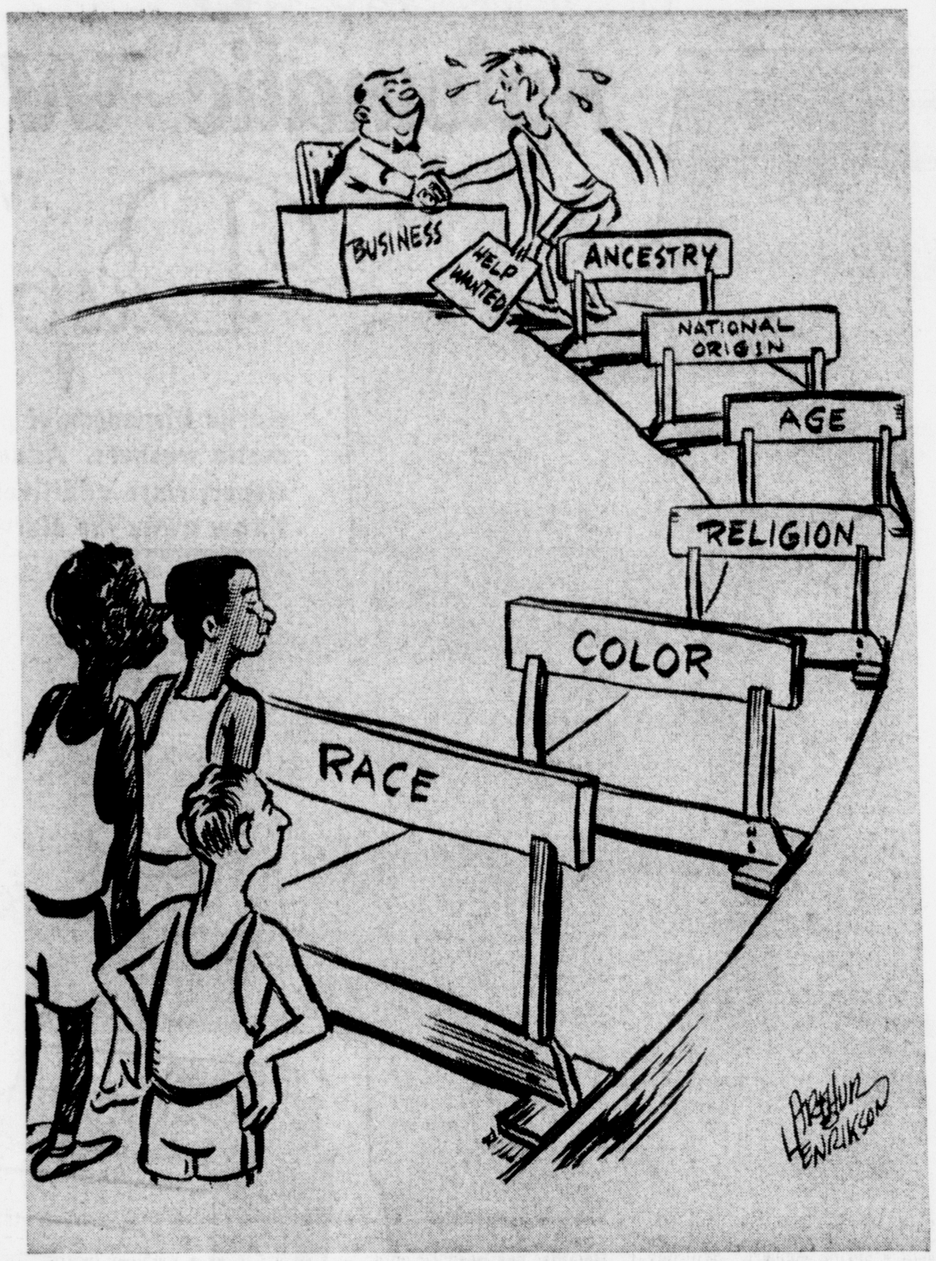
What would passage of House Bill 495 accomplish?

Similar laws in 16 states have resulted in: More employment, merited promotions, reduced relief loads, less crime, more wages to buy goods, better business, and tax savings.

Findings, based on an Elmo Roper survey, indicate that Chicago's annual loss from job discrimination amounts to $1 billion. Chicago Urban League reports unemployment among Negroes shot up 3 to 1 compared with others in the 1958 recession, and that Negro average family income is 60 per cent of that of whites. This discrimination results in a heavy burden on welfare roles.

We heartily endorse House Bill 495, urge its passage by the general assembly, and its support by employers.

Obstacle Race



Are Suburbs Ready To Combat Polio?

Remember four years ago when everybody was scrambling for the Salk vaccine? It was in short supply. There were even rumors of a "black market" in the vaccine. Everybody seemed to want this wondrous new protection against one of the most fearful of man's diseases.

Organized effort brought the vaccine to most of our school age children and to many adults. Polio cases dropped dramatically in 1955, 1956 and 1957. It looked like a complete victory over a dread disease.

The National Health Council has recently pointed out, however, that although the effective vaccine is now in good supply, cases of paralytic polio increased 44 per cent in 1958 over 1957. Why? Studies show that more than half of our children under 5 years of age are not fully protected against polio and that three-fourths of our people, 20 to 40 years old, are not protected. Polio epidemics occurred last year in Detroit, Virginia and West Virginia, and New Jersey. "Soft spots" of unprotected people may be present in every town or city, constituting a threat of new epidemics in the summer of 1959.

The Council, acting at the request of the U.S. Public Health Service and in collaboration with the American Medical Association and the National Foundation, calls upon every city and town to take a good look at its protection against polio. It suggests that we, ourselves, find out how well we are protected — whether we have large numbers of people who have no more protection now than before Jonas Salk perfected his vaccine.

The Council has pointed out that, over and above the intensive national efforts, a community "face-to-face" job now needs to be done. It has urged national health, welfare and civic organizations, working with local health authorities and medical organizations, to encourage their local leaders to get behind "Community Action Against Polio."

This makes sense. Let's find out whether our people — and our area — are protected adequately against polio. Let's get the facts and then take whatever action is needed to be sure that needless death and crippling will not visit us this summer.

Letters to the Fence Post

Letters to the Fence Post must be short and concise. Letters of more than 150 words will be subject to editing. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld from publication on request. Address letters to: The Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Vote of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the Rolling Meadows Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes, Junior Woman's Club, Legion Auxiliary, Lions and P. T. A. for their very fine cooperation in sponsoring a nonpartisan "Meet Your Candidates Meeting" in Rolling Meadows just prior to the city's election.

A special thank you to Robert Bishop, moderator and Harold Klinger, time-keeper, both of Arlington Heights, also the C.A.Y.O. Teen club who donated their services and the use of the public address system for the evening, Paddock Publications for their fine publicity given this civic venture and the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights.

This exemplifies the fine spirit of cooperation that exists between the civic organizations of our city as well as the inter-community cooperation in the Northwest area.

I'm sure that all the candidates and residents of Rolling Meadows who attended the meeting will join me in giving these civic organizations a rising vote of thanks for their splendid work in making this meeting possible.

Appreciate Interest

Once again, please accept the sincere thanks of the Hoffman Estates Theater Guild for your generous publicity afforded our latest effort, "Harvey," April 3 and 4.

We wish especially to commend the cooperation received from your Hoffman Estates Editor, Mr. Tom McShane, and reporter, Mrs. Barbara MacEachron. Their assistance and interest is much appreciated.

Marital Success

An incident that occurred this morning and several other mornings, while I waited in the car with my husband for his train to come, set me to thinking and prompted the writing of this letter.

A man and woman of middle age park and wait as we do. By all appearances they have reached material success, which in this day and age seems to be the standard by which people are measured. The husband is always impeccably dressed with more changes of expensive outfits than any we have ever seen . . . the look of a successful business man. Yet, I have oberved on numerous occasions, just as I did this morning, they appeared at odds with each other. Sure enough, his wife proceeded to read him the riot act. The toss of her head and the quick movements of her lips indicated some very vitriolic comments were being heaped on the man. He sat dejected on his side of the car with his head turned away from his wife as tho to escape the tirade. Her lips seemed to drip poison on his soul.

It made me wonder how many wives send their husbands off to work in such a way. It was easy to observe her denunciation through my rear view mirror and I actually felt sick at heart for the sort of day that man would have. I felt troubled that these people had neglected to gain spiritual growth. I felt sorry for what the woman is doing to herself and her marriage, much less the heart-ache her husband must start his day with. First hand experience, years ago, taught me the folly of starting the day with a quarrel, regardless of the justification of it. The sick feeling that results in the pit of the stomach all day isn't worth the momentary satisfaction of getting it off the chest so early in the morning. The one on the receiving end of such acid just can't do his best that day and sometimes many days to come.

To women who send their husbands off with such a pall hanging over them, I'd suggest some soul searching and perhaps a visit to the doctor might result in curbing these tendencies. Such outbursts at middle age must make a man want to escape. Sometimes that escape takes the form of a more understanding and reserved and appreciative woman. In this case, the woman's face is beginning to show the ravages of the poisonous feelings in her heart.

May this woman and others like her take stock of themselves and try to make life more pleasant for their husbands, especially early in the morning when his day is just starting. It took the wife to make him want to be a success in the first place, so isn't it absolute folly to tear down all it took years to build? A little effort on the wife's part is sure to make hubby respond in kind.

If it is boredom with an easy life that makes vociferous outbursts pour forth, there are many interesting and constructive projects on which to expend energy and result in a rich, full life. I truly feel sorry for people who have such a negative approach to life and more sorry for those who must put up with them.

In any case, a working man has the right to expect his wife's help to get his day off to a pleasant start no matter how nasty and mean she may feel inside. Regrets are terrible to live with.

Letters to the Fence Post

Moral Criteria

As you were well aware my letter which you published in the April 16 issue of your paper was written subsequent to the election in District 54 for members of the school board for which I was an unsuccessful candidate—the date of April 14 on my letter told you this. It was therefore unnecessary for you to have added your editorial comment to my letter regarding the fact that the voters in the District did not agree with my criticism of Mr. Daniel Irvin because they voted for his candidates.

This is not only poor logic but worse still it indicates that your own ethical standards leave much to be desired. Is what I said wrong and what Mr. Irvin said right because the voters happened to vote for Mr. Irvin's candidates and not for me? By this type of false logic you could have justified Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. Isn't it possible that the voters elected the board members they did for reasons other than those advocated by Mr. Irvin? namely, that we should vote for candidates because "it is morally wrong" to have all school board members from one specific area. I said that is false logic and contrary to the school code of the state of Illinois. That is the point at issue and not who should, or did, get elected to the school board.

I said that if we used the moral criteria of Mr. Irvin then we should be appalled that all the Hoffman area representatives on the school board of District 54 are all from one specific area of Hoffman Estates. Past events have shown that there is just about as much difference of opinion among the sections of Hoffman Estates itself as there is between it and Schaumburg. I complained also that incumbent members of the school board send their children to public school districts other than District 54. No matter how objective these men might be they could hardly be as concerned as men whose children are attending the schools of the district. It is only human nature. I also feel that it is a breach of ethics for incumbent members of the school board to hire their own wives as teachers. I say that these things are wrong. I will continue to say they are wrong and it is my right as a citizen to do so. Perhaps the voters did not know these things this time. Certainly they couldn't have known from my letter which was written after the election.

Since you saw fit to append an editorial comment to my last letter, perhaps you will be good enough to do it again and let us know if you feel that the facts I have disclosed about some of the members of our school board are right and moral actions simply because those who are practicing some of these misdeeds were re-elected?

Thomas P. Rowland
Hoffman Estates

(Mr. Rowland's criticisms of the school board and Mr. Irvin's ideas were aired openly, publicly at PTA meetings before the election. Therefore we assume that many of the voters were aware of the issues created by Mr. Rowland.

His right to criticize is granted. Our right to comment is sacred. His comparison of the district 54 election to those of Hitler and friends is ridiculous. Equal representation is to be desired, in both Hoffman Estates and the township.—Ed.)

Commuter's Prayer

(With apologies to Joyce Kilmer)

I think that I shall never see,
An eyesore uglier than a tree,
A tree all battered, beat and worn,
By contact with fenders night and morn.
A tree whose huge trunk blocks the way
For commuters every day.
Oh Lord, save the kids,
And knock out the trees,
So we can come and go as we please.

For All Coaches

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for sending me your great newspaper for the spring sports season. Our boys look forward to your Honor Roll each week. We think you and Bill Beckman are doing one of the finest jobs of prep sports writing of anyone in the country. Too bad some of the Chicago writers are not aware of the fact that there is something going on besides professional baseball.

I am speaking for all the coaches I know around these parts. Congratulations and keep up the fine work.

Council Sincerity

Re Mr. Johnson's comments (April 16) on my letter (April 2): The views expressed in my letter, and the views Mr. Johnson claimed I expressed as per his letter, do not match either in their contents or their feelings. As a high-ranking member of the Citizens' Advisory Council, the public might assume, true or not, that he is expressing, to a large extent, the opinion of the Council. In 150 words I cannot begin to show the difference between my letter and Mr. Johnson's.

Therefore, I ask for an immediate public hearing before the Council, prior to April 28. Such a move will stand forth as a mark of the Council's sincerity both in its drive for the facts and in giving me the opportunity I must have to clear away any false impressions that may have been given.

Recent Sorrow

I want to express my deep appreciation to our neighbors in Rolling Meadows for their thoughtfulness to my family during our recent sorrow, upon the death of my brother.

Also, I would like to commend the Rolling Meadows police for their speed and efficiency when we found it necessary to call them at 4 a.m. Tuesday. They responded to our call for help within minutes and had a doctor and ambulance here shortly thereafter. It is a comfort to know everything was done to help my brother, thanks to them.

Postage Stamp Flag

If it wasn't for the front page prominence of the election last Saturday in your paper we might just as well not have an election.

Surely the postage stamp size American flag stuck in the ground (not on the door) would not attract anyone to the polls.

Voter's Interest

With your permission, through your "Fence Post" column, or whereever else you may think it appropriate, I want to express my thanks to the citizens of Schaumburg Township's School District No. 54 for the interest they showed at the polls on Saturday, April 11.

They have clearly indicated their approval not only of Tony Schubert and me, but also of the rest of the school board, their actions and policies, of of Robert Flum, superintendent of schools, our principals and our teachers.

Since this also reflects to some extent on my integrity as a local business man, the tremendous vote of confidence in all directions is more than gratifying.

Well-Informed Woman Is A Better Wife and Mother

A woman's place is in the political arena as well as the home.

That's the opinion of Zoe Roble, homemaker, mother of two, and newly-elected president of League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights.

In fact ,says Mrs. Roble, in speaking of the nation's number one civic watchdog group, "A well-informed, politically conscious woman makes a better wife than one who limits herself to household chores."

"A husband likes to think he's married to something other than just a housekeeper. He appreciates a wife who shares his interests in politics and current events," she explains.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS' League is one of more than 1,000 in the United States, who since 1920 have been making it their responsibility to study and inform the public on such varying issues as juvenile delinquency and reciprocal trade agreements.

Though non-political in that it refuses to endorse political candidates, the League does take a stand on issues. Illinois chapters were in the force in the recent unsuccessful fight to reform the state's courts.

Founded in 1954, Arlington Heights chapter numbers 64 members who range in age from 21 to 60. "And you'd be amazed at the number of young wives with three or four children who are among our most active members," exclaims Mrs. Roble.

SHE ATTRIBUTES the League's rapid growth in the suburbs to the fact that "Out here there is a danger of one's interests failing to extend beyond the immediate neighborhood."

League gives a woman a chance to come in contact with people from other areas and to broaden her interests."

While enthusiastic over League work, Mrs. Roble could hardly be termed a suffragette. She feels, for example, the country will never have a woman President.

"Most women have too much respect for men's opinions and judgement to ever aspire to the presidency," she says.

She does feel, however, that a woman might do well as director of the budget.

"Most women have a household budget, and as a consequence are extremely practical about finances," she argues.

A RESIDENT of Arlington Heights for nine years, Mrs. Roble returned in September from a 15 month stay in England with her family. Her husband, Edwin, was there on business.

Her hobbies are refinishing antique furniture, swimming, and reading. Most of her time of late, however, has been taken up in preparation for the League's local study item for the year, an understanding of the community's overall tax structure.

Rolling Green Country Club Is Scene of Gala Dinner Dance

MRS. LEONARD HANSEN and George Stanchfield hide their choice of desserts behind floral piece of spring flowers. In keeping with the delicious smorgasbord served in Rolling Green country club Saturday night, guests also chose their own dessert from table filled with French pastries and petits fours. Stanchfield is vice president of the Scarsdale Estates association, sponsors of the dinner dance.

HOSTS TO LARGE PARTY of civic officials Saturday night at Scarsdale Estates association annual dinner dance and card party were Mr. and Mrs. John Carnell, center. Among their guests were Mrs. William Calderwood, left, and Arlington Heights Police Chief Calderwood, right. Carnell is president of the Estates association, which held its annual affair at Rolling Green country club, Rand rd., Arlington Heights. Borders of the area are from S. State rd. to S. Beverly and from Rockwell to Central rd., Arlington Heights.

LOBBY OF ROLLING GREEN country club provided a good spot for Scarsdale Estates association members to chat between dances Saturday night when the organization held its annual dinner dance. William J. Pailey, president of the country club, and Arlington Heights Village Manager Leonard Hansen chat with Mrs. George Stanchfield and Mrs. Pailey. Mrs. Pailey, Treasurer of the association, was chairman of the affair and also served as emcee. Dancing was to the music of Galen Williams and his orchestra from Chicago's Ambassador West's Buttery.

THIS DOESN'T LOOK LIKE a cha cha step that Mrs. Charles Geane and Robert Malcolm are doing but guests at the annual Scarsdale Estates dinner dance and card party were taught the Latin step by a professional. Corsages for the ladies and boutonnieres for the men were extra features of the affair for which Mrs. Geane was co-chairman.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

House-Hunting Time Again

Dear Peg:

We are again house-hunting. Our lease is up at the end of April and with our expected addition to the family in August, we have decided once more to investigate the housing market. Having lived in our town for ten years we really feel that it's "home" and would dislike leaving the many friends we've made. However, the only way in which we can get an accurate picture of real estate values is to look everywhere before making a decision.

If last weekend was any indication, we're in for a lot of looking. The big problem is that the houses we can afford are too small for our size family and the houses that would fit our family won't fit our budget. This seems to be the case whether we look in town or in the country. For instance, we drove out toward the country last Sunday to see several developments which have been advertised recently. We were curious first of all to see what a no-money-down-house looks like. As we drove along, we read all the glowing information offered on several gaudy billboards: "3 bedroom homes — $17,000 up — no money down — payments like rent—small monthly payments . . ." The information neglected to state how long it would take to own a house with the small monthly payments and no money down. However, the offer certainly was attractive and the area lovely with rolling farm land and woods. That is, it was lovely until, following a sign with a large arrow, we turned down the road leading to the development.

All at once the sweet country air was shattered by the blast of a hot trumpet, accompanied by an equally hot piano, drum and several unidentifiable instruments. A record player was spinning at top speed somewhere just beyond the rise in the road. As we came over the hill, we gasped in utter amazement at the unexpected sight. There, on the outskirts of a quaint little old-fashioned village, were what seemed to be a hundred small square garage-like dwellings, all alike except for color and a little decoration and all sitting close enough together for you to have coffee with your neighbor by just opening your kitchen windows—and neither of you would have to even leave the house.

Gaily colored pennants were flying, policemen were directing traffic and the children were thrilled by the carnival atmosphere. "Oh boy! Are we going to live here?" They cried in unison. We drove down one dirt road just far enough to turn around and head out. These houses may be suitable for a newly married couple or a one child family, but they definitely didn't fit our needs.

About five miles away, we saw another development of larger, more attractive look-alike-houses. Each house had a very large lot, and although there were no shade trees, a great deal of attractive landscaping had been completed. We brightened considerably—until we saw the billboard that described this property "prestige homes—$29,500 and up—$3,500 down." The closest town, school, train, etc. was about three miles away. This was not for us either. We drove home.

My love,
Patty.

Suburban Woman Named Area Chairman for Appeal

Two women have been appointed chairman of two areas here for the Multiple Sclerosis "door-to-door" march to take place on June 10, it was announced by John F. Milliken, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis society.

The two leaders selected are: Mrs. Bruce K. (Barbara) McBeath, 900 W. Lincoln, Mt. Prospect as chairman for the Mt. Prospect area, and Mrs. Richard (Mary Lee) Welch, 138 Maricopa lane, Hoffman Estates, Roselle, as chairman of the Roselle area.

The June 10 door-to-door march will be the highlight of the MS Society's Hope Chest campaign. The campaign will be concentrated between Mother's day, May 10 and Father's day, June 21.

"Mother's day and Father's day are significant because Multiple Sclerosis strikes the young adult in the prime of life . . . between the age of 20-40. These victims are mothers and fathers . . . young housewives and breadwinners," said Milliken.

GOAL OF THE May 10 through June 21 Hope Chest campaign is $250,000. Milliken told Mrs. McBeath and Welch that the Hope Chest March is expected to raise a major part of that goal.

All funds raised in the campaign will be used by the Chicago chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society to forward its three-fold program of: research, patient service and education. An important part of the society's patient service program is its sponsorship of the MS clinic at Presbyterian-St. Luke's hospital.

Commenting on their appointment as Area Chairman, the two local leaders said, "We are organizing early but we need many thousands of volunteers from this area for the June 10 Hope Chest March. Many of our volunteers are MS victims themselves or friends and relatives of MS patients."

Plans for the Hope Chest March call for over 30,000 volunteers to march in the entire Chicago area and in over 100 suburbs.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system. There is no known cause or cure for this mysterious disease. Effects of MS on its victims vary from a minor case of tremors to total disability. One MS patient may simply not be able to tie his shoe laces while another victim may be hopelessly crippled and confined to a wheel chair or bed for the rest of his life.

The Campaign slogan, "Help fill the MS Hope Chest," refers to the hope all MS patients have that, through research, the mystery of MS will be solved soon.

AREA CHAIRMEN, McBeath and Welch appealed to their neighbors to pitch in and help make the June 10 Hope Chest March a success. They urged citizens who are willing to volunteer a few hours of their time to help fill the MS Hope Chest to call the MS Office: HArrison 7-2250.

Mrs. McBeath, chairman for the Mt. Prospect MS drive, was selected for leadership because of her special interest in the work of the Multiple Sclerosis society. She has been an MS patient for about 12 years. She continues to be active in community affairs including the work of the Community Presbyterian church of Mt. Prospect. She lives with her husband, Bruce, and their 13-year-old son, Kenneth.

Mrs. Welch is also a very active worker in local affairs in Roselle, including serving as production manager of the Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild and secretary of the Hoffman Estates Baby Sitting club. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Welch have two sons, Mark age 1½ years and Tom age 3½.

Local Gardeners Earn Awards In Contest

Two area women earned awards at the Croydon China company's "Table Fashions for 1959" held the weekend before last at the Lincolnwood store.

Mrs. Walter Kruse, 951 S. Plum Grove, Palatine, a member of the Plum Grove Garden club, received a blue ribbon plus a best in show tri-color ribbon for her entry of a patio buffet dinner table set with grey cloth, black napkins, white china furnished by the sponsor and an appropriate flower arrangement featuring driftwood, eucalyptus, white ranunculus and leather leaf fern.

MRS. CLIFTON H. Grassly, 1414 N. Yale, a member of Arlington Heights Garden club, was awarded a blue ribbon and a cash award for her club entry, "Breakfast in Early American Home."

Members of 24 garden clubs of the northshore and northwest suburbs competed in creating distinctive settings which were judged by national judges of the Garden Club of Illinois. In addition, winners were determined by popular votes of visitors attending the show.

Successful Homemaking

This Homemaker Just Loves To Cook, Finds New Outlet

by LOIS SEILER

Mrs. Albert Kehe of Arlington Heights loves to bake! But when her children grew up, married and left home she realized there was little need to bake as often as she would have liked.

Missing this creative outlet, she decided to bake for others, just to keep in trim. Word of her ability quickly spread and now many is the day that she is busily and happily occupied in her own kitchen baking elegant cakes for satisfied customers.

ONE OF HER favorites which is often requested is a Spicy Prune Cake. This cake, which contains three spices as well as prune juice, is a little different from most spice cakes. Made in one bowl, it is easy to prepare and has a light texture as well as delicious flavor.

The cake is frosted with a fluffy 7-minute icing which contains chopped cooked prunes and is flavored with prune juice and lemon juice. Chopped nuts or toasted coconut may be sprinkled on top for a festive touch.

Another of Mrs. Kehe's favorites is an appealing Nut and Date Drop Cookie. This is an old recipe which she has been making for years.

In addition to the dates and nuts, the cookies contain oatmeal. They are always good and nourishing, designed to tempt young and old alike.

MRS. KEHE'S talents are not by any means limited to baking cookies and desserts. One of her favorite casseroles is a dish which features pork chops with a corn dressing.

Pork chops are browned then placed in a baking dish and each chop is topped with a mound of corn dressing. The dressing consists of canned creamed corn, egg, grated onion and green pepper, bread crumbs and seasonings. The casserole is baked for almost an hour.

This delightful combination of pork and corn is a taste treat, for the flavor of each compliments the other.

Mrs. Kehe likes to accompany this dish with mashed potatoes, a tossed salad and nice rolls.

This good cook personally guarantees all of these recipes, for she has always found them to be successful.

In addition to her baking ventures, Mrs. Kehe is an active member of the Ladies Aid and Couples' club of St. Peter Lutheran church.

She and her husband live at 300 W. Fremont in Arlington Heights.

Spicy Prune Cake

Sift together into a large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/3 cups sugar
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon salt
Add:
½ cup vegetable shortening
½ cup unsweetened prune juice
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat two minutes and then add:
¼ cup milk
2 eggs
Beat for two additional minutes, scraping bowl occasionally.
Spread batter into a 9 by 12 inch tin or two 9-inch layer tins.
Bake in a 360 degree oven for about 35 minutes.

Prune Whip Frosting

2 unbeaten egg whites
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons prune juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
10 cooked prunes, cut in pieces

Mix together in the top of a double boiler the egg whites, sugar, salt and prune juice. Beat over boiling water until it holds a peak, about 7 minutes.

Remove from hot water and stir in the lemon juice and cut prunes.

Spread over cake. Chopped nuts or toasted coconut may be sprinkled on top.

Pork Chops and Corn Dressing

1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons flour
6 pork chops
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or other drippings
1 No. 303 can creamed corn
1 slightly-beaten egg
1 small onion, grated
¼ green pepper, cut fine
4 slices bread, broken into small pieces
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water

Dredge chops in the salt, pepper and flour and brown in the drippings. Place them in a shallow pan.

Mix the remaining ingredients together, except the water, and place a mound of the mixture on each chop.

Add the water to the drippings in the pan and mix together thoroughly. Pour around chops.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for about 50 minutes.

Serves 6.

Nut and Date Drop Cookies

1 cup shortening
1½ cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup oatmeal
½ cup chopped pecans
1 package dates, cut up

Cream the shortening and sugar. Beat in the eggs and vanilla.

Sift the flour, soda and salt together and beat into batter. Add the oatmeal, nuts and dates.

Drop from a teaspoon on to a greased cookie sheet and bake in a 350 degree oven until golden brown.

Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

When's a 'Classic' Classic?

Got to wondering the other day about just what makes a classic, a CLASSIC. There was a thing published in one of the papers about the 100 books that everyone should read during their lifetime. There are just a lot of them that I am frank to admit, are beyond my ken.

I mean, I know that Euripides ripped off quite a mess of words in his lifetime. Some of them have extremely pithy thoughts. The one of which I could be very fond is, "Man's best possession is a sympathetic wife." I take things so personally and like to identify myself with what I read. And, if the writers agree with me, it just goes to show how bright and quick to think they are.

Aristotle was another on the list of musts for the avid reader. About the best thing he had to offer was, "One swallow does not make a spring." And, he was so right. Right here where I happen to be residing at the moment, it will certainly take more than one lousy bird or even a whole flock of them to make me even believe that there is a spring.

I think that just about everyone will be happy to know that the only quotation in Bartlett attributed to Julius Caesar is that Vini, Vidi, Vici or, in other words, "All Gaul is divided into three parts" or something.

But I digress as I wish to speak of books. I just finished reading Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" for the umpteenth time. Got introduced to the old girl in high school where she was a must and fell in love at first sight. I think I have figured out what makes a Classic. It is a book wherein you must read every word or you are going to miss something.

To me, the best example of this is Darcy's proposal of marriage to Elizabeth. They are the boy, girl part of the book. Wordy as Austen is, and she certainly is, I not only read it carefully but reread it to make sure I had it all. What modern novelist can write a paragraph that cannot be skipped? None that I have read lately. In fact, with most modern novels with their four letter words and stark, stark realism, a person can well afford to skip whole pages.

With most of them, you can even skip the book entirely.

GLIDING DOWN the run-way in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton hotel May 11, will be Mrs. Allan Peters of Palatine, who will represent the women's auxiliary of the Northwest Community hospital in a gala fashion show sponsored by the auxiliary of Grant hospital. Hospital auxiliaries in the Chicago area will each be represented by models in the fashion show and the three best models will take home a $300 gift for their hospital and a $100 gift certificate for themselves from Saks Fifth ave., who will provide the clothes for the show. Mrs. Peters, mother of two, is a member of the board of directors of the hospital auxiliary and chairman of the legislation committee.

Heights Club Woman Elected Officer of Seventh District

Arlington Club Wins Publicity Book Award

Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson of Arlington Heights was elected first vice president of the seventh district, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, at the group's annual meeting April 15 in the Congregational Church of Jefferson Park.

Two other Arlington Heights women were appointed chairmen. They are Mrs. Max Hershey, who will be civil defense chairman and Mrs. A. M. Gammill, who will head veterans service activities. They will serve two year terms.

Mrs. George Glow will continue another year as mental health chairman of the district.

All are members of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

A LEATHER-BOUND scrapbook, detailing activities of the Arlington Heights Woman's club for the past 12 months, was adjudged best in the seventh district and was awarded the first place blue ribbon at the April 15 meeting.

The book was prepared by Mrs. Clifford H. Harris, publicity and scrapbook chairman for the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

Others from the Arlington Heights Woman's club attending the district meeting were president, Mrs. Herman L. Berthold, Mrs. Peter J. McAndrew, Mrs. Z. R. Rogozinski, Mrs. Donald Thompson, Mrs. Carl Mees, Mrs. Ben F. Carns and Mrs. C. H. Morhardt.

Palatine Woman Wins Council Speech Contest

Speaking on the topic "First Impressions," Mrs. Carl A. Petersen, Palatine, was judged winner of International Toastmistress Clubs council 12 speech contest, held April 18 in the Midland hotel, Chicago. Council 12 includes Toastmistress clubs from the entire Chicago and suburban area.

Mrs. Petersen, a member of Midtown Toastmistress club, represented the north area of the council, having won the area contest in March. She will represent the council at the ITC regional conference in Winnipeg, Manitoba, May 2 and 3, competing with other council winners in the north central region of ITC. Winner of that contest will proceed to the international contest at Minneapolis in July.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

by DOLORES HAUGH

A Maypole Birthday Party

In the spring a young man's fancy slightly turns - well, so does a lady's. She turns from the dark, dreary winter colors to the pastels of spring. Yellow of the jonquils, tender green of new sprouts, blue of cloudless skies and the pink of tulips weave themselves into a Maypole party.

You can use this theme for a bridge luncheon, birthday party for a girl of any age, a shower or just a get together for coffee.

Invitations

Start with a simple double fold card bearing an ink sketch of a pole with a half circle at the top. Paste uneven lengths of ribbon in the four colors on the semi-circle for the Maypole streamers. Place a little artificial flower at the top and one in each corner of the card. Inside the verse could read:

The Maypole with its springtime cheer
Is going to turn in rhyme.
If you will look below you'll see
The day, the date and time.
With yellow for the jonquils bright,
Blue for a cloudless sky,
The green for something new, we'll be Tickled pink if you'll stop by.

State time, place and occasion, if any. If it is a shower ask your guests to wrap their gifts in a particular color, dividing the guests into four color groups. When guests arrive, have a large Maypole made and have them place the gifts at the end of the streamer matching their gift wrapping. If a birthday, of course, you can't request gift wrappings in particular, but use the Maypole anyway with a profusion of color at its base.

Food

The luncheon, buffet or snack will again repeat the Maypole's colors.

Of course, any spring salad is a natural for this party theme with the green lettuce, yellow of various fruits, etc. Open faced sandwiches in the four colors, minus the blue, carry this color in the plate or doily under the sandwiches. Relishes, and jello molds in lime, lemon or pink. A particularly pretty pink is achieved by creaming the dry jello with a package of cream cheese and then adding boiling water and cold according to package directions.

IF YOU USE individual molds and/or the sandwiches, keep the theme going around the Maypole by rotating the four colors wherever possible, or placing molds in a circle. Then make several miniature maypoles which can be placed in the center of each tray. For dessert petits fours or cupcakes can be iced in the Maypole hues and placed in a circle with a streamer or ribbon from the center cupcake; however, for a children's party, an individual maypole is an exciting addition.

Make this Maypole from pastel candy sticks and tiny ribbons. For an added touch add a small charm such as a ring or penny, wrapped in foil in the cupcake before frosting it. Then listen to the squeals of delight when the surprise is discovered. It might be well to announce there is a surprise to save teeth and prevent severe indigestion if swallowed. Serve coffee or tea for an adult party or Maypole colored Kool-Aid, for a child's party.

Games

If this is a little girl's birthday party, you can draft father's help in making a real Maypole outside or letting the girls make it as part of the party entertainment, depending on the girl's ages. If you do plan a real Maypole dance, ask the girls to wear their party dresses in pastel colors. Use crepe paper for the streamers and a circle of coat hanger wire for the top. Suspend this by streamers tied to the circle - forming a cross in the crepe paper covered wire circle - nail center of the X to top of pole and fasten the streamers to the wire circle and you are off for the dance. Any recorded music can be used and the whole program is a beauty for a home movie, which can be shown at the next years birthday party. If it rains, just make the streamers and fasten them to an overhead light fixture or a basement, crepepaper wrapped post. It is more fun outside so hope for sunshine.

If you need help, there is a low-cost party counseling service available by calling CL 3-3996.

Prizes and awards for the best dancer, Maypole sketch, etc. can be anything in any of the four colors. Wrap in plain white boxes and repeat the invitation Maypole on the cover. For bridge, this is a lovely theme as you can use the tallies in the four colors and again repeat the invitation Maypole on them as well as the score pads and prizes.

Decorations

Use as many spring flower arrangements as you can as they will help to carry out the theme. Keep to plain containers as the flowers should be the focal point. Use flowers in bloom now and as some do not last long after cutting, plan to make the arrangements the morning of the party.

To make the centerpiece, paint a flower pot white and securely fasten a dowel in the flowerpot hole, fill the container with sand and that is the base of the Maypole for your table. Use a small wire circle and after the pole is wrapped in ribbons of yellow, pink, blue and green wrap the circle and fasten so that it hangs about five inches from the top. Place an artificial flower over thumb tack on top and twine a few about the ring.

PLACE STREAMERS on the ring; an embroidery hoop can also be used. Make miniature maypoles using sewers on candy sticks following the same instructions. They do not take much time and the more you can repeat them the more your Maypole party will revolve into a success.

Add real flowers to the sand, they will keep if you moisten the sand slightly. Use a pale yellow tableloth, napkins in the four pastels and use plain crystal plates and cups if you have them, paper plates, of course, for the children's party.

If you are having this party tiny May baskets can be made by the children at the party or plastic ones purchased and filled with pastel mints and nuts. Paper daisy-shaped placemats add color to the table also, if it is a seated luncheon.

You will want to have a crowning of the Maypole queen if it is a birthday party too; naturally the hostess will be the queen. Have a ribbon-bedecked crown of paper waiting for her. Add a birthday message as each girl hands the queen her gift, or if the girls are old enough have them be fairy godmothers and give the queen a wish they make up themselves.

A Maypole party is one that will be long remembered - so let the springtime in your heart weave a happy Maypole party.

Violet Society To Install New Officers

Suburban Saintpaulia society, an affiliate of the African Violet Society of America, will install its slate of officers, all newly-elected at its regular monthly meeting May 6 at 12:30 for luncheon at the Tally-Ho restaurant, Park Ridge.

La Leche League to Begin Series of Meetings April 27

The aim of La Leche League, which will begin a series of meetings in Roselle beginning April 27, is to help mothers learn the facts and techniques of breastfeeding their babies for the mutual benefit of both.

La Leche League was originated in Franklin Park when a doctor's wife, Mrs. Gregory White, held a meeting in her home for interested women. This group was highly sucessful and led to the formation of branches throughout the country.

Mrs. Kay Rachford, LA 9-5458, and Mrs. Bernadette Stoesser, LA 9-6015, both of Roselle, are in charge of the Roselle branch of La Leche. It will meet every fourth Monday at 727 Spring st., Roselle.

It is the opinion of doctors that breast feeding is the best for babies, but only an estimated 10 per cent of today's mothers nurse their infants.

THE REASONS for this seem to be a combination of misinformation, the mother feeling she is unable to nurse her baby and lack of technique.

Contrary to popular belief most women with the proper information can successfully nurse their babies unless they have tuberculosis or whooping cough at the time of delivery. The number of mothers unable to nurse their children for physical reasons is extremely small.

Some points which La Leche league presents in its support of breastfeeding infants is that it improves the health of both the mother and infant; gives him greater protection against infections, whooping cough, measles, pneumonia, ear infections and diarrhea; decreases the chances of the mother for getting breast cancer; makes the child less susceptible to allergies, particularly eczema.

Members and the two physicians who attend every meeting provide practical and accurate answers to the questions posed by mothers.

MUTUAL HELP is another feature of La Leche's program. A woman's ability to nurse her child is helped by associating with other mothers who are doing it, sharing their experiences, discussing techniques and exchanging information.

Any interested woman is invited to atted these meetings. vited to attend these meetings. even have a family.

The series of five monthly meetings includes the topics: Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother and Baby; Techniques of Breastfeeding and overcoming difficulties; Pregnancy, Childbirth and Nutrition, How and When to Start Solids; The Family in Relation to the Breastfed Infant, Weaning, When and How, Discipline in the Child Under Two, and "For Fathers Only," for husbands of members.

IN THE LATTER meeting no women are allowed and husbands are able to discuss problems of the family in relation to infants with physicians.

An extensive library and bibliography is maintained by La Leche league. Its members dispense no medical advice but are able to direct mothers with problems to an accurate and reliable source for answers to their individual problems.

What members do is make themselves available at any time to help talk over problems of technique and adjustment with mothers who are having any difficulties.

The Roselle branch of La Leche league is open to any interested mother and is not restricted to the Roselle area. (SD

'Oklahoma' Here Saturday Night

One of the all-time great musicals, Oklahoma, will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Boys Gym Auditorium of the Arlington high school.

The music, orchestra, and art departments of the high school have been combining their efforts and talents for the past five weeks in order to make it the best production ever presented by Arlington High school students.

The cast includes Judy Fruehling as Aunt Eller; Joan Stofft as Laurie; Dennis Gau as Judy; Fred Hedemark as Curly; Diane Waterman as Ado Annie; Byron Larson as Ali Hakim; Mark MacDonald as Will Parker; Tom Wade as Mr. Carnes; Betsy Creviston as Ellen and Sue Stevens as Gertie.

SONGS SUCH as Oh What a Beautiful Morning, Surrey With the Fringe on Top, People Will Say We're In Love; Kansas City, Oklahoma, I Can't Say No and Many A New Day help to create a gay and enthusiastic atmosphere as approximately 70 Arlington High school students relive events from the days of the box socials on the scenic plains of Oklahoma.

Miss Marjorie Beu is in charge of production. Mr. Hermann has assisted with the dramatic roles. Mr. Griffith is in charge of scenery construction; Mr. Fischer is in charge of the ark work; Miss Austin is in charge of Orchesis; Mr. Miller of the audio-visual department is in charge of sound and lighting; and Mr. Schmoyer is director of the orchestra.

Tickets are on sale from members of the music department and will be on sale at the door Saturday night. Admission is $1 for adults and high school students and 50 cents for children.

Ideal Woman Has More Than Beauty

by BILL DILLINGHAM

What is an "ideal woman"?

Each year Italian men express their ideas on this subject. They even carry the matter to the point of arranging a contest.

Perfection in a woman, at least for this contest, is not strongly based on her beauty. Some past winners have been quite ordinary looking. Her qualities of character and personality become the weights that tip the scales.

This is probably one of the few contests of the world where a woman is not judged for her sex-appeal, but considered more idealistically.

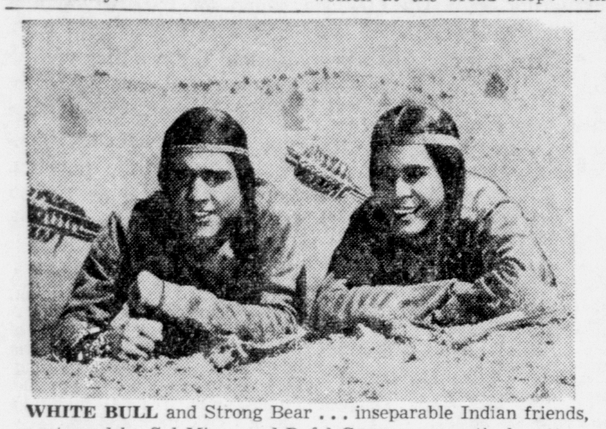
THE QUESTIONS the Italian voter must ask himself are quite deep:

Does this woman talk too much? If you ask her husband a question, is it her voice that gives the reply? Does she easily burst into anger? Fortified by another ten years and thirty-five pounds, would she strike a man? Does she expect men to be flesh, blood and human imperfection, or does she want a celluloid movie hero? Does she argue with the other women at the bread shop? Will she have the courage to scream at the shopkeeper if he tries to overcharge her? Does she like spaghetti?

All these things, and many more, are considered before the "ideal woman" is elected.

Many small Italian towns have their yearly contest, and because of their size everybody knows everybody else. In this case judgment is based on personal contact. In the larger places, however, prominent women are chosen. Men must depend upon impressions through magazines, radio, etc.

Italian men like to think and talk about women, and such a contest offers them another opportunity. (B13



WHITE BULL and Strong Bear . . . inseparable Indian friends, portrayed by Sal Mineo and Rafel Campos, respectively, attentively survey a herd of wild horses in this scene from Walt Disney's Technicolor production, "Tonka," also starring Jerome Courtland and Philip Carey opening Friday at Des Plaines theater.

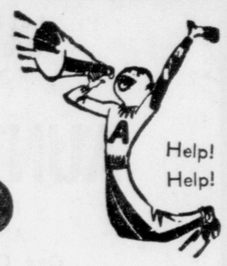
KICKIN' IT AROUND



by BOB BUCHANAN

This Column May Be Controversial

THIS COLUMN WILL create a lot of controversy. Why? Because I firmly believe that tennis, if played with the proper attitude and ability, is the toughest spring sport. I've given this matter a lot of thought and still stick to my guns. I know a lot of track coaches will howl. I expect them to. Sure, track is a tough sport endurance-wise but tennis is tough both physically and mentally.

Tennis, unlike track, is a game of stops, starts and changes in direction. Track is bent on one direction, forward. A miler runs five minutes and then is finished. A good tennis match may continue for more than an hour with scarcely a chance for a breath between serves. It is a sport of fast reaction of both the hands and the legs. Track, in the running events, concerns only the legs. Tennis, to be good at it, is just as much a mental game. A player must figure out his opponent and his moves two to three strokes in advance in order to put his opponent at a disadvantage. This also continues for an hour and not the length of a few second dash or a five minute mile run. True, a trackman must know the proper pace and when to turn on the steam and when not to. But his mental decisions are few compared to a tennis player.

Tennis Builds Basketball Players

TRACK IS OFTEN called an individual sport. Tennis is more so. In the dashes, it's hard to determine how badly a loser is beaten. In the mile, it's more evident. Then another event comes upon the scene and erases the prior event unless an outstanding feat happened. A tennis match is a battle of one man against another. His effort is worth 20 per cent of the team's score. His play is recorded game by game so that it is clearly evident to followers what his strong and weak points are. A tennis player's mental and physical tactics are laid bare every match.

Tennis, in my estimation, is the best spring sport to help build basketball players. It teaches them co-ordination of their legs in relation to eye response. Track, I'd rate as a much better builder of football players. The cinder sport teaches the backfield men to get that quick burst of speed and linemen while moving across a shotput or discus ring how to move across the line of scrimmage quickly.

Golf an Agonizing Self-Appraisal

TENNIS AND TRACK aren't the only spring sports. There's also baseball and golf. Baseball is our national pastime but concerning the advantages it gives participants of other sports, I haven't found any outstanding ones. Baseball is certainly a game of concentration and except for a home run hitter, is a team effort in either producing or thwarting runs. Golf, without a doubt, takes the least amount of strenuous physical exercise. Yet, I must concede, golf, more than any other sport, teaches a person to realize what he can and can't do. Golf sometimes gives participants an agonizing self-appraisal.

All these sports have a niche in a high school's athletic set-up. To deny one on the basis of the physical activity it offers would be meaningless. There is skill to all. It all depends upon how they are played and the effort behind each contestant.

Oh, just in case I've offended any coach, drop me a line. I'll be glad to hear from you.

Whitelaw Runs :14.8 in Highs; Dundy 2:02 Half

Ed Whitelaw and Mike Dundy turned in outstanding times Tuesday afternoon as Arlington ran away from Hinsdale, 80-38, in a dual track meet on the Cardinal cinders.

Whitelaw, in the opening event, crossed the 120-yard low hurdles in :14.8, tying the best mark in the state performed earlier this year by Ed West of Bloom.

Five clocks showed Whitelaw's winning time to be correct as he beat teammate Bob O'Neil by eight yards. Yet, O'Neil turned around and beat Whitelaw in the low hurdles in :21.0.

The second best 880 in the state was run by Dundy in his first try at the half mile. Dundy was timed in 2:01.9, beating teammate Chuck Phelan who won the Lake Shore meet Saturday.

Dundy also ran a 4:45.0 mile, beating the Cards' No. 1 miler, Ken Courter. He did not perform in the 440, which had been considered Dundy's best event prior to Tuesday.

Rich Bader's :10.2 in the 100, his best time this year, was overshadowed by Whitelaw's and Dundy's marks.

Dundy also won a third event, the broad jump with a leap of 19-9½.

Hinsdale won only four individual events and the mile relay. Martin took both the shot and discus for the Red Devils. Steve Goulding high jumped 5-6 to win that event and Samuel vaulted 10-0 in the fourth event.

Outstanding Times

120-yard high hurdles — won by Whitelaw (A); 2, O'Neil (A); 3, Krumb (H). Time :14.8.

100-yard dash — won by Bader (A); 2, Forden (H); 3, Yager (A). Time :10.2.

880 — won by Dundy (A); 2, Phelan (A); Trebess (A). Time 2:01.9.

880-yard relay — won by Arlington; 2, Hinsdale. Time 1:35.1.

440 — won by Stavros (A); 2, Busch (H); 3, Barbour (A). Time :52.6.

180-yard low hurdles — won by O'Neil (A); 2, Whitelaw (A); 3, Westergaard, (A). Time :21.0.

Mile — won by Dundy (A); 2, Courter (A); 3, Marks (A). Time 4:45.0.

220 — won by C. Yager (A); 2, Forden (H); 3, R. Yager (A). Time :22.9.

Mile relay — won by Hinsdale; 2, Arlington. Time 3:41.8.

Shotput — won by Martin (H); 2, Stiegel (A); 3, Shipman (A). Distance 52-11.

Broad jump — won by Dundy (A); 2, Simonni (H); 3, Westergaard (A). Distance 19-9½.

Discus — won by Martin (H); 2, Torrens (A); 3, Striegel (A). Distance 126-5.

High jump — won by Goulding (H); 2, Whitelaw (A); 3, Stavros (A). Height 5-6.

Pole vault — won by Samuel (H); 2 (tie), Allen (A), Fahrner (A), Hedemark (A). Height 10-0.

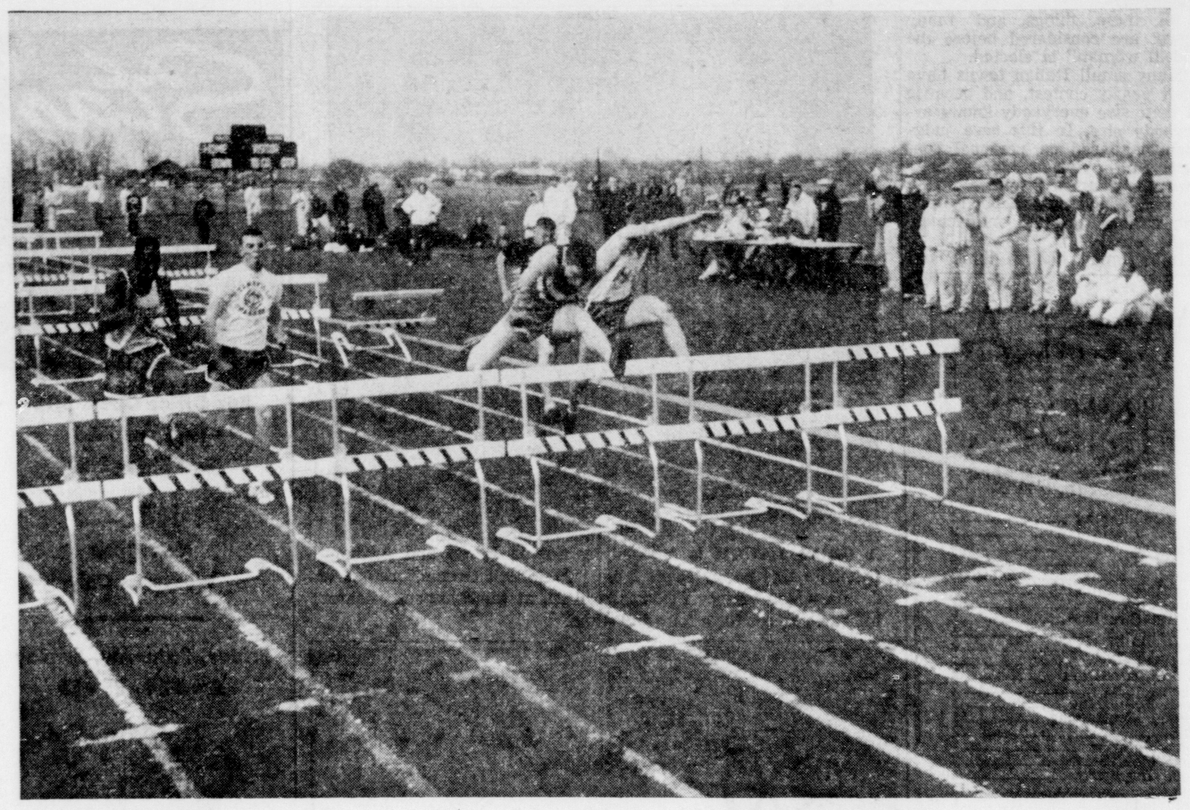
3 All-Star Players

Michigan State placed three players on the 1958 All-Big Ten baseball team.



RACING TO A RECORD is Ken Gordon (second from right) of Palatine who ran the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.4, a tenth of a second faster than the former Lake Shore meet record. Close on his heels are Walton (right) of Highland Park who was second and Ed Whitelaw (not shown) of Arlington who was third in the extreme left lane. Ken Houston (left) of North Chicago was fourth and Bob O'Neil (second from right) of Arlington finished fifth.

Tough Schedule Faces Card Hurlers

Arlington and Coach Dick Kinneman sure need a proven third pitcher in a bad way.

With so many postponed games due to rain and cold weather, the Cardinals are scheduled to play four games in six days.

Look at the tough schedule.

—FRIDAY Arlington goes to Des Plaines to meet the league's co-leader, Maine, whom they nudged 3-2 the first time. No doubt the state champs will be seeking revenge.

—MONDAY the Cards host dangerous Downers Grove, which has eight of nine regulars back. This was the team which gave Arlington an 8-4 thumping a few weeks ago.

—TUESDAY the Cards make up a postponed game by hosting York which has been playing nearly .500 ball of late.

—WEDNESDAY the Cards are at home to the WSC's other co-leader, LaGrange, a team which edged the Red Birds, 6-5, on a five-run second inning.

Kinneman has only two reliable starters, Gene Dahlquist and Don Gerken. Dahlquist pitched a 2-hitter Tuesday against Riverside-Brookfield. Gerken was to have hurled Wednesday against Hinsdale.

Chances are Dahlquist will get the call to stop Maine for a second time. This time Coach Al Carsten's team will be ready for Arlington. Rich Peterson hurled the first game against Arlington. With a week's layoff due to postponements, it is likely that Peterson got the call Wednesday against seventh place Glenbard and Jim Humay, top hurler in the West Suburban conference, will go against Arlington Friday.

Gerken may be able to start Monday's game against Downers Grove, but who will pitch Tuesday against York is a mystery.

Kinneman has George Bork, Dave Soenksen and Dave Zimmerman on the mound staff but none proved effective in an 8-4 clubbing by Downers Grove. One of these boys will be on the spot to keep Arlington in contention for the West Suburban baseball crown.

Dahlquist, rested from the Friday before, is expected to pitch against LaGrange in an attempt to avenge his only defeat.

Al Sander has returned to his catching position after a minor injury and Tom Broderick has replaced Keith Voight at shortstop. Kinneman commended Broderick for his play this week against the opposition, by handling all chances flawlessly.

The two boys who have been supplying punch to the Cardinal batting order of late are lead-off batter Fred Boedeker who has been driving the runs across the plate and No. 6 man in the lineup, Art Tews, who has been getting on base with regularity and scoring.

Palatine Freshmen Beat Cards

Scattering nine singles, Keene pitched Palatine's freshman "A" baseball team to a 5-0 victory over Arlington Tuesday afternoon at Recreation park in Arlington Heights.

The Pirates opened the encounter with four runs in the first. Cardinal Catcher Laden let the door open when he let a third strike for the third out get by him. Then Palatine made the most of its five hits.

Palatine's fifth run in the third scored on another Arlington miscue. The Cardinals had four bobbles compared to a flawless defense for the Pirates.

Arlington Tennis Team Second in Quadrangular

Coach Ken Schaller's Arlington varsity tennis team gave a good accounting of itself in the LaGrange quadrangular Saturday.

The Card netters finished second in a quadrangular with West Aurora, Wheaton and the host Lions in which no score was kept officially.

In an unofficial point total, West Aurora had 11 points, Arlington nine, LaGrange eight and Wheaton two. The Cardinals after losing to West Aurora, 3-2, turned back Wheaton, 4-1, and then edged LaGrange, 3-2.

West Aurora, after topping the Cards, beat LaGrange, 3-2, and Wheaton, 5-0. LaGrange beat Wheaton, 4-1.

The Blackhawks won the meet with a well-balanced team. In both the LaGrange and Arlington matches, Aurora's No. 1 and No. 2 singles men fell victims but the No. 3 singles entry and both doubles teams came through in all matches.

The match which captured second for Arlington was Steve Scheffer and Bill Thompson's victory over Dave Johnson and Steve Marsh of LaGrange in the final match.

The Lion duo won the first set, 6-2, but then Scheffer and Thompson rallied to win the second, 6-4. LaGrange had match point five times in the final set, but the Cardinal team warded off every threat and went on to win, 12-10.

Jim Erickson, playing No. 1 singles won every match but the one against Don Walter of LaGrange, who took three sets in which to turn the trick. Bob Inman won all three matches with no one coming closer than 6-3 in any set.

Von Boeckman fell twice in his No. 3 singles matches and Scheffer once to Marty Ormond of West Aurora. Ormond is an ambidextrous player.

Jay Wheelock and Bill Spomer won two of their three doubles matches, bowing only to West Aurora in three hard-fought sets.

Ties for Second

Stan Norman, Arlington Heights sophomore at Grinnell college, high jumped 5-11 at the Cornell Relays April 11, good for a second place tie.

Arlington Golfers Tackle 3 WSC Foes This Week

Three West Suburban golf matches within the next week will determine how good Coach Ed Spacapan's linksmen are.

Friday the Cardinals host Maine. Monday York invades the Rolling Green course. Then next Thursday Arlington meets what is considered their toughest West Suburban opponent, LaGrange at LaGrange.

Though their scores rose slightly last week against Waukegan and Riverside-Brookfield, Dave Ebert and Al Kruse continued to lead the Cardinal team. Bob Sbarbaro is No. 3, Dwight Pate No. 4 and Wally Borman No. 5. So far this year, all five have played in all matches.

1,000 Athletes To Compete

Saturday will be like a Roman holiday near Colfax and Fremont sts. in Palatine. The occasion will be the gathering of nearly 1,000 trackmen for the 27th annual Palatine Relays.

If past weeks are any indication, the weather will be unpredictable when the Relays open at Ost field at 9 a.m. Field event and two mile and high hurdle shuttle relay finals will be in the morning. All other track finals are on the afternoon program which begins at 1 p.m.

R-B Golf Team Tops Card Sophs

Riverside-Brookfield handed Arlington a 6½-2½ setback Monday in the opening frosh soph golf match in the West Suburban conference for both high schools.

Louthain scored the only win for Coach Charles Aldrich's team, a 2-1 decision over Gramer of R-B. Louthain carded a 46-34—80 and Gramer a 45-38—83 in their 16-hole match.

Malloy edged Wallhoff of Arlington in their match, 2½-½. Malloyshota 48-39 and Wallhoff was one stroke behind with 48-40—88 also in a 16-hole match.

In the No. match R-B's Kraska soundly defeated Dick Palmer of Arlington in 13 holes. Kraska shot a 48-19—67 and Palmer's score was 50-25—75.

Soph Golfers Lose To Waukegan Team

Arlington's frosh-soph golf team suffered its first defeat of the season Friday, a 7½-2½ loss to Waukegan at Rolling Green country club.

Bulldog Slobe shot a 44-16 to win 3-0 though Bill Palmer had a 45-18 for the Cardinals in the 12-hole match. Louthain then registered a 2-1 triumph, besting Blomstrom. Louthain carded a 45-16—61 for 12 holes and Blomstrom, 44-18—62.

The best score of the day was shot by Smith who carded a 41-17—58 for Waukegan in beating Cardinal Wallhoff who shot, 48-15, 2½-½.

Old-stand-bys returning include York, Riverside-Brookfield, Maine, LaGrange, Leyden East and Arlington.

Though North Chicago, third last year, and Ottawa, 1957 champion, won't be at Palatine in 1959, schools such as Carl Sandburg, St. Procopius of Lisle, Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst, St. Thomas of Rockford, Zion-Benton, and Leaf River will be making their first appearance.

Returning schools include Antioch, Barrington, Batavia, Crystal Lake, DeKalb, Dundee, Grayslake, Lake Forest, Lake Park, Naperville, Oregon, Palatine, St. Charles, Sycamore, Wauconda and Woodstock.

There will be no defending champion returning. In fact, only one record will be in danger. That is Dick Winterbauer's 56-3¾ put in the shot. Most likely to break the mark is Maine's Bob Neuman who tossed the 12-pound weight 57-10 at Oak Park in an indoors meet.

One other class A mark might be tied. Bill Johns of Libertyville has gone 6-2 in the high jump. This is the record height set by Zacco of Geneva in 1938.

Dick Bader of Arlington will be around in the 100 yard dash where he is favored though Mitchell Wilson of Crane is expected to be close behind. Palatine's Dick Welty is the Class B favorite in the 100, in which he placed second in 1958.

Mile run favorite in Class A is Rich Fisdra of Riverside-Brookfield, second at Oak Park. The Class B pick is the day's top man, Steve Newcomber of Leaf River ran a 4:38.3 mile to win at Oak Park.

Individual events will not have the importance that the six relay events will have since the relays are worth twice as many points as individual events.

R-B Beaten on Diamond On 2-Hitter by Dahlquist

On the strength of Gene Dahlquist's two hitter, Arlington's varsity baseball team moved into a second place tie in West Suburban conference Tuesday.

The Cardinals, making up a postponed game, defeated Riverside-Brookfield, 3-0, at Riverside. Arlington got nine hits off Rich Jarom in driving him from the mound after six innings.

ARLINGTON'S first run in the third inning came with two outs. Fred Boedeker was safe on a fielder's choice, advanced to second when Steve Broderick was hit by a pitched ball, and scored on Bill McMillan's single. Lee Magnuson then singled to load the sacks, but that's as far as the rally went.

Coach Dick Kinneman's team did even better in the fourth, scoring their final two runs. Art Tews opened by singling. He advanced to second on Chuck Staral's sacrifice. Tews took third when Al Sander was safe on an error by Ron Lukas at short. Sander then stole second.

After Dahlquist struck out for the second out, oBedeker singled the two runners across. That was the extent of Arlington's scoring.

DAHLQUIST pitched nearly as well as when he tossed a no-hitter at Hinsdale. Only one man, Ron Kosta got on base. Kosta singled with one down in the first but was left stranded there. He doubled in the seventh and got to third to be stranded there. No walks were issued or errors committed.

The competitive Cardinal hurler fanned 10 Bulldogs. He struck out the side in the second and sixth innings and got two more in the third via the strikeout route.

The win gave Arlington a 4-2 record and Dahlquist a 2-1 mark this season. In 20 innings of pitching this year, Dahlquist has given up just five hits.

Elgin Tennis Team Falls To Card Sophs

Cold winds Monday couldn't stop Arlington's frosh-soph tennis team from taking a 5-0 triumph over Elgin Monday afternoon on the Cardinal courts.

One doubles team, that of Vaughn Kirchoff and Dave Wollerman, needed three sets to win their match. The other four entries won in straight sets.

Jerry Hawkins did the top job Monday, winning over Jerry Baker of Elgin, 6-0, 6-1.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

27th Palatine Relays Saturday

SATURDAY WITH THE running of the 27th Palatine Relays comes the outstanding annual event on the sports scene in Palatine. It was 27 years ago on a cold windy April Saturday that Carl Megel brought together seven schools to compete in an invitational track meet at Palatine. Jack Grose of Arlington, Owen Metcalf of Crystal Lake, Dan Horne of Harvard, Larry Dale of Woodstock, Paul Clark of Barrington and John Trapp of Bensenville brought their teams to this meet destined to grow into the two class relay meet of today which has had as many as 50 schools competing. Carl Megel is now president of the American Federation of Teachers. The writer of this column has helped in the running of all 27 of the Palatine Relays and Coach Owen Metcalf of Crystal Lake has had a team in all of them.

J. E. Stutzman who came to Palatine in 1942 has been meet manager since 1945 and had the most to do with making it a big event and getting large schools to compete at Palatine. Howard Stinson who joined the Palatine high staff at about the same time as Stutzman, and Coach Dick Welty, who took over track coaching soon after, have been the key people in the running of the meet in recent years along with Hale Hildebrandt of the class of 1941 who has had a big hand in the meet since he became a high school manager as a freshman in 1937.

Arlington Class A Champ 8 Times

LOCAL INTEREST IN TRACK at Palatine and Arlington has not always brought contenders in this big meet but has been a big factor in the encouragement of high class track teams. Over the years Arlington has won the most class "A" championships eight times. The Cards won titles in 1933, 1935, 1937, 1943, 1946, 1948, 1950, and 1951. Palatine's win last year placed them at the top of class "B" winners with six championships won in 1941, 1942, and 1943 when the writer of this column was coach and in 1954, 1955, and 1958 under Welty's direction. This last win retired the George Spies traveling trophy to the Palatine display case and Bloom retired the "A" trophy with their third straight victory.

This year new traveling trophies are being placed in competition by the George Spies Company which are the finest awards ever presented at the meet. In addition, permanent trophies will be awarded to both first and second team winners in each class and to the winner of each relay in each class. Individuals get medals for five places in both relay and individual events.

Meet Postponed Only Once

THE MEET HAS BEEN POSTPONED just once and that was the 24th running when an all day rainstorm made a lake of the field. This year Palatine has had the high jump, shot, and discus areas blacktopped so that rain cannot hamper the conduct of these events. Weather will not stop the meet but can have a lot to do with the kind of records set. The meet has been run from 30 degree temperatures to 85 degrees.

This year a big meet started at Waukegan has drawn away some of the larger schools including three time winner, Bloom Township and Waukegan, Highland Park, North Chicago, Glenbrook, Proviso, and Niles Township. However the West Suburban League is sticking with the Palatine meet with Arlington, Maine, LaGrange, York, and Riverside-Brookfield competing. The addition of Phillips, Dunbar, and Crane from the Chicago City League and Bremen, Rich Township, and Reavis from the Southwest Suburban means that the class of competition will not drop with the loss of a few teams. There will still be 23 teams in class "B" and 14 in class "A".

1955 Was a Banner Year

THE TOP EVENT in the past 26 years of the meet was 1955 when a record entry of 23 "A" schools and 28 in the "B" class set 14 new records and broke 13 of the 16 track marks. The meet was run on a hot day with no wind hazards. Top four teams in the "A" class that day were East Aurora 43, Bloom 37, York 32, and East Rockford 22 for the lowest winning total in the history of the meet. Palatine won "B" with 65 5/14 points followed by West Aurora 45 6/7, Mooseheart 42½, and North Chicago 28 6/7.

Oldest record on the books is the 12-5 pole vault mark set by Merwin of Woodstock in 1935. A record of 6-2 in the high jump by Zacco of Geneva in 1938 has stood the test of many good high jumpers but now with black topped takeoffs the mark may be easier to break. Greatest marks on the books in our opinion are the 4:25.1 mile by Jim Bowers of DeKalb in 1955 and the 56-3¾" shotput and 163-3½" discuss throw by Dick Winterbauer of Arlington in 1954.

Ten Years Ago

FEW RECORDS SEEM TO BE IN DANGER but over 30 schools will compete in the 17th annual Palatine Relays on Saturday. New marks have been set every year the meet has been run. "Mac Says" picks Arlington to win class "A" as Coach Creamear has 14 lettermen . . . Arlington and Elgin tied 4-4 in baseball in an extra inning nine frame game with Bill Robinson on the hill all the way for Coach Wally Grace's nine . . . Palatine scored 14 points in the Geneseo Relays last Saturday but the winner, Hall Township, will be up Saturday to try for the "B" championship in the Palatine Relays.

Twenty Years Ago

BENSENVILLE SCORED 63 to 42½ for Arlington and 30½ for Palatine in a triangular track meet as Speckman won the 100 and 220 and Baumgartner copped the shot and discus. Palatine's soph 440 man, Bob Hollinger, was beaten by a tenth of a second by Vance Folman, ace of Arlington's team in :55.4. Soph John Senne won the varsity 880 in 2:14 for the Pirates . . . Bensenville and Geneva are the favorites in "B" and Naperville in "A" class as the seventh annual Palatine Relays approach. G. A. McElroy of "Mac Says" was interviewed concerning the Palatine Relays over radio on the program "Voice of the West Towns." . . . Palatine whipped Leyden, 75-47, and West Chicago, 85-37, in track meets the past week. Stewart and Howes set school records of 10-0 in the pole vault and Bob Hollinger set new Palatine marks of :24.4 in the 220 and :54.6 in the 440.

PLAYING THE NET, Tom Von Boeckmann, one half of Arlington's No. 1 doubles team, gets set for a return in Monday's match against Elgin. Heand Steve Scheffer won easily in straight sets despite 35 degree temperatures.

Cardinal Sophs Win Lake Shore

Arlington's frosh-soph mile relay team came through with the pressure on to give the Cardinal underclassmen the frosh-soph division title of the Lake Shore track and field meet Saturday at Glenbrook.

Ahead of Highland Park by just two and a half points entering the final event, the Card relay team of Frank Hermes, Lars Anderson, Fred Lussow and Jim Glidden kept ahead of Highland Park all the way to thwart the North Shore team's attempt to overcome the Cards.

Actually, Niles surprised all with its strength in the dashes and is in contention until the next to the last event, the 440-yard freshman relay.

Palatine, which finished fourth, might have made the meet a four-way race had its hurdlers not missed their steps and tumbled on the hurdles in both the high and low preliminaries.

Niles led all teams with three individual and one relay champion, but it did not have the over-all balance that Arlington possessed. The Cards were shutout of points only in the 100 and 880 relay. Niles failed to score in seven of the 15 events. Highland Park missed in only three.

Arlington winners, in addition to the mile relay team, were Darryl Phillips in the shotput and Hermes in the 440.

Palatine had two champions. The only freshman to win an event, Gene Meyer, leaped 19-1½ in the broad jump. The other Pirate was Bill Smith who tossed the discus 129-11 3/8.

Fred Cosby of North Chicago set two hurdle records, winning the highs in :16.2 and the lows in :21.6. Mike Koenig set a pole vault record for Glenbrook with a 10-6 vault.

The fourth record was made by Walker of Highland Park in the mile. He ran it in 4:59.3. Goldman tied the high jump record of 5-6 for Niles.

Table of Points

Arlington	43½	Libertyville	25
Highland Pk.	40	Glenbrook	24
Niles	34	N. Chicago	20
Palatine	27½	Waukegan	11

Card Tennis Team Meets 5 Opponents

Winning its first match by a 4-1 score, Arlington's tennis team takes on three West Suburban and two non-conference foes within the next week.

Coach Ken Schaller's team goes to Maine to face the Blue Demons today. Friday the Cards host New Trier, whom they beat 5-0, in a non-conference test.

Tuesday Arlington's netters are at York. Wednesday they slip in a non-league encounter against Proviso East at home, and next Thursday they face LaGrange at LaGrange.

Last weekend the Cards edged LaGrange for second in a quadrangular by edging the Lions, 3-2. On that team as No. 1 doubles man was Bill Thompson whom Schaller has sent to the soph squad where he won easily Tuesday as the No. 1 singles player.

Jim Erickson is still playing No. 1 on the varsity, Bob Inman No. 2 and Tom Von Boeckmann No. 3. Steve Scheffer is on the No. 1 doubles team and Jay Wheelock and Bill Spomer the No. 2 duo.

Niles Whitewashes Card Soph Netters

Niles whitewashed Arlington's frosh-soph tennis team, 5-0, Tuesday, April 14, on the Cardinal courts. Jerry Hawkins, No. 3 singles, came the closest, losing 7-5, 7-5.

Summary:

None Against Niles

Redding (N) beat Sherburne (A), 6-0, 6-1.

Weiss (N) beat Auer (A), 6-3, 6-1.

Rucins (N) beat Hawkins, 7-5, 7-5.

Carter and Pishop (N) beat Bohac and Wollerman (A), 6-0, 6-0.

Wolfes and Oshler (N) beat Gehrke and Kirchoff (A), 8-6, 6-2.

Cards Win Lake Shore Track Meet

Balance was the key as Arlington's varsity trackmen walked away with their third consecutive title at the fourth annual Lake Shore track and field meet at Glenbrook high school Saturday.

The Cardinals placed fourth or better in every event to rack up 62 2/5, 21 points higher than runner-up Highland Park.

Despite chilly 45 degree temperatures, five meet records were broken and one tied. A 14 mile per hour wind out of the northeast helped speed along runners to records in both dashes and hurdles. In the high jump, the wind, more than likely, prevented a record.

ARLINGTON AND third-place North Chicago, just 3/10 of a point behind Highland Park, tied with four firsts each. Each won three individual events and each captured a relay. The Hawks edged the Cards by .3 seconds in the 880 relay but Arlington retaliated by capturing the mile relay in record 3:31.6.

Palatine, a solid fourth both from above and below, also won three individual firsts. One Pirate, Ken Gordon, was the individual star of the meet, winning both hurdles to become the only one of 160 trackmen to win two events. Gordon ran the highs in :15.4 to break the old mark of :15.5 which he tied in the preliminaries. In the lows, Gordon ran the 180 yards in :20.5 in the prelims to tie that record.

The mass of Arlington's points came in the dashes at 100, 220 and 440 yards. Coach Russ Attis' thinclads scored 23 of their points in those three events alone.

THE 100 WAS especially fruitful for Arlington. Rich Bader tied a meet record by winning in :10.3 and teammate Charlie Yager surprised by finishing second. Third in the field was North Chicago's Jimmy Jones and fourth Palatine's Dick Welty, who broke the old 100 mark of :10.4 set by Gary Windels of Glenbrook in 1956 and tied by Bader last year. Welty's time was :10.3 in the preliminaries.

Arlington picked up seven points in the 220 when Bader finished second and Yager was on his heels in third. Jones won the event and by so doing it marked the first time this season Bader has not crossed the finish line first out of doors. Bader was a tenth of a second behind Jones who ran the 220 in :22.9. This was .6 seconds slower than Jones' record :22.3 in the preliminaries.

The Cardinals scored another seven points in the 440. Mike Dundy came home second and Tony Stavros third. As was the case five days before, Welty raced the quarter mile in :52.0 to capture the event by three yards. Welty took a big lead on the back stretch but when they rounded out of the final curve Dundy was closing ground.

CARDINAL DISTANCE Coach Bob Scott knew before the race that the 1957 mile relay mark of 3:35.6 set by Highland Park wasn't going to stand and it didn't. Tony Stavros started for the Card quartet. Good handoffs helped Bill Dodge and Jon Hawkins keep up the pace. Then Dundy roared home, crossing the finish line in 3:31.6, six seconds ahead of second place North Chicago.

In the mile, Wendall Hall gave a blazing display of speed on the final lap as he roared ahead of John Farr of Highland Park and Ken Courter of Arlington to win in record 4:45.5. This was a second and a half better than Dan Kusek's mark for Palatine last year.

Gordon set the fifth record Saturday when he reached the wire two yards ahead of Walton of Highland Park in the 120-yard low hurdles. His time was :15.4, a tenth of a second better than the old mark set by Fred Scott of North Chicago last year and tied by Gordon in the preliminaries.

ONCE AGAIN in the lows, Gordon reached the wire first, just two feet ahead of Jerry Oglesby. Gordon was timed in :20.7, equalling Bob Lockwood's mark for Arlington last year.

Content to be a follower until the final turn, Chuck Phelan took the lead on the final turn to win the 880-yard run going away in 2:05.5. Isiah Turner of Waukegan paced the half milers on the first lap. March then took the lead, only to have Phelan win by eight yards.

North Chicago captured the 880 in 1:34.3, more than a second off the record. Arlington was second by .3 seconds which sent a howl up from the Cardinal coaches since their lads did not run in the same heat as North Chicago though both won their respective heats easily.

SOPHOMORE George Allen gave Arlington one of the most spectacular wins with an 11-0 vault. This was six inches better than Bill Ross could do for Highland Park. Five vaulters were bunched for third at 10 feet.

Frank Palandri got off one of the state's best outdoor puts to win the shot at 53-5¼.

This was four feet further than Denny Striegel threw in taking third for Arlington and six feet better than Don Smith recorded Palatine.

Ron Leafblad gave Waukegan its only first with a 137-10¼ heave in the discus. This was eight inches further than Mike Hill threw for Libertyville. Hill also was second in the shotput.

BILL JOHNS won the high jump easily at 5-11½, nearly six inches higher than Jerry Cohen of Highland Park. Johns was only a half inch short of the record and might have broken it had he not been jumping into the wind from a none too good takeoff.

Table of Points

Soph Trackmen Thump Hinsdale By 92-26 Count

Winning all but one of 14 events, Arlington's frosh-soph track team had no trouble disposing of Hinsdale, 92-26, Tuesday afternoon on the quarter mile track behind Arlington high school.

Darrly Phillips, Dutch Leonard and Bob Miles each won two events. Phillips was tops in the shotput and discus. Leonard captured both hurdles. Miles streaked home first in both dashes.

Hinsdale's lone win was Lynn in the pole vault at 9-6.

State Track Honor Roll

By BILL BECKMAN

This year's prep trackmen are well ahead of last year in times and distances. The second week of the Honor Roll finds that in practically all events the performances exceed those of last year at this time.

The 100 yard dash continues to have excellent times with eight boys running :10.1 or under. The biggest change this week came in the 440 and the 880. Five boys have run under :52 flat with two local boys in the group. Dick Welty of Palatine had times of :51.5, :51.8 and :52 during the past week and should soon be under :51.

Arlington's Mike Dundy gained Honor Roll recognition in three events the 440, 880 and mile. This was the first time that Dundy had ever run the half and the mile in competition and he turned in times of 2:01.9 and 4:45.

The mile showed Marv Silliman of Kankakee with 4:28.5. Many of the track experts rate this year's mile competitors the best ever as a group. The hurdles saw Ed West of Bloom and a new co-leader in the person of Arlington's Ed Whitelaw. Whitelaw in a dual meet with Hinsdale topped the timbers in :14.8. In the lows West still dominates the field with an excellent :19.6.

The shot put is one event that has improved each year. It is predicted that a throw of 57 feet to be a state finalist will not be too uncommon in the near future. Barbizzi, of Bloom, Richardson, of Alton, Neuman, of Maine, and Cox, of Galesburg, are the leaders here. A new state record in the pole vault may be established this year. Jefferson of Bloom, Wolfe of Centralia, Nelson of LaGrange, Hunter of Alton, Harshbarger of Champaign and Sutherland of Oak Park are all capable of going over 13 feet. The other field events are all running about the same as in past years.

Michigan State's 1958 baseball team led the Big Ten in team batting with a .310 percentage.

THURSDAY, APR. 23, 1959

Wildcats Open Big Ten Baseball Chase Friday

Northwestern's baseball team that split even on a four-game southern trip and swept a double header with the Chicago Illini in its home opener, will launch its Big Ten schedule Friday against Purdue at Lafayette followed by a double header against Illinois at Champaign Saturday.

Coach Fred Lindstrom, starting his 11th season at the Wildcat helm, will open the conference campaign with a lineup consisting of seven lettermen and two sophomores. Several other newcomers are coming fast and may dislodge veterans before the season has advanced very far.

THE WILDCATS could come up with a formidable pitching staff on the basis of performance this spring. Norm Nedde, senior left hander, has won both his starts this spring and his twin brother, Nelson, a junior, has looked effective in all of his appearances. He has a 1-0 record.

One of the pleasant surprises of the pre-conference campaign has been the performance of Fred Kepler, sophomore left hander from Miami, Fla., who has won two games against no defeats and now ranks as the No. 3 hurler on the staff.

The Wildcats have good strength in the catching department with Russ Schallert, last year's starter, on hand, plus Mike Stock, a sophomore, and Tom Meyer, a senior. Stock, fullback on the football team, looked impressive on the southern trip and may become the No. 1 catcher in which event Schallert would move to first base.

Classic Bowler Beats Krumske

Joe Cordulack carried the colors of the Paddock Classic traveling league onto the TV screen Saturday night and walked off with top honors when he defeated Paul Krumske.

Cordulack came through with the strikes when he needed them in the tenth frame of the third game, and defeated Krumske 610-598 on the live bowling show on TV.

This Saturday night Cordulack will oppose all-star champ Billy Welu.

JOE OPENED with 205 against Krumske last week, with Paul suffering a 159 opener. Cordulack also took the second game 212-203 for a 55 pin lead going into the final encounter.

The Paddock Classic traveling league kegler kept rolling along in good style, though Krumske was strong the third game. Crucial moment came in the tenth for Cordulack when he struck and spared to cinch the series by two pins.

Krumske had a strike in the ninth, followed with one in the tenth, but then spared for a 12-pin series loss to Cordulack. Krumkel hit 236, Cordulack 195 the third game.

Husky Baseball Team At Western Friday

With the home opener finally out of the way, Northern Illinois University's baseball team goes to Macomb for a three-game series with Western Illinois University Friday and Saturday.

NIU's Huskies will play one game on Friday afternoon and a doubleheader on Saturday. Coach Black expects to use left hander Joe Plaskas as pitcher and Tom Laffey as catcher in the Friday contest.

Cream, Crimson Day May 2 at Indiana

—Indiana's 13th annual Cream and Crimson Day, the Hoosiers' spring sports festival and traditional wind-up to spring football practice, will be staged May 2.

Chief attraction of the day, and drawing the most anticipation in many years in view of last year's revitalizig 5-3-1 record, will be the intra-squad football game. Coach Phil Dickens, attempting to fill the holes left by graduation from a sophomore-heavy squad, will put his squad on exhibition at 2 p.m., CDT, in Memorial Stadium.

Preceding the football game will be a tennis meet

Flood Up-Ends Victor 3 Times; Takes Tenpin Lead

Paddock Classic Traveling League went topsy-turvy Saturday night with Flood Engineering assulting Victor Electric all three games to go into first place. James Stavros also won three contests from Johnson's Sporting Goods to take second, just a half game out of the lead. Victor was pushed down to third, another half game behind.

Pressure to stay in first place was evidently too much for the Electricians. John Ribando hit 233 and Al Walter 200 to lead the attempt to stay up there for a 946 game, but the Engineers were not to be denied as Ed Dudek came through with a 255 and the team 975. Both teams dropped below 900 the second tilt, but the electricians fell faster in spite of Ed Duff's 207. Flood Engineering came back into classic competition with a 1017 the third tilt, including 238 by Chris Pulos and 225 by Chuck Duwe. Dudek's 626 was tops for the 10 men.

James Stavros traveled from Jeffery lanes to Des Plaines Bowling lanes to take all three tilts from Johnson's Sports, though just two of the six team games were over the 900 mark. It was a bad night for most everyone concerned, though Bill Harris did much to card a pair of 200 games. The victories moved Stavros up with Flood Engineering so that the Wheeling team is currently a mere half notch out of first place. The two squads will meet at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling this Saturday night starting at 6:30.

NRG Construction won two games from Beverly Lanes with 940 and 950, after Beverly had taken the first tilt with 951. High man for the two teams was Frank Graff with a 255 opener and 623 series. Tops for the Palatine fivesome was Ron Fogarett with 207-232 and 612.

This week Johnson's Sporting Goods will travel to Beverly Lanes, Arlington Heights; Flood Engineering will compete against Jamse Stavros at Jeffery in Wheeling; and NRG Construction will be host to Victor Electric at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine. All games are scheduled to start at 6:30.

Final night of league competition is scheduled for Saturday, May 2, with all six teams bowling at the Barrington Ten Pin.

Classic Bowlers Meet Saturday To Plan 1960 Tenpin Program

Competitive plans for next year in the Paddock Classic traveling league will head the agenda this Saturday, April 25, when officers and franchise holders meet at Gunnell's at 1 p.m.

Several questions are expected to be decided Saturday, including whether the league should expand to eight squads next fall, whether all six teams should bowl together or in single pairs, and areas from which each franchise holder can draw his team members.

THE PADDOCK league was formed two years ago to provide top flight competition for the better bowlers of the area, keeping all of the personnel "local." Paddock Publications sports department agreed to give all editorial help possible and was honored when the loop was named Paddock Classic.

Bowlers were to be drawn from the area served by the Paddock newspapers, though difficulties have occasionally arisen when bowlers with specific averages were needed. Six bowling house proprietors agreed to "go along" with the new loop, earmarking certain alleys each Saturday night.

FIRST YEAR was a success though there were many growing pains along the way. Here and there were bowlers in the 190 bracket. This season the averages have jumped to where 12 men are in the magic 190 bracket, plus Casper DeWitz over 200. Fame of the loop is spreading.

Current plans for next year include building all teams up to the top average of this season, currently 956 of Flood Engineering. Some thoughts have been expressed as to expansion of the loop, which brings up other questions as to just how "local" the league should remain, whether brand new houses can field a "local" team strong enough for the loop at this time, and other technical obstacles that may be decided this week.

THE QUESTION of all six teams bowling together each night of the season instead of single pairs five nights, then all six in a position night, is also slated to be decided. Comparison of averages reveals the bowlers have lower averages when they are all together, contrary to thoughts expressed by some members of the league.

The bowlers and their wives are already making plans for the annual banquet May 23 at Dick's Corral with franchise holders and sponsors also invited. Bill Harris is chairman of the banquet committee and is making big plans for the dinner.

Whether a championship roll-off will be necessary May 9 at Beverly Lanes is a big question at this time. Flood Engineering, which copped the first half title, moved into first place in the second half Saturday night by disposing of Victor Electric all three games. Victor dropped to third as James Stavros moved into second.

Southern Golfers Rack Up 6 Wins

Southern Illinois University's golfers continue their weekend against Eastern Michigan's Hurons at West Frankfort.

Coach Lynn Holder's youngsters currently stand at 6-0 with victories over Southeast Missouri, St. Louis University and Illinois Normal (2), and Eastern Illinois (2).

Boots & Saddles

by LIZ ALANNE

Many of the words in horse terminology have been frequently misused and confused in describing an animal. Most frequently misused are "thoroughbred," "purebred" and "type."

One may hear a person refer to a "thoroughbred Arabian" or "thoroughbred Morgan" when in reality he means purebred.

A PUREBRED horse is one which is registered in the studbook of a specific breed. A purebred Morgan is a horse whose sire and dam are both 100 per cent Morgan in breeding.

A thoroughbred is a breed by itself, one with its own characteristics and studbook. In other words, one may own a purebred thoroughbred or a purebred Arabian but not a thoroughbred Arabian.

In turn, purebred is often confused by people with crossbred. A novice may refer to a horse as a purebred Morgan-Arabian. The parents of this horse may be purebreds, but the individual is a crossbred. Becaue he is a combination of specific breeds, he may not be registered as a purebred in either breed studbook.

ANOTHER WAY of describing a horse of mixed breeding is by calling him a grade horse. This indicates that the animal may be the result of the breeding of several definite breeds but that he has maintained a fairly good percentage of one breed. For example, a horse whose sire was of Morgan-Arabian breeding and whose dam was of Morgan-Quarter horse breeding would probably maintain many of the Morgan characteristics, although modified by introduction of the other breeding. He would be a grade Morgan.

Type refers more to the characteristics of a given horse than to his ancestry. One may find a wild range horse of unknown background which has a resemblance in characteristics to a given breed such as a Quarter horse. He would be described as being "quarter type" but is in no way a purebred Quarter horse.

ONE WILL also find types within a breed as it is improved and changed by selective breeding. In the Quarter horse breed, one will find horses which range from the running or racing type with thoroughbred influences to close-coupled chunky animals which are more suited to cutting and range work. They are all purebred Quarter horses but are of different types due to differences in breeding and the influences of bloodlines within their breed.

The only horse which has not changed in appearance in the history of man is the Arabian. This breed has influenced most of the light horse breeds now existing in the world. No other breed began as a pure breed. All were developed by selective breeding until they developed into stable breeds of their own.

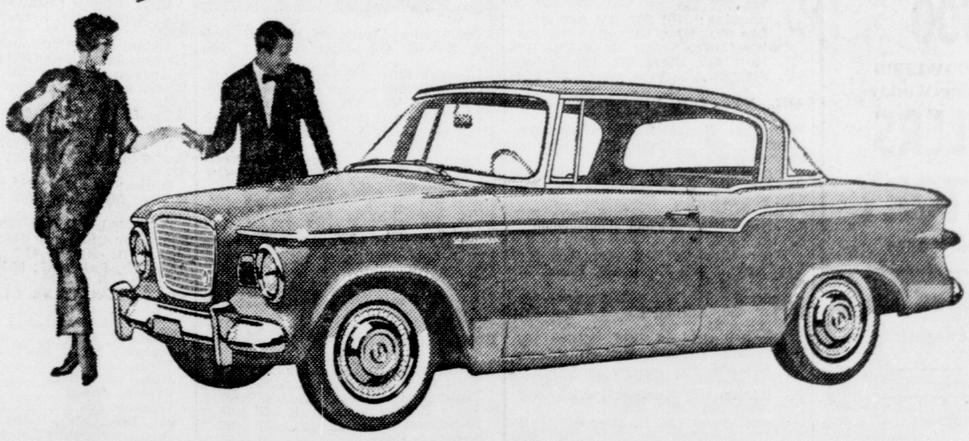
THE LARK BY STUDEBAKER

Come in and drive The Lark—compare it with any other car for value. You'll find The Lark stands alone. SIZE—three feet shorter than conventional cars, yet room for six in spacious comfort. SAVINGS—The Lark costs less to buy, far less to operate—lowest of all insurance rates, far lower gas and maintenance bills. ENGINEERING—skilled Studebaker craftsmanship plus spirited "6" or super-powerful V-8 performance. STYLING—so fashion-right, it's approved by Harper's Bazaar. Wrap-around view of the road, Sapphire-Enamel finish that needs no waxing, handsome interiors in practical vinyls. Small wonder Lark sales are way up (fastest rising sales curve in the industry).



The LARK's amazing gas economy was recently proved in the Mobilgas Economy Run when The LARK V-8 equipped with automatic transmission outscored all other V-8's by delivering 22.28 miles per gallon. The LARK "six" turned in even better mileage. The LARK is available as a 2 and 4-door sedan, station wagon and hardtop. Overdrive also optional on all models.

BID SADLER, 3700 Meadow dr., Ernest Powell, 3707 Meadow dr., Ray Rogalski, 3704 Meadow dr., Rolling Meadows, and Ray's boss, Bill Sennot of Berwyn, pose with the 18-pound northern pike Ray caught last September in the Lake of the Woods.

AN EARLIER JUNKET with his wife to Western Ontario's Packwash lake netted Rogalski this 24-pound northern after a half hour battle. Ray says he'd rather fish than do anything else.

Wife Wanda a Member of the Team

Meadows Couple Ontario Bound for the Big Ones

By TOM McSHANE

When the ice breaks on Ontario's Packwash lake this June, a Rolling Meadows man and his wife will be ready.

They'll be back for another try at the mighty fish of Canada's oft-frozen wastes. And if they're as lucky this year as in the past, they'll be happy. And they'll return to the bustling metropolis to wait for another June and another ice-break.

Ray Rogalski and his wife, Wanda, of 3704 Meadow dr., like their fish big. And in the Canadian north they find them that way.

RAY ALREADY has claimed a couple of monstrous northern pike, one 3-feet long weighing 18 pounds, and another 42-inches long weighing 24 pounds.

Besides the northerns, the Rogalskis have taken their limits of walleyes, averaging about 6 pounds apiece, on many occasions.

THE ROGALSKIS fish in Western Ontario twice a year. In June, Ray and his wife journey north of International Falls a couple of hundred miles to Red Lake. From there they fish nearby Packwash.

In the fall, when the surface of the water gets cold again and the big ones journey to the top to feed, Ray comes back with the boys for a stag outing.

Ray is both the guide and the purser for the group. He makes all the arrangements, gets reservations, provides the transportation and food, and collects the money.

Last year the fellows brought back their limits of walleyes and northerns. Among them was Ray's 18-pounder which he caught, like all good fishermen, on the last cast of the day.

Seems the fellows were trolling on the lake towards evening and had just decided to head for camp when Ray cocked his spinning outfit for a final try. As soon as the bait hit the water it disappeared and Ray felt the heavy tug.

HE FOUGHT two battles that evening—one against the pike, the other against the fast-closing darkness and freezing night air that can kill a man on the big lake.

But he won, and the 18-pounder was his, gaffed by his companion just as the boat drifted dangerously close to some submerged tree stumps that could have clipped the line had the fish taken a final dive.

Just three months before, he had a similar experience with the 24-pound pike.

A DAY OR SO after Ray and Wanda reached their Red Lake cabins, they set out on Packwash lake on a bright, clear June morning for what they thought would be a wonderful day's fishing.

About noon the sky became cloudy. They were far out, catching many, and paying little heed to the weather.

In the late afternoon, a tornado hit the lake.

The couple barely made an island a mile away where they found two men from their camp also stranded.

THE FOUR PEOPLE pooled their food, ate a meal, and waited.

The storm mounted. Wind and rain lashed their refuge. Darkness was coming.

Rather than risk the northern night with its freezing temperatures, the group decided to chance the trip across the churning waters to the camp.

They made it just as a search party was gathering to look for them.

THE NEXT DAY Ray and Wanda loaded their boat for another try. After a couple of hours the sky darkened again, and Wanda insisted on returning to camp.

What Ray calls an "argument" followed.

"She was scared and wanted to quit before we got caught again."

While they were arguing, Ray, "just fooling around," flicked his line out.

THERE WAS A TUG, then a steady pull, then a deep run. They both knew he had a big one.

Six times Ray brought the fish to the boat; five times the pike saw the shadow and bolted. On about the fourth run Wanda saw him and hollered. He was very big.

On that sixth rush Ray brought the fish alongside and told Wanda to gaff him. She was afraid. So he gaffed the 24-pounder himself, holding the spinning outfit in one hand and the big hook in the other.

WHEN THE PIKE was in the boat, Ray began shaking. He remembered he was using a six-pound test line.

Yes, the Rogalskis of Rolling Meadows like their fishing thrills big, and the lakes of Western Ontario are filling the bill.

Riessen Directs College, Prep Netters at Same Time

Claire Riessen has a mighty unique position. He is tennis coach for both the Illinois state high school championship tennis team and a Big Ten university team at the same time.

Riessen, earlier this year, was appointed Northwestern university tennis coach following the death of Paul Bennett, who had coached the Wildcats since 1930.

But Riessen also had a contract to fulfill with Hinsdale high school where his teams have won Illinois state championships the past three years.

The solution makes Riessen' job a big one.

He begins the day by serving two hours as a counsellor at Hinsdale high school. Before 11 a.m. he departs for Northwestern university in order to meet the team at 1 p.m. each afternoon. After two hours of practice, he makes a 33-mile return journey to Hinsdale to coach the Red Devil net team.

Next year Riessen will be coaching and instructing only at Northwestern.

Riessen, however, plans to retain his Hinsdale residence through his son's senior year at Hinsdale. Marty, Riessen's son, has won the Illinois singles title as a freshman and sophomore and is odds-on favorite to win it again as a junior this year an as a senior next season.

Marty also is a West Suburban conference all-star basketball player and has made several all-state teams.

Evanston, where Northwestern university is located, would like nothing better than to have Riessen move to the near north suburb. Evanston is the only tennis team to defeat Hinsdale during the past two years, turning the trick both in 1958 and 1959.

Wildkit net Coach Jack Burmaster thinks Evanston would win the title if Riessen would make the move. Most tennis followers think the same way but they also think that because Marty will remain at Hinsdale, the two clubs will have a good scrap for the 1959 Ilinois state championship.

SPEEDCAT

The "Small Size" Tractor For "Big Size" Jobs

PRICE LOW-LIFT F.O.B. CHICAGO

$1995

The greatest innovation in over fifty years for all types of Grading, Excavating and Bulldozing work has been introduced in this area. It is the MEAD "SPEEDCAT," the small size tractor that handles big size jobs.

The Mead "Speedcat" can be used for the construction of Cellars, Driveways, Sewers, Waterlines, Tunnels, Pits, Parking Areas, Swimming Pools, Septic Tanks, Foundation Footings, Stump and Tree Grubbing, Drainage Systems, Buried Conduits, Underground Pipe Lines and other types of work involving the moving of earth and clearing acreage of trees, stumps and stones, etc. The "Speedcat" Backfills earth safely near foundations and trenches, excavates under existing buildings, spreads, levels and carries soil, crawls through mud where other equipment loses traction, Mows vacant lots, rough terrain and brush covered slopes, Grades sidewalks and driveways where space is limited, cleans barnyards, stockpens and chicken coops, pulls heavy loads over rough terrain, maneuvers within limited areas and travels easily in almost any truck.

The Mead "Speedcat" comes in three different models, the SPEEDCAT High Lift Crawler Tractor that will Bulldoze, Dig, Mow and load up to 7 feet, the Low Lift will Dig, Bulldoze, Mow and Carry and the Speedcat Basic that is built for carrying and pulling special equipment through rough or hilly terrain. It is particularly useful in areas where rubber tired equipment or larger machines can not operate. The combination of weight with a large area of ground contact gives pulling power unobtainable with comparable wheel type tractors.

Specifications:

TRACK TYPES

Shallow grouser for use in a wide variety of soil conditions. Deep grouser for use in very soft material such as mud or sand, or on steep grades where additional traction is needed. Rubber grouser for use on concrete or asphalt.

SPEED

ENGINE

Powered by a 4-cycle air-cooled engine. Maximum horsepower rating 9.0 at 3600 RPM.

TRANSMISSION

Dual speed range transmission with 3 speeds forward and 1 reverse in each range. Alloy steel heat-treated gears, and splined shafts operating on ball or roller bearings. Transmission completely enclosed with all parts running in oil. Oil capacity 3½ pints.

STEERING

Jaw clutches of alloy steel, heat-treated and running in oil, provide high and low range for each track in each of the four gears. Turning radius 10'.

HYDRAULIC SYSTEM

5 G.P.M. capacity pump develops 1000 psi — 4-way self-neutralizing control valve. All cylinders are hard burnished steel with hard chrome-plated rams and bronze rodwipers.

CLUTCH

Single-plate dry disc spring loaded clutch — 6" diameter — pressure 38.5 psi — Torque rating 72 ft. lbs.

FINAL TRACK DRIVE

Two heavy cast steel heat-treated bull gears running in oil —completely enclosed to keep out dirt and water. All shafts splined and operating on ball or roller bearings.

SEAT

Bucket type with rubberized padding and back rest.

BOGEY AND LEAD WHEELS

Heavy cast iron with large lubricant reservoirs — "Super Oilite" bearings on hardened and ground axles.

HIGH LIFT YOKE

Heavy duty steel welded and cross braced. Working range is from 8" below grade to 7' 0" above grade with bucket in dump position. Bucket with teeth, bucket with knife edge, dozer blade, or Mott Mower may be used with high lift yoke. Lifting capacity is approximately 1000 lbs. with 100 lbs. in the weight pan.

LOW LIFT YOKE

Working range is from 8" below grade to 12" above grade with bucket in dump position. Bucket with teeth, bucket with knife edge, dozer blade, or Mott Mower may be used with the low lift yoke. Lifting capacity is approximately 1000 lbs. with 100 lbs. in the weight pan.

BUCKETS

Made of heavy gauge reinforced steel; capacity is 5 cu. ft. Buckets with teeth or knife edge available. The standard SPEEDCAT is equipped with hydraulic bucket control, manual dump systems can be supplied.

DOZER BLADE

Can be mounted on tractors with or without hydraulic dumping facilities.

MOTT MOWER

The Mott hammer knife mower will cut a 4' path through dense brush and sapling trees — interchangeable with the buckets and can be mounted on either the high or low lift SPEEDCAT.

Do you recall....
The Woman in the shoe?
She had so many children....
Didn't know what to do?

She needed an older home, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, front and rear porches enclosed and heated. Large living room and separate dining room, oversized kitchen, basement, hot water gas heat, 2-car garage, close to St. James Church and School

... but couldn't afford too much money.
But she was told to....

Ladies...

Here's a well-paying job you'll enjoy...and it's near home!

Our Illinois Bell girls here in Arlington Heights tell us one reason why they like their jobs so much is the fact that they don't have to make that long, tiresome trek into the Loop every day. Most of them come from Arlington Heights and nearby communities, so it's just a matter of minutes to zip home after work.

If you'd like to work near home in a modern, air-conditioned building—with people you'll really like—come in and let us talk to you about joining the telephone team in Arlington Heights. We have some unusually appealing, well-paying jobs open in general office work and some office specialists, such as tabulating machine operator and key punch operator.

Hours are convenient—and you earn as you learn. You get paid vacations, regular raises, plus many other benefits. There's absolutely no reason for you to battle the crowds into the Loop every day when you can have the ideal job so near home! Make a note to do something about it—right away! Here's the person to see or call:

MRS. MILLIE MARCOUX
44 S. VAIL ST., ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
CLearbrook 5-6100, Extension 203

ATTENTION: 1959 JUNE GRADUATES—YOU MAY APPLY NOW!

3 FINE OPPORTUNITIES

1. Secretary

A thorough orientation program is administered to acquaint you with our company before you assume the important responsibility of secretary in the sales division. An ideal position for a personable woman with above avreage office skills.

2. Key Punch Trainee

An opening in the challenging field of IBM is rare. Will train qualified typist or will consider experienced key punch operator. Opportunity to advance to other IBM equipment.

3. Clerk-Typist

Offers a bright future after completion of training. Some general office experience plus light typing skills to qualify.

North Cook Federation Meet April 9

The North Cook county Federation meeting was called to order April 9 by the president, Herb Schmid. Pledges to the flags were given by all present. Roll call by clubs was taken and the secretary's report was read and approved.

Committees were appointed to help with the Share-The-Fun to be given May 14 at Arlington high school. Registrations will start at 6:30 p.m. and the program begins at 7 p.m. sharp.

Mr. Fizzell presented a bill for song books and other miscellaneous items.

New reporters for the Federation are Phyllis Hinrichs and Beverly Pohlman.

Stephen Bergman was appointed to act as master of ceremonies for the Share-The-Fun. Fifteen minutes were spent in group singing lead by Mr. Fizzell.

Mr. Foley from the DuPont company was present and showed an interesting film entitled, "Natures Half Acre," which was enjoyed by all the members and leaders present.

Meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. (4-H

Inspections Will Avoid Bad Fires

Inspecting farm buildings for fire hazards is unexciting work. Only rarely if ever, will you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have prevented a fire as a result of a particular inspection.

Yet you can see the advantage when all inspections in Illinois are added together, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

IT IS MUCH easier to correct a structural fault than to change personal habits. Hogsett points out that more than three-fourths of all fire damage to farm buildings results from some construction fault that a careful inspection could have found.

Fire waste is an especially serious problem to farm families. Because of the difficulty of putting out fires on a farm, careful inspection and diligent effort to prevent fire can produce excellent results.

Farm families can control fire if they will. The question is: Will they?

4-H'ers Discuss Hazards at Home

Roll call about the hazard you found in your home and how you correct it was held at the April 6 meeting of the Sewing Susies 4-H club at Pioneer park, Arlington Heights.

Kathy Wegner gave a talk on fire extinguishers, Marie Pisors gave one on flammable fluids and Hedy Brusa gave a demonstration on how to fit a pattern.

The girls brought the projects they had been working on, told what they did and asked questions about them.

The next meeting will be held May 4 at Pioneer park, at 7:15 p.m. (4-H Corner

Elk Grove 4-H Meets April 14

Monthly meeting of the Elk Grove 4-H club was held April 14 in the home of Barb Westberg, Arlington Heights.

Talks were given by Glenn Busse on carrots, David Landmeier on peonies and Dale Landmeier on bananas. Demonstrations were given by Nancy Carlson, on dogs and Connie Carlson, on horses.

Barbara Westberg received another lamb, which makes three altogether. Connie Carlson is going to buy a lamb from Barbara in order that she may exhibit it in the coming 4-H fair.

Four new members joined the club. They are Barbara, Kathleen, and Linda Brown and Joe Rodriquez, both of Arlington Heights.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Westberg.

The next meeting is to be held Tuesday night, May 12, in the home of Tom, Judy and Pat Sullivan, 1942 Elk Grove rd., Arlington Heights. (4-H Corner

Research to Check Future Harm from Nematode Worm

University of Illinois plant pathologists are twisting the old adage, "Fight fire with fire," around a bit. Now they hope to use nematodes to fight nematodes.

M. B. Linford, University of Illinois plant Pathologist in charge of the nematode research work, explains that nematodes are tiny worms that feed in or on the roots of plants. Although they are common in Illinois soils nematodes are so small that researchers have to use a microscope to see them.

LINFORD'S NEMATODE research summary appears in the spring issue of Illinois Research released this week. Illinois Research is a quarterly publication reporting latest Illinois Agriculturn Experiment Station research findings.

Nematodes are not yet a general problem in Illinois, the plant pathologist says. But plant disease workers are looking for control measures to prevent possible future trouble.

The tiny worms can cause potentially serious damage to Illinois corn, soybeans, small grains and hay. Study of a severe corn root disease in Will county revealed that certain nematodes may be associated with corn root rots.

Soil fumigation does a good job of controlling nematodes, but the cost is too great for Illinois field crop use, according to Linford. So plant pathologists are now looking into a possible cheaper method known as biological control.

Linford explains that biological control refers to controlling insects with their own natural enemies. Like most living things, nematodes have natural enemies which either kill them for food or reduce their ability to multiply.

ILLINOIS PLANT pathologists are now studying certain types of nematodes known as predaceous nematodes. They thrive on a diet of other kinds of nematodes, including harmful types. Linford is studying a group of helpful nematodes with the tongue-twisting name Aphelenchoides.

Researchers know that it is possible to raise high numbers of these predaceous nematodes in the laboratory. But they may not multiply so quickly in the soil because soil environmental conditions will not be so favorable.

Greenhouse trials are designed to find out which types of nematodes are the most promising ...gical control agents. It is possible that none of the helpful nematodes cand oen oug hgood nematodes can do enough good to justify the cost of adding them to the soil.

Keeping these things in mind, Linford and his staff are trying to find out how well biological control will work. Then they will concentrate research efforts on what precautions are needed to keep from losing the benefits and what can be done to get even better biological control.

Down on the Farm

CARL F. MEES
with Your Farm Adviser

by CARL F. MEES
Farm Adviser

About this time of the year people that have fruit trees wonder about a spray schedule for them. In order to grow a good quality it is imperative that a rather strict spray schedule be followed. The dormant spray for apples should be applied before the buds begin to open. Since only a small amount of spray material is needed, I will give you the materials to use in one gallon of water. Use dormant oil emulsion (½ cup) and Dinitro-O-Cresol (one teaspoon). This dormant spray should take care of scale insects, leaf rollers and aphids. Apply enough of the spray to thoroughly cover the tree.

For peaches, the dormant spray will control scale insects and leaf curl. Apply spray before the buds begin to open. For one gallon of spray for peaches, use ½ cup dormant oil emulsion, three teaspoons of copper sulfate and three tablespoons of hydrated lime.

THERE ARE spray schedules also for pears, plum, cherries, grapes and bramble fruit. Any one interested in obtaining a complete spray schedule for any of these fruits or peaches and apples may contact my office and request Circular 524, "Growing Fruit for Home Use."

If you are a vegetable gardener and would like information on gardening, I would be happy to supply you with a copy of circular 522, "The Illinois Garden Guide."

The circulars will be supplied to you free of charge. Address requests to me, at 201 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights or phone CL 3-6441.

Proper Spray Will Control Fireblight

Like regular firemen, backyard "volunteers" must respond to the first alarms on fireblight, one of treedom's most serious diseases. And like firemen, they'll probably be able to control the menace with the proper spray—in this case an antibiotic like streptomycin is recommended.

Fireblight, aptly named because of the singed look of infected foliage, finds its most susceptible victims in specimen fruit trees, including apple, crabapple and Japanese flowering quince, along with such fine ornamentals as spirea, mountainash and firethorn.

DR. CARL HANSEN, pathologist of the Davey Tree Expert Co., advises a precise timetable for spraying when trees first flower. That's because bees and other insects carry the offending bacteria to the blossoms from holdover cankers on the trunk or larger branches. Streptomycin can be applied to the flowers whenever the temperature is 65 degrees and above. Since fireblight spreads from a small beginning almost as rapidly as its name implies, more than one spray should be applied.

From original infection of flowers, fireblight may mushroom into the fruit spur or the branch with supports the spur. Tender twigs may also be attacked directly and leaves on the twigs will begin to wilt, droop and get that blackened look. The infection often extends into the bark, producing twig and branch cankers. These wounds exude a sticky substance that attracts bees and other insects and the bacterial infection is spread to the blossoms in a vicious cycle. Removal of cankered twigs and branches before spring flowering will aid considerably in the control of this serious disease.

Rabies Always Fatal To Untreated Animals

Nearly 100 dogs owned by staff members of the Dixon Springs Experiment Station helped launch Animal Health month by getting their rabies vaccinations. Station veterinarian M. E. Mansfield says this is no "April Fool" program. Early in March Secretary of Agriculture Benson proclaimed April as Animal Health Month.

Dixon Springs folks are convinced that this idea provides good insurance for their dogs. The prevalence of rabies in wild animals has been increasing. Animals that dogs encounter, such as raccoons, foxes, skunks and even bats, are known to carry the dreaded virus. Dogs cause the largest number of cases in humans.

PEOPLE who vaccinate their dogs have eliminated danger to themselves and the certain loss of a valued animal. Rabies is always fatal if an animal is not protected by vaccination. If a person is bitten by a rabid animal, the painful and sometimes dangerous "Pasteur treatment" consisting of 14 or 21 shots must be given.

Veterinarians at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medincine suggest that cats as well as dogs be vaccinated if they are allowed to roam. Domestic cats are the second greatest source of human rabies.

Animal Health Month is a good time to consider the health of all domestic animals, the veterinarians point out. Many other diseases besides rabies can be transmitted from animals to man. These include tuberculosis, brucellosis and trichinosis.

PREVENTIVE examinations for all domestic animals are also advised. Dogs should receive inoculations against distemper and infectious canine hepatitis. In some places, vaccination for canine leptospirosis may be desirable. Cats should be protected against panleucopenia, feline distemper and infectious pneumonitis.

Protecting large animals and poultry presents problems that require careful study of the farm operation by the owner and veterinarian before specific recommendations can be made.

Cows Produce Most Milk With the Proper Feeding

A central Illinois Dairy Herd Improvement association tester recently reported that one new member of his association had been feeding all of his cows 14 pounds of grain each day.

That amount was too much for some of the cows and not enough for others. When the dairyman started feeding his cows according to their production, as the tester suggested, he saved more than 1,000 pounds of grain each month, worth $25.

A HERD OF dairy cows will produce milk most efficiently when each cow is fed and handled properly, says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees. Cows like high priced grain and will eat more than they need for milk production if the dairyman gives it to them.

On the other hand, some cows are not as profitable as they could be simply because they are not given as much feed as they can efficiently convert into milk. In cases like there, production records can be valuable aids in determining the amount of feed each cow should have in order to make the greatest profit.

Best feeding plan, as shown by DHIA records, is to give cows all the good-quality legume roughage or pasture they will eat, according to Leo Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Then use production records to determine how much grain mixture to feed each cow.

HOLSTEINS, BROWN Swiss and Aryshires should have about one pound of grain for every four pounds of milk produced, Fryman says. Guernseys and Jerseys should be given one pound of grain for every 3-3½ pounds of milk they produce.

See Cook County Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees right now for additional information about this recording keeping system. It shows you how to keep production information on each of your cows and how to use that knowledge as a tool for more profitable dairying.

Place Plants Outside After Freeze Date

by JAMES FIZZELL,
Assistant Farm Adviser

May 25 is generally considered the frost free date in this locality. This means that frost has never occured after this date, and it is safe to set out tender plants.

SINCE IT IS JUST one month until May 25, now is the time to start seedlings indoors for good sized plants.

Prepare flats or containers in the following manner: (wooden cigar boxes make good flats). Be sure there are sufficient drainage holes in the bottom of the container. Cover the bottom with a layer of sphagnum or peat moss to keep the soil from plugging up the drain holes.

Next fill the flat to within one inch of the top with clean, friable soil. On top of the soil, spread one half inch of sand, shredded peat, or vermiculite. Water thoroughly to firm the soil. The seed is sown in one half inch deep furrows which are made by passing the edge of a lath or thin board into the planting medium.

LARGE SEEDS may be covered with sand or vermiculite. Small seeds such as petunias need not be covered. Be sure to label each row carefully. Sown flats should be watered immediately by placing them in a pan of water. Watering over the top may wash the seed away.

Keep the flats in a warm place until the seed germinates. Do not allow the soil to dry out or the seeds will be killed. Covering the flat with plastic, burlap or newspaper may be helpful. As soon as the seeds germinate, move the flats to a cool bright place such as a cold frame or an unheated porch.

When the seedlings begin to crowd each other, transplant them or they will become weak and spindly.

When transplating mixtures, be sure to transplant small as well as large seedlings. Different types of flowers grow at different rates.

Farmers Are Using More Feed Grains Than in '58

by L. H. Simerl

Farmers used and sold corn at a record rate in the January-March quarter. Disappearance of corn from farms totaled 880 million bushels, 12 per cent more than the year before and 22 per cent more than the 10-year average. Stocks of corn remaining on farms April 1 were estimated by the USDA at 1,816 million bushels, eight per cent more than the year before.

Farmers are using more corn this year than they used in 1958, because they have been feeding more hogs, beef cattle and poultry. The long, cold winter also increased feed requirements. They will continue to use a large amount of corn, because they are still increasing the production of pork, beef and poultry.

At the end of February 23 per cent of the April 1 farm stocks was under price support. A year before, 22 per cent was under price support.

FARMERS also used oats at a fast rate in the first quarter of this year. Disappearance from farms was estimated at 365 million bushels in the three-month period. This was 18 per cent more than the disappearance last year and 12 per cent more than the 10-year average. A special factor favoring large use of oats was their price. Stocks remaining on farms April 1 were estimated by the USDA at 588 million bushels, or nine per cent more than one year before.

Disappearance of barley from farms during January-March totaled 74 million bushels, or 23 per cent more than the year before. Stocks remaining on farms were estimated at 151 million bushels, or only one per cent more than last year. About 61 per cent of the farm stocks of barley was under price support compared with 55 per cent a year before.

Disappearance of sorghum grain form farms during the first quarter of this year was less than last year. Principal reason was that the 1958 crop was drier and was harvested earlier, and much more of it already had been moved off farms to warehouses before January 1. Stocks of sorghum grain remaining on farms April 1 were estimated at 102 million bushels, or five per cent more than a year earlier.

STOCKS OF corn on Illinois farms April 1 were estimated by the USDA at 290 million bushels. practically the same as the year before.

Iowa farmers held 413 million bushels, only 2.5 per cent more than in 1958. Farmers in Nebraska held 189 million bushels, up 25 per cent from last year.

Southern and eastern states also had more corn this year, because they had a much larger crop to begin with.

Several states reported less corn on farms April 1 this year than they had the year before. Important states with less corn included Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota. Indiana and Missouri had about the same amount as in 1958.

With the exception of Nebraska and Kansas, midwestern states all have less corn on farms in comparison with their lovestock numbers than they had a year ago. (Fm

Obscene Literature Is Problem for Lawmakers

by REP. PAUL SIMON

A housewife wrote to me recently asking what can be done about the showing of obscene films or the selling of that type of literature.

Anyone who notices newsstands or sees movies cannot help but notice a recent trend toward more and more of the cruder type of thing, a trend which is not in the public interest, in my opinion.

There are suggestions for possible changes in the law on this matter, but the real answer is in local community awareness of the problem and the willingness of people at the local level to do something about it.

IN READING over the state law it would appear that while there could be minor changes in the law, it is basically clear as it stands. At the present time, for example, you can be fined up to $1000 and given six months in prison simply for possesion of "obscene and indecent" literature. The same penalty applies if you just tell someone where he can get it, even if you don't have any in your possesion.

One of the most unique features of this particular law is that one-half of the fine goes to the person who gives the evidence about the violation. That means that if you know of someone selling "obscene and indecent" literature and you bring the proof of it to the authorities and he pays a $1000 fine, you are entitled to $500.

For presenting an "obscene and indecent" movie there is a fine of up to $200 and a prison sentence of as much as one year. There's even a special section of our law which calls for a fine of up to $200 for showing a hanging in a movie.

ONE BIG probem in all of this is that not everyone agrees on what is "obscene and indecent." Recent court decisions have tended to interpret such phrases rather strictly. They have pointed out that a very narrow interpretation could endanger our freedoms. Some of the most famous literature and even some passages from the Bible are considered "obscene and indecent" by some. So the courts have to draw a line which is often not easy to define.

That the law states the public policy on this matter is important. It gives a local community help in meeting the problem. But the major solution still is in the hands of the local community.

FOR EXAMPLE, let's say that your PTA thinks that a local store is selling literature which is "obscene and indecent." What can you do?

1. Some of the officers of the group could visit with the dealer and express your strong disapproval. In many cases this is effective. It has the big advantage of securing action without publicity. Many times publicity will stimulate trade rather than stop it.

2. If that does not do the trick, contact your mayor or state's attorney and present evidence of what is being sold and request action on the part of that official. Ordinarily a phone call from a mayor or state's attorney can put a quick stop to that sort of thing.

3. If the officials don't seem too interested, then contact other organizatons who might feel as you do about the matter. If enough people show an interest, there are few public officials who won't act.

4. If all of this fails, you can employ the services of an attorney and take legal action yourself. The decision is then up to the court.

THERE AREN'T any simple answers to this problem.

But this much seems clear: The laws only can go so far.

Action at the local level is the chief solution to this kind of public menace.

Teenagers: Make Parent Partner

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The teenager's problems of growing up need not be nearly so great as they sometimes are. It takes a real big teenager to understand and work toward better relations between himself and his parents. And there are a lot of problems that parents face of which youngsters are unaware, or being aware, do not understand.

In their efforts to pull away from parental authority, youngsters often become secretive, sometimes contemptuous of their parents, argumentative, even belligerent. They will lie to conceal their activities, their feelings. What they do not know is that such actions do not help solve their parental problems.

WHEN A teenager becomes secretive and belligerent, the parent believes that something is going wrong, and his natural inclination is to tighten the reins of his authority.

Some teenagers don't know it maybe or if they do, they don't appreciate how much their parents love them, or how great is the sense of responsibliity they feel for them. They can't realize, because they never experienced the parent's feeling of responsibility for raising their children as they should be raised. It's not the teenager's fault. They just don't have the experience.

But you youngsters who seek parental consent about the things you do, the place you go, and so forth, would find things a lot easier if you patiently seek to win the confidence of your parents in your good judgement and in your responsibility to the family. If you are willing to tell your parents where you are going, who you will be with, and when you will be home, it would help to hold their blood pressure down and make for greater love and cooperation between you and them. Just remember, much of the responsibility for your welfare is theirs; but you also have the responsibility of obedience, consideration and love toward them. Talking things over with parents is the grown up attitude, while hiding and sneaking to do things shows the little child in your make up. Give your parents a break—make them a partner in your problems, not an enemy! You'll find it pays, now, and much more in your later life.

Modern Etiquette

Q. What types of letters must always be written by hand, rather than by typewriter?

A. Letters of condolence, formal invitations (those written in the third person), and most letters of congratulation, such as on the occasion of an engagement, the birth of a baby, etc., also the thank-you notes of a bride for the gifts she has received.

Q. How does one properly signal the waiter in a hotel or club dining room that he is ready to have his plate removed from the table?

A. The knife and fork, placed side by side on the plate, indicates that one has finished that particular course.

Q. When the bride is being married in a traveling dress, what should the bridegroom wear?

A. An ordinary business suit, or one that is appropriate for traveling, with perhaps a little white flower from the bride's corsage in his lapel.

Shopping Prospect Heights

With Mother's day not far off, it's a good time to begin looking for gifts. A bottle of fragrant perfume is always an appealing gift and a nice selection of well-known fragrances are available at the Prospect Heights pharmacy. A new lipstick, one in the group of soft glowing pastel shades, would be another suggestion. Bath salts, scented soaps or any grooming or cosmetic item is a gift which any mother would appreciate.

Prospect Heights Variety also has gift items to please every mother and grandmother on that special Mother's day.

For the lady who appreciates little luxury items that she would not buy for herself, Prospect Heights Variety has a line of famous Whitman candies, a wide variety of costume jewelry to highlight her new spring and summer wardrobe and a collection of ceramic pieces, if she enjoys collecting knick-knacks. There are also sophisticated cocktail aprons for informal entertaining as well as more practical ones for everyday use.

And for the mothers who would enjoy a more practical gift, Prospect Heights Variety has a nice selection of stationery and note paper, nylon hosiery, gardening gloves and decorative household items. A bridge enthusiast would appreciate matched bridge tallies.

No gift, however, is complete without a card and Prospect Heights Variety has the famous Hallmark collection of Mother's day cards for shoppers to select from.
